ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE DECISION

OC: 12/17/23
Claimant: Appellant (1)

Iowa Code § 96.6(2) – Timeliness of Appeal
Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quitting

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The claimant/appellant filed an appeal from the January 19, 2024 (reference 04) unemployment insurance decision that found the claimant was not eligible for benefits due to a voluntary quitting of work with this employer. Due notice was issued, and a telephone hearing was held on March 11, 2024. The claimant participated personally. The employer participated through witness Vicky Matthias. The administrative law judge took official notice of the claimant's unemployment insurance benefits records.

ISSUE:

Was the appeal timely?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: An unemployment insurance decision dated January 19, 2024 (reference 04) was mailed to the claimant's correct address of record. Claimant received the decision in the mail.

Claimant filed an appeal to the decision on February 16, 2024, after receiving another decision in the mail that he was overpaid benefits. An appeal due date of January 29, 2024 was listed on the decision. No excuse as to why a late appeal was filed was given by the claimant. Claimant testified that it was possible the mail was delayed due to him moving into his new address; however, he had moved into the new address in August of 2023 and the underlying decision was mailed to him on January 19, 2024, approximately 5 months after his initial move-in date.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes as follows:

Iowa Code section 96.6(2) provides:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of issuance of the notice of the filing of the claim to protest payment of benefits to the claimant. All interested parties shall select a format as specified by the department to receive such notifications. The representative shall promptly examine the claim and any protest, take the initiative to ascertain relevant information concerning the claim, and, on the basis of the facts found by the representative, shall determine whether or not the claim is valid, the week with respect to which benefits shall commence, the weekly benefit amount payable and its maximum duration, and whether any disqualification shall be imposed. The claimant has the burden of proving that the claimant meets the basic eligibility conditions of section 96.4. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to section 96.5, except as provided by this subsection. The claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence showing that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving section 96.5, subsections 10 and 11, and has the burden of proving that a voluntary quit pursuant to section 96.5, subsection 1, was for good cause attributable to the employer and that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving section 96.5, subsection 1, paragraphs "a" through "h". Unless the claimant or other interested party, after notification or within ten calendar days after notification was issued, files an appeal from the decision, the decision is final and benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance with the decision. If an administrative law judge affirms a decision of the representative, or the appeal board affirms a decision of the administrative law judge allowing benefits, the benefits shall be paid regardless of any appeal which is thereafter taken, but if the decision is finally reversed, no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid and this relief from charges shall apply to both contributory and reimbursable employers, notwithstanding section 96.8, subsection 5.

The portion of this Code section dealing with timeliness of an appeal from a representative's decision states that such an appeal must be filed within ten days after notification of that decision was mailed. In addressing an issue of timeliness of an appeal under that portion of this Code section, the Iowa Supreme Court held that this statute prescribing the time for notice of appeal clearly limits the time to do so, and that compliance with the appeal notice provision is mandatory and jurisdictional.¹

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.35(1) provides:

Date of submission and extension of time for payments and notices.

(1) Except as otherwise provided by statute or by division rule, any payment, appeal, application, request, notice, objection, petition, report or other information or document submitted to the division shall be considered received by and filed with the division:

a. If transmitted via the United States Postal Service on the date it is mailed as shown by the postmark, or in the absence of a postmark the postage meter mark of the envelope in which it is received; or if not postmarked or postage meter marked or if the mark is illegible, on the date entered on the document as the date of completion.

b. If transmitted via the State Identification Data Exchange System (SIDES), maintained by the United States Department of Labor, on the date it was submitted to SIDES.

c. If transmitted by any means other than those outlined in paragraphs 24.35(1)"a" and "b", on the date it is received by the division.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.35(2) provides:

Date of submission and extension of time for payments and notices.

(2) The submission of any payment, appeal, application, request, notice, objection, petition, report or other information or document not within the specified statutory or regulatory period shall be considered timely if it is established to the satisfaction of the division that the delay in submission was due to division error or misinformation or to delay or other action of the United States postal service.

a. For submission that is not within the statutory or regulatory period to be considered timely, the interested party must submit a written explanation setting forth the circumstances of the delay.

b. The division shall designate personnel who are to decide whether an extension of time shall be granted.

c. No submission shall be considered timely if the delay in filing was unreasonable, as determined by the department after considering the circumstances in the case.

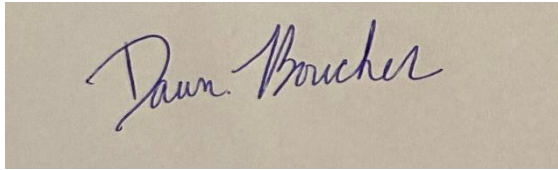

d. If submission is not considered timely, although the interested party contends that the delay was due to division error or misinformation or delay or other action of the United States postal service, the division shall issue an appealable decision to the interested party.

A party may establish that there is a reason why the appeal that was filed after the deadline to do so can be considered timely. Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.35 (2) lists division error or misinformation, or delay by the United States postal service as potential reasons an appeal may be considered timely. In this case, the claimant failed to explain any credible reason why he did not file an appeal by the January 29, 2024 due date listed on the decision. The claimant testified that it was possible that the mail was delayed due to him moving into his address in August of 2023; however, the administrative law judge finds that his generic explanation about moving approximately five months prior to the decision being mailed to him is insufficient to establish that there was delay by the United States postal service that caused his appeal to be filed after the deadline listed on the decision to do so.

The delay in filing the appeal was not due to agency error, misinformation or postal service delay. Therefore, the appeal is not timely. Because the appeal is not timely, the administrative law judge does not have jurisdiction to reverse or modify the underlying decision at issue in this case. The underlying decision that found the claimant had voluntarily quit without good cause attributable to the employer shall be affirmed.

DECISION:

The appeal is untimely. The January 19, 2024 (reference 04) unemployment insurance benefits decision is affirmed and remains in effect. The claimant voluntarily quit his employment with this employer on November 27, 2023 and unemployment insurance benefits are denied until the claimant has worked in and been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times his weekly benefit amount after the November 27, 2023 separation date, and provided he is otherwise eligible.
