ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE AMENDED DECISION

JELD-WEN INC.

Employer

OC: 09/25/22

Claimant: Respondent (2)

Iowa Code §96.5(2)a-Discharge/Misconduct

Iowa Code §96.5(1)- Voluntary Quit

Iowa Code § 96.3(7) – Recovery of Benefit Overpayment

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.10 - Employer/Representative Participation Fact-finding Interview

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On October 20, 2022, the employer/appellant filed an appeal from the October 12, 2022, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision that allowed benefits based on claimant being dismissed on September 23, 2022. The lowa Workforce Development representative found there was no evidence of willful or deliberate misconduct. The parties were properly notified about the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on November 10, 2022. Claimant did not call in to participate. Employer participated through Senior Human Resources Manager, Mark Shaw. Exhibit 1 was admitted into the record. Administrative notice was taken of claimant's unemployment insurance benefits records including DBRO and KCCO.

The original decision stated in the "Decision" paragraph: "The October 12, 2022, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is AFFIRMED." The original decision is amended in the "Decision" paragraph to state: "The October 12, 2022, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is REVERSED." The original decision denied benefits and the decision paragraph is updated in the amended decision to reflect the denial of benefits. The remainder of the decision is the same.

ISSUES:

- I. Was the separation a layoff, discharge for misconduct, or voluntary quit without good cause?
- II. Should claimant repay benefits?
- III. Should the employer be charged due to employer participation in fact finding?
- IV. Is the claimant overpaid benefits?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant began working for employer on January 10, 2022. Claimant last worked as a full-time production associate. Claimant was separated from employment on September 23, 2022, when she was discharged.

On September 16, 2022, employer received a complaint from an employee regarding claimant. The employee was dating a bi-racial man and claimant told the employee that she was going to purchase a chocolate penis cake for the employee. Claimant admitted she said it to the coworker. (Exhibit 1, pg. 2).

The employer has an anti-discrimination and harassment policy that states:

"JELD-WEN strives to provide a productive working environment that is accepting of individual differences and free from harassment of discrimination, including that which may be construed to be offensive sexual conduct... Harassment is... derogatory comments, jokes, slurs, bullying, or other language that is reasonably perceived to be offensive or abusive." (Exhibit 1, pg. 3).

Claimant was aware of the policy and acknowledge receipt of the policy on January 10, 2022. (Exhibit 1, pg. 5).

On September 23, 2022, the employer discharged claimant for violating their anti-discrimination and harassment policy. (Exhibit 1, pg. 1). Claimant had no other verbal or written warnings.

Claimant filed for benefits with an effective date of September 25, 2022. (DBRO). Claimant's weekly benefit amount is $340.00. Claimant did not file weekly claims and has not received benefits. (DBRO).

The employer did not participate in the fact-finding interview. They did not receive the notice of the fact-finding interview.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the claimant was discharged from employment due to job-related misconduct.

Iowa Code section 96.5(2)a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The disqualification shall continue until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

Iowa Code section 96.5(2) d provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:

- 2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:
- d. For the purposes of this subsection, "misconduct" means a deliberate act or omission by an employee that constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of the employee's contract of employment. Misconduct is limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or even design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. Misconduct by an individual includes but is not limited to all of the following:
- (1) Material falsification of the individual's employment application.
- (2) Knowing violation of a reasonable and uniformly enforced rule of an employer.
- (3) Intentional damage of an employer's property.
- (4) Consumption of alcohol, illegal or nonprescribed prescription drugs, or an impairing substance in a manner not directed by the manufacturer or a combination of such substances, on the employer's premises in violation of the employer's employment policies.
- (5) Reporting to work under the influence of alcohol, illegal or nonprescribed prescription drugs, or an impairing substance in an off-label manner, or a combination of such substances, on the employer's premises in violation of the employer's employment policies, unless the individual if compelled to work by the employer outside of scheduled or on-call working hours.
- (6) Conduct that substantially and unjustifiably endangers the personal safety of coworkers or the general public.
- (7) Incarceration for an act for which one could reasonably expect to be incarcerated that result in missing work.
- (8) Incarceration as a result of a misdemeanor or felony conviction by a court of competent jurisdiction.

- (9) Excessive unexcused tardiness or absenteeism.
- (10) Falsification of any work-related report, task, or job that could expose the employer or coworkers to legal liability or sanction for violation of health or safety laws.
- (11) Failure to maintain any licenses, registration, or certification that is reasonably required by the employer or by law, or that is a functional requirement to perform the individual's regular job duties, unless the failure is not within the control of the individual.
- (12) Conduct that is libelous or slanderous toward an employer or an employee of the employer if such conduct is not protected under state or federal law.
- (13) Theft of an employer or coworker's funds or property.
- (14) Intentional misrepresentation of time worked or work carried out that results in the individual receiving unearned wages or unearned benefits.

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job misconduct. Cosper v. lowa Dep't of Job Serv., 321 N.W.2d 6 (lowa 1982). The issue is not whether the employer made a correct decision in separating claimant, but whether the claimant is entitled to unemployment insurance benefits. Infante v. lowa Dep't of Job Serv., 364 N.W.2d 262 (lowa Ct. App. 1984). Misconduct must be "substantial" to warrant a denial of job insurance benefits. Newman v. lowa Dep't of Job Serv., 351 N.W.2d 806 (lowa Ct. App. 1984). "Misconduct serious enough to warrant the discharge of an employee is not necessarily serious enough to warrant a denial of benefits." Lee v. Employment Appeal Bd., 616 N.W.2d 661, 665 (lowa 2000).

A determination as to whether an employee's act is misconduct does not rest solely on the interpretation or application of the employer's policy or rule. A violation is not necessarily disqualifying misconduct even if the employer was fully within its rights to impose discipline up to or including discharge for the incident under its policy. The issue is not whether the employer made a correct decision in separating claimant, but whether the claimant is entitled to unemployment insurance benefits. Infante v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 364 N.W.2d 262 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). What constitutes misconduct justifying termination of an employee and what misconduct warrants denial of unemployment insurance benefits are two separate decisions. Pierce v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 425 N.W.2d 679 (Iowa Ct. App. 1988). Misconduct serious enough to warrant discharge is not necessarily serious enough to warrant a denial of job insurance benefits. Such misconduct must be "substantial." Newman v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 351 N.W.2d 806 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). The focus is on deliberate, intentional, or culpable acts by the employee.

The employer established they had an anti-discrimination and harassment policy and claimant was aware of the policy. Claimant's conduct was a deliberate violation of the employer's policy. The employer is entitled to establish reasonable work rules and expect employees to abide by them. Claimant's conduct is disqualifying misconduct. Benefits are denied.

Claimant did not received any unemployment benefits. As a result she has not been overpaid benefits and the employer's account shall not be charged.

DECISION:

The October 12, 2022, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is REVERSED. The claimant was discharged from employment due to job-related misconduct. Benefits are withheld until such time as she has worked in and been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times her weekly benefit amount, provided she is otherwise eligible.

Claimant has not received unemployment benefits. As a result, she has not been overpaid benefits and the employer's account shall not be charged.
