Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quitting
Iowa Code § 96.5(1)j – Voluntary Quitting – Temporary Employment

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On October 1, 2022, the claimant filed an appeal from the unemployment insurance decision dated September 29, 2022, (Reference 03) that denied unemployment insurance benefits, finding that the claimant had voluntarily quit the employment. Notice of hearing was mailed to the parties' last known addresses of record for a telephone hearing to be held at 11:00 a.m. on October 27, 2022. The claimant participated personally. The employer did not participate. Claimant's Exhibits 1-3 were admitted to the record. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUES:

Did claimant voluntarily quit the employment without good cause attributable to employer?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds:

The claimant was employed by Advance Services, Inc., a temporary employment firm, beginning December 2021. The claimant's last assignment was with Parker. On July 21, 2022, Advance Services advised the claimant by email that Parker had ended his assignment. (Claimant's Exhibit 1) The claimant then engaged in an email exchange with Tara Umbarger, Account Manager at Advance Services, regarding other assignment possibilities. The claimant was not assigned to a new job, but instead took other employment for the month of August. At the conclusion of that employment, the claimant again contacted Advance Services and engaged in discussions regarding a new assignment. This exchange took place over the course of two days, and the claimant was still not placed in a new assignment. The claimant did not quit the employment.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the separation was a layoff, not a voluntary quit.

Iowa Code section 96.5(1) provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

Iowa Code § 96.5(1)(j) provides:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department. But the individual shall not be disqualified if the department finds that:

j. (1) The individual is a temporary employee of a temporary employment firm who notifies the temporary employment firm of completion of an employment assignment and who seeks reassignment. Failure of the individual to notify the temporary employment firm of completion of an employment assignment within three working days of the completion of each employment assignment under a contract of hire shall be deemed a voluntary quit unless the individual was not advised in writing of the duty to notify the temporary employment firm upon completion of an employment assignment or the individual had good cause for not contacting the temporary employment firm within three working days and notified the firm at the first reasonable opportunity thereafter.

(2) To show that the employee was advised in writing of the notification requirement of this paragraph, the temporary employment firm shall advise the temporary employee by requiring the temporary employee, at the time of employment with the temporary employment firm, to read and sign a document that provides a clear and concise explanation of the notification requirement and the consequences of a failure to notify. The document shall be separate from any contract of employment and a copy of the signed document shall be provided to the temporary employee.

(3) For the purposes of this paragraph:

(a) "Temporary employee" means an individual who is employed by a temporary employment firm to provide services to clients to supplement their workforce during absences, seasonal workloads, temporary skill or labor market shortages, and for special assignments and projects.

(b) "Temporary employment firm" means a person engaged in the business of employing temporary employees.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.26(19) provides:

Voluntary quit with good cause attributable to the employer and separations not considered to be voluntary quits. The following are reasons for a claimant leaving employment with good cause attributable to the employer:

(19) The claimant was employed on a temporary basis for assignment to spot jobs or casual labor work and fulfilled the contract of hire when each of the jobs was completed. An election not to report for a new assignment to work shall not be construed as a voluntary leaving of employment. The issue of a refusal of an offer of suitable work shall be adjudicated when an offer of work is made by the former employer. The provisions of Iowa Code section 96.5(3) and rule 24.24(96) are controlling in the determination of suitability of work. However, this subrule shall not apply to substitute school employees who are subject to the provisions of Iowa Code section 96.4(5) which denies benefits that are based on service in an educational institution when the individual declines or refuses to accept a new contract or reasonable assurance of continued employment status. Under this circumstance, the substitute school employee shall be considered to have voluntarily quit employment.

The purpose of the statute is to provide notice to the temporary agency employer that the claimant is available for work at the conclusion of each temporary assignment so they may be reassigned and continue working. The plain language of the statute allows benefits for a claimant "who notifies the temporary employment firm of completion of an assignment and who seeks reassignment."

Here, the claimant was notified by the employer that his assignment had ended. The claimant began asking for new assignments and discussing other options. No suitable assignment was found, and the claimant went to a different job for several weeks. The claimant returned to the employer in early September and the discussions regarding a new assignment resumed. The claimant has sufficiently met the requirement for notification of the end of the assignment and seeking new work. The employer did not have a suitable assignment for him. This is effectively a layoff, and benefits must be allowed, provided the claimant meets all other eligibility requirements.

DECISION:

The September 29, 2022, (Reference 03) decision is REVERSED. Benefits are allowed, provided the claimant is otherwise eligible.
