APPEAL NO. 21A-UI-09240-B2-T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

OC: 01/24/21

Claimant: Respondent (2R)

Iowa Code § 96.5-1 – Voluntary Quit

Iowa Code § 96.3-7 – Recovery of Overpayment of Benefits

Federal Law PL 116-136 Sec. 2104 – Eligibility for Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation or Lost Wages Assistance Program

871 IA Admin. Code 24(10) – Employer Participation in Fact Finding

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Employer filed an appeal from a decision of a representative dated March 15, 2021, reference 01, which held claimant eligible for unemployment insurance benefits. After due notice, a hearing was scheduled for and held on June 18, 2021. Claimant participated personally. Employer participated by Erica Norris.

ISSUES:

Whether claimant was discharged for misconduct?

Whether claimant was overpaid benefits?

If claimant was overpaid benefits, should claimant repay benefits or should employer be charged due to employer's participation or lack thereof in fact finding?

Is the claimant eligible for FPUC or LWAP benefits?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The administrative law judge, having heard the testimony and considered all of the evidence in the record, finds: Claimant last worked for employer on January 27, 2021. Claimant voluntarily quit on January 29, 2021 as she was upset with the way employer was calculating wages over breaks and was upset that employer asked a coworker to test for the assistant manager position claimant currently occupied.

Claimant worked as an assistant manager with closing responsibilities. She worked for employer for almost a year and a half. During that time claimant kept a set of store keys and never turned them over to other managers.

Claimant became upset with employer's calculations of break time and whether it should be reflected on pay. She contacted corporate and her manager about this frustration. Claimant stated that she was going to quit, but did not give a date for when she intended to quit. On January 29, 2021 claimant turned her keys over to another assistant manager. Additionally claimant texted her store manager and stated that she was not going to be in to work and employer needed to find a replacement. Employer then responded with a text saying you quit. Claimant did not respond to this text at all and did not show for any further.

Claimant stated that she found out that she'd been removed from the system in early February. She further stated that information she'd been given was that she was terminated for multiple no call / no show's for work.

Claimant has received state unemployment benefits in a matter to be determined by the benefits bureau.

Claimant has received Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation benefits in the amount of $6,000.00.

Employer did share information with the fact finder about the circumstances surrounding claimant's quit.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

Initially in this matter, it is determined that claimant voluntarily quit her job and was not terminated by employer. Claimant turned over her keys to a manager – an action she'd never done in the past – and told employer that she would, 'need to find a replacement'. Additionally, claimant did not respond when her manager responded to her text by saying she quit. Claimant could easily have explained that she hadn't quit, but chose not to respond. She also did not show for further scheduled dates.

Iowa Code section 96.5(1) provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

Iowa Code section 96.3(7)a-b, as amended in 2008, provides:

7. Recovery of overpayment of benefits.

a. If an individual receives benefits for which the individual is subsequently determined to be ineligible, even though the individual acts in good faith and is not otherwise at fault, the benefits shall be recovered. The department in its discretion may recover the overpayment of benefits either by having a sum equal to the overpayment deducted from any future benefits payable to the individual or by having the individual pay to the department a sum equal to the overpayment.

b. (1) (a) If the department determines that an overpayment has been made, the charge for the overpayment against the employer's account shall be removed and the account shall be credited with an amount equal to the overpayment from the unemployment compensation trust fund and this credit shall include both contributory and reimbursable employers, notwithstanding section 96.8, subsection 5. The employer shall not be relieved of charges if benefits are paid because the employer or an agent of the employer failed to respond timely or adequately to the department's request for information relating to the payment of benefits. This prohibition against relief of charges shall apply to both contributory and reimbursable employers.

(b) However, provided the benefits were not received as the result of fraud or willful misrepresentation by the individual, benefits shall not be recovered from an individual if the employer did not participate in the initial determination to award benefits pursuant to section 96.6, subsection 2, and an overpayment occurred because of a subsequent reversal on appeal regarding the issue of the individual's separation from employment.

(2) An accounting firm, agent, unemployment insurance accounting firm, or other entity that represents an employer in unemployment claim matters and demonstrates a continuous pattern of failing to participate in the initial determinations to award benefits, as determined and defined by rule by the department, shall be denied permission by the department to represent any employers in unemployment insurance matters. This subparagraph does not apply to attorneys or counselors admitted to practice in the courts of this state pursuant to section 602.10101.

PL116-136, Sec. 2104 provides, in pertinent part:

(b) Provisions of Agreement

(1) Federal pandemic unemployment compensation.--Any agreement under this section shall provide that the State agency of the State will make payments of regular compensation to individuals in amounts and to the extent that they would be determined if the State law of the State were applied, with respect to any week for which the individual is (disregarding this section) otherwise entitled under the State law to receive regular compensation, as if such State law had been modified in a manner such that the amount of regular compensation (including dependents' allowances) payable for any week shall be equal to

(A) the amount determined under the State law (before the application of this paragraph), plus

(B) an additional amount of $600 (in this section referred to as "Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation").

(f) Fraud and Overpayments

(2) Repayment.--In the case of individuals who have received amounts of Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation to which they were not entitled, the State shall require such individuals to repay the amounts of such Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation to the State agency, except that the State agency may waive repayment if it determines that --

(A) the payment of such Federal Pandemic Unemployment Compensation was without fault on the part of any such individual; and

(B) such repayment would be contrary to equity and good conscience.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.10 provides:

Employer and employer representative participation in fact-finding interviews.

(1) "Participate," as the term is used for employers in the context of the initial determination to award benefits pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.6, subsection 2, means submitting detailed factual information of the quantity and quality that if un rebutted would be sufficient to result in a decision favorable to the employer. The most effective means to participate is to provide live testimony at the interview from a witness with firsthand knowledge of the events leading to the separation. If no live testimony is provided, the employer must provide the name and telephone number of an employee with firsthand information who may be contacted, if necessary, for rebuttal. A party may also participate by providing detailed written statements or documents that provide detailed factual information of the events leading to separation. At a minimum, the information provided by the employer or the employer's representative must identify the dates and particular circumstances of the incident or incidents, including, in the case of discharge, the act or omissions of the claimant or, in the event of a voluntary separation, the stated reason for the quit. The specific rule or policy must be submitted if the claimant was discharged for violating such rule or policy. In the case of discharge for attendance violations, the information must include the circumstances of all incidents the employer or the employer's representative contends meet the definition of unexcused absences as set forth in 871—subrule 24.32(7). On the other hand, written or oral statements or general conclusions without supporting detailed factual information and information submitted after the fact-finding decision has been issued are not considered participation within the meaning of the statute.

(2) "A continuous pattern of nonparticipation in the initial determination to award benefits," pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.6, subsection 2, as the term is used for an entity representing employers, means on 25 or more occasions in a calendar quarter beginning with the first calendar quarter of 2009, the entity files appeals after failing to participate. Appeals filed but withdrawn before the day of the contested case hearing will not be considered in determining if a continuous pattern of nonparticipation exists. The division administrator shall notify the employer's representative in writing after each such appeal.

(3) If the division administrator finds that an entity representing employers as defined in Iowa Code section 96.6, subsection 2, has engaged in a continuous pattern of nonparticipation, the division administrator shall suspend said representative for a period of up to six months on the first occasion, up to one year on the second occasion and up to ten years on the third or subsequent occasion. Suspension by the division administrator constitutes final agency action and may be appealed pursuant to Iowa Code section 17A.19.

(4) "Fraud or willful misrepresentation by the individual," as the term is used for claimants in the context of the initial determination to award benefits pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.6, subsection 2, means providing knowingly false statements or knowingly false denials of material facts for the purpose of obtaining unemployment insurance benefits. Statements or denials may be either oral or written by the claimant. Inadvertent misstatements or mistakes made in good faith are not considered fraud or willful misrepresentation.

This rule is intended to implement Iowa Code section 96.3(7)“b” as amended by 2008 Iowa Acts, Senate File 2160.

The administrative law judge holds that the evidence has failed to establish that claimant voluntarily quit for good cause attributable to employer when claimant terminated the employment relationship because she was upset about how pay during breaks was being calculated. Claimant went to corporate wither concerns, but did not wait to hear a response.

Ordinarily “good cause” is derived from the facts of each case keeping in mind the public policy stated in Iowa Code Section 96.2. O’Brien v. EAB 494 N.W.2d 660, 662 (Iowa 1993) (citing Wiese v. IA Dept. of Job Serv., 389 N.W.2d 676, 680 (Iowa 1986)). “The term encompasses real circumstances, adequate excuses that will bear the test of reason, just grounds for the action, and always the test of good faith.” Wiese v. IA Dept. of Job Serv., 389 N.W.2d 676, 680 (Iowa 1986). “Common sense and prudence must be exercised in evaluating all of the circumstances that led to an employee’s quit in order to attribute the cause for the termination.” Id. In this matter, claimant’s action of quitting while having incomplete information does not create a good cause reason for her quitting. Benefits are denied.

The overpayment issue was addressed. Claimant has received state and federal unemployment benefits in this matter. Said payments are overpayments.

The issue of employer participation was addressed. Employer did substantially participate in fact finding through the information shared in the SIDES network. Such information, if unrebutted, would have been sufficient for a fact finder to determine claimant was not eligible for unemployment benefits.

DECISION:

The decision of the representative dated March 15, 2021, reference 01, is reversed. Unemployment insurance benefits shall be withheld until claimant has worked in and been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times claimant’s weekly benefit amount, provided claimant is otherwise eligible.

Claimant has been overpaid state and federal benefits. Claimant has been overpaid $6,000.00 in FPUC benefits. This matter will be remanded to the benefits bureau for a determination of the amount of state benefit overpayment.
