PEGGY J WARSCHKOW

Claimant

APPEAL NO. 08A-UI-08291-HT

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

WRIGHT MEDICAL CENTER

Employer

OC: 08/24/08 R: 02
Claimant: Respondent (2-R)

Section 96.5(2)a – Discharge

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The employer, Wright Medical Center (WMC), filed an appeal from a decision dated September 12, 2008, reference 01. The decision allowed benefits to the claimant, Peggy Warschkow. After due notice was issued a hearing was held by telephone conference call on October 1, 2008. The claimant participated on her own behalf. The employer participated by Surgery Leader Jody Azeltine and Human Resources Director Pat Kirstein

ISSUE:

The issue is whether the claimant was discharged for misconduct sufficient to warrant a denial of unemployment benefits.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Peggy Warschkow was employed by WMC from July 9, 2007 until August 21, 2008 as a part-time surgical outpatient nurse. She received a warning in late July 2008 for not doing her charting as required and was placed on an "accountability grid" which was essentially a performance improvement plan.

On August 15, 2008, a patient who had been in for surgery in July came back in for more surgery and a review of his chart showed the claimant had not completed some information about his last surgery, and omitted the discharge instructions. A second incident of improper charting was discovered August 20, 2008, when a chart was being routinely audited before being sent to medical records and the claimant had not documented vital signs or discharge instructions. A third chart the claimant had completed but charted some vital signs and the giving of some medication actually done by another nurse. Charting is to be done by the person observing or performing the actions documented.

Surgery Leader Jody Azeltine and Human Resources Director Pat Kirstein met with the claimant on August 21, 2008, to discuss her charting. She admitted to charting the actions performed by another nurse and had "missed" the other charts. At that time the employer discharged her.

Peggy Warschkow has received unemployment benefits since filing a claim with an effective date of August 24, 2008.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

Iowa Code section 96.5-2-a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The individual shall be disqualified for benefits until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

871 IAC 24.32(1)a provides:

Discharge for misconduct.

(1) Definition.

a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. On the other hand mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, failure in good performance as the result of inability or incapacity, inadvertencies or ordinary negligence in isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion are not to be deemed misconduct within the meaning of the statute.

The claimant had been advised her charting needed to improve as proper medical records are essential to patient care as well as proper billing by the employer to various third-party payers. After that warning she "missed" two charts and falsified another patient chart contrary to the standards set by the employer and the profession. This is conduct not in the best interests of the employer and the claimant is disqualified.

Iowa Code section 96.3-7, as amended in 2008, provides:

7. Recovery of overpayment of benefits.

a. If an individual receives benefits for which the individual is subsequently determined to be ineligible, even though the individual acts in good faith and is not otherwise at fault, the benefits shall be recovered. The department in its discretion may recover the overpayment of benefits either by having a sum equal to the overpayment deducted from any future benefits payable to the individual or by having the individual pay to the department a sum equal to the overpayment.

b. (1) If the department determines that an overpayment has been made, the charge for the overpayment against the employer's account shall be removed and the account shall be credited with an amount equal to the overpayment from the unemployment compensation trust fund and this credit shall include both contributory and reimbursable employers, notwithstanding section 96.8, subsection 5. However, provided the benefits were not received as the result of fraud or willful misrepresentation by the individual, benefits shall not be recovered from an individual if the employer did not participate in the initial determination to award benefits pursuant to section 96.6, subsection 2, and an overpayment occurred because of a subsequent reversal on appeal regarding the issue of the individual's separation from employment. The employer shall not be charged with the benefits.

(2) An accounting firm, agent, unemployment insurance accounting firm, or other entity that represents an employer in unemployment claim matters and demonstrates a continuous pattern of failing to participate in the initial determinations to award benefits, as determined and defined by rule by the department, shall be denied permission by the department to represent any employers in unemployment insurance matters. This subparagraph does not apply to attorneys or counselors admitted to practice in the courts of this state pursuant to section 602.10101.

The claimant has received unemployment benefits to which she is not entitled. The question of whether the claimant must repay these benefits is remanded to the UIS division.

DECISION:

The representative's decision of September 12, 2008, reference 01, is reversed. Peggy Warschkow is disqualified and benefits are withheld until she has earned ten times her weekly benefit amount provided she is otherwise eligible. The issue of whether the claimant must repay the unemployment benefits is remanded to UIS division for determination.
