Claimant: Respondent (1)

Iowa Code § 96.6(2) – Timeliness of Protest
Iowa Code § 96.7(2)a(6) – Appeal from the Statement of Charges

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On August 24, 2023, Ames Therapy & Consulting PC (employer) filed an appeal from the statement of charges dated August 9, 2023, reference 02, for the second quarter of 2023. A hearing was held at 9:00 a.m. on Monday, September 11, 2023, pursuant to due notice. Brandy M. Stagg (claimant) did not participate. The employer did participate through testimony of Karl Wilt, CFO; and Amy Mooney, Owner. Mooney also acted as the employer's representative. Department's Exhibits D1 through D5 were admitted into the record.

On September 17, 2023, claimant wrote the UI Appeals Bureau an email stating she failed to appear for the hearing because her address had changed and the hearing notice was sent to her former address. The undersigned administrative law judge marked claimant's email as Exhibit A; the resignation letter attached to the email as Exhibit B; and admitted both into the record for the limited purpose of reading the documents and developing a complete record on the date of separation. UI Appeals Bureau staff have sent claimant's exhibits to the employer.

ISSUES:

Was the employer's protest timely?
Was the employer's appeal from the statement of charges timely?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: The claimant separated from employment on April 7, 2023. Subsequently, the administrative record shows, claimant opened a claim for benefits effective April 9, 2023. The notice of claim was provided to the employer in the online SIDES system, and on April 11, 2023, a notice was emailed to laura@lonniesimmons.com that the notice of claim was available. Mooney was no longer using Lonnie Simmons, the employer's tax attorney, to review and respond to notices of claim. In December 2022, the employer hired Wilt as CFO, and he began handling all unemployment-related matters, including notices of claim.

The first notice of the claimant's claim for benefits was the receipt of the statement of charges mailed August 9, 2023 (reference 02) for the second quarter of 2023. The employer filed its appeal of that statement of charges on August 24, 2023.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the employer did not timely file its appeal to the statement of charges.

Iowa Code section 96.6(2) provides, in pertinent part:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant.

Iowa Code section 96.7(2)a(6) provides:

2. Contribution rates based on benefit experience.

a. (6) Within forty days after the close of each calendar quarter, the department shall notify each employer of the amount of benefits charged to the employer's account during that quarter. The notification shall show the name of each individual to whom benefits were paid, the individual's social security number, and the amount of benefits paid to the individual. An employer which has not been notified as provided in section 96.6, subsection 2, of the allowance of benefits to an individual, may within thirty days after the date of mailing of the notification appeal to the department for a hearing to determine the eligibility of the individual to receive benefits. The appeal shall be referred to an administrative law judge for hearing and the employer and the individual shall receive notice of the time and place of the hearing. [Emphasis added.]

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-26.4 provides, in relevant part:

2. An appeal from an initial decision concerning the allowance or denial of benefits shall be filed, by mail, facsimile, or e-mail, online, or in person, not later than ten calendar days, as determined by the postmark or the date stamp after the decision was mailed to the party at its last-known address and shall state the following:

- a. The name, address and social security number of the claimant;
- b. A reference to the decision from which appeal is taken; and,
- c. The grounds upon which the appeal is based.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of subrule 26.4(2), a contributory employer, which has not previously received a notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits, may appeal an individual's eligibility to receive benefits within 30 days from the mailing date of the quarterly statement of benefit charges.

4. Also notwithstanding the provisions of subrule 26.4(2), a reimbursable employer, which has not previously received a notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits, may appeal an individual's eligibility to receive benefits within 15 days of the mailing date of the quarterly billing of benefit charges.

The administrative record shows the notice of claim was provided to the email address on file in the online SIDES system. The employer's information had changed, and the employer failed to update IWD with accurate contact information. As a result, the employer failed to timely respond to the notice of claim. As the employer failed to timely respond to the first notice of claimant's claim, it cannot now successfully appeal the statement of charges and attack claimant's eligibility after the fact.

DECISION:

The August 9, 2023, reference 02, statement of charges for the second quarter of 2023 is affirmed. The employer failed to timely appeal the first notice it received of the claimant's claim for benefits. Therefore, benefits are allowed.
