Iowa Code § 96.6(2) – Timeliness of Protest
Iowa Code § 96.7(2)a(6) – Appeal from the Statement of Charges
Iowa Code Chapter 96 – Requalification

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On November 14, 2023, Advance Services Inc. (employer) filed an appeal from the statement of charges dated November 9, 2023, reference 11, for the third quarter of 2023. A hearing was scheduled for 2:00 p.m. on Wednesday, December 6, 2023, pursuant to due notice. No hearing was held, as there was sufficient evidence in the appeal letter and administrative record to resolve the matter without testimony.

ISSUES:

Did the employer file a timely appeal from the statement of charges?
Has the claimant requalified for benefits since the separation?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Delvic B. Kalala (claimant) filed the claim for unemployment insurance benefits effective June 11, 2023, and the weekly benefit amount is $401.00. He separated from the employer in the fourth quarter of 2022. The administrative record shows that after the separation, but before filing the claim for benefits, he earned more than $4,010.00, or ten times the weekly benefit amount, in insured wages.

Iowa Workforce Development (IWD) provided a notice of claim to the employer through the online SIDES system and sent an email alert to the employer on June 17, 2023. The employer responded to the notice of claim by filing a protest in the online SIDES system on June 29, 2023. Next, Iowa Workforce Development (“IWD”) issued a decision dated June 23, 2023 (reference 01) finding claimant had requalified for benefits by earning ten times his weekly benefit amount in insured wages since separating from the employer. Subsequently, IWD sent the November 9, 2023 (reference 11) statement of charges listing charges to the employer’s account for the third quarter of 2023. Claimant’s name is one of the names listed on that statement. The employer filed its appeal of that statement of charges on November 14, 2023.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons set forth below, I find the employer has timely appealed the statement of charges, and the claimant has requalified for benefits by earning ten times the weekly benefit amount in insured wages following the separation from this employer.

Iowa Code section 96.6(2) provides, in pertinent part:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant.

Iowa Code section 96.7(2)a(6) provides:

2. Contribution rates based on benefit experience.

a. (6) Within forty days after the close of each calendar quarter, the department shall notify each employer of the amount of benefits charged to the employer's account during that quarter. The notification shall show the name of each individual to whom benefits were paid, the individual's social security number, and the amount of benefits paid to the individual. An employer which has not been notified as provided in section 96.6, subsection 2, of the allowance of benefits to an individual, may within thirty days after the date of mailing of the notification appeal to the department for a hearing to determine the eligibility of the individual to receive benefits. The appeal shall be referred to an administrative law judge for hearing and the employer and the individual shall receive notice of the time and place of the hearing. [Emphasis added.]

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-26.4 provides, in relevant part:

2. An appeal from an initial decision concerning the allowance or denial of benefits shall be filed, by mail, facsimile, or e-mail, online, or in person, not later than ten calendar days, as determined by the postmark or the date stamp after the decision was mailed to the party at its last-known address and shall state the following:

- a. The name, address and social security number of the claimant;
- b. A reference to the decision from which appeal is taken; and,
- c. The grounds upon which the appeal is based.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of subrule 26.4(2), a contributory employer, which has not previously received a notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits, may appeal an individual's eligibility to receive benefits within 30 days from the mailing date of the quarterly statement of benefit charges.

4. Also notwithstanding the provisions of subrule 26.4(2), a reimbursable employer, which has not previously received a notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits, may appeal an individual's eligibility to receive benefits within 15 days of the mailing date of the quarterly billing of benefit charges.

As pointed out above, an employer may only appeal a claimant's eligibility for benefits through the quarterly statement of charges when it has not previously received notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits. In this case, the employer received and responded to the notice of claimant's unemployment insurance claim. Therefore, the employer may not appeal the quarterly statement of charges. While the appeal is timely, it is not appropriate.

However, the employer was charged for benefits when it should not have been, as the claimant has requalified for benefits by earning ten times the weekly benefit amount since separating from employment. The employer followed the rules set forth on the statement of charges it received by filing the appeal to the statement of charges within thirty days. The claimant has requalified for benefits since the separation from this employer by earning ten times the weekly benefit amount in insured wages following the separation. See Iowa Code §§ 96.5(1)g and 96.5(2)a. IWD confirmed this when it issued the June 23, 2023 (reference 01) decision relieving the employer of charges. Accordingly, benefits are allowed and the account of the employer shall not be charged.

DECISION:

The November 9, 2023, reference 11, statement of charges for the third quarter of 2023 is modified in favor of the appellant, which will appear as a credit to the employer's account on a future statement of charges. The employer has filed a timely appeal from that statement of charges. The claimant has requalified for benefits since the separation. Benefits are allowed, provided the claimant is otherwise eligible. The account of the employer (279311) shall not be charged and a credit shall be issued on a future statement of charges.
