APPEAL 24A-UI-01393-ED-T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

OZARK AUTOMOTIVE DISTRIBUTORS INC

Employer

OC: 12/03/23

Claimant: Respondent (2)

Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a – Discharge

Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quitting

Iowa Code § 96.3(7) – Overpayment

Iowa Admin. Code R. 871-24.10 - Employer Chargeability

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Employer, Ozark Automotive, filed an appeal from a decision of a representative dated January 29, 2024, (reference 01) that held claimant eligible for unemployment insurance benefits after separating from employment. After due notice, a hearing was scheduled for and held on February 27, 2024. Claimant, Gary Martin, did not participate. Employer, Ozark Automotive, participated by witness Julie Akers. Employer's Exhibit pages 1 - 19 were admitted into evidence. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record including the fact-finding documents.

ISSUES:

Was the claimant discharged for disqualifying job-related misconduct?

Did the claimant voluntarily quit?

Was the claimant overpaid benefits?

Did the employer participate in the fact-finding process?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The administrative law judge, having heard the testimony and considered all of the evidence in the record, finds: Claimant began working for the employer on April 29, 2022 as a full-time outbound material handler. His immediate supervisor was Sarah Grove. Employer discharged claimant on September 6, 2023 due to absenteeism.

Claimant was discharged from employment due to a final incident of absenteeism that occurred on August 1, 2023 and August 31, 2023. On both days, the claimant left his shift early without prior approval. Claimant was issued a final written warning that he faced termination from employment upon another incident of unexcused absenteeism. The claimant's first warning regarding his absenteeism was issued December 29, 2022. The second warning was issued March 12, 2023 regarding the claimant's absenteeism.

The administrative record reflects that claimant has received unemployment benefits in the amount of $1,683.00, since filing a claim with an effective date of December 3, 2023. The employer did not provide evidence that it participated in the fact-finding interview or made a first-hand witness available for rebuttal.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the claimant was discharged from employment due to job-related misconduct.

Iowa Code section 96.5(2)a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The disqualification shall continue until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(1)a provides:

Discharge for misconduct.

(1) Definition.

a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. On the other hand mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, failure in good performance as the result of inability or incapacity, inadvertencies or ordinary negligence in isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion are not to be deemed misconduct within the meaning of the statute.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(7) provides:

(7) Excessive unexcused absenteeism. Excessive unexcused absenteeism is an intentional disregard of the duty owed by the claimant to the employer and shall be considered misconduct except for illness or other reasonable grounds for which the employee was absent and that were properly reported to the employer.

The gravity of the incident, number of policy violations and prior warnings are factors considered when analyzing misconduct. The lack of a current warning may detract from a finding of an intentional policy violation. The Iowa Supreme Court has opined that one unexcused absence is not misconduct even when it followed nine other excused absences and was in violation of a direct order. Sallis v. EAB, 437 N.W.2d 895 (Iowa 1989). Higgins v. Iowa Department of Job Service, 350 N.W.2d 187 (Iowa 1984), held that the absences must be both excessive and unexcused. The Iowa Supreme Court has held that the term "excessive" is more than one. Three incidents of tardiness or absenteeism after a warning has been held to be misconduct. Clark v. Iowa Department of Job Service, 317 N.W.2d 517 (Iowa Ct. App. 1982). While three is a reasonable interpretation of "excessive" based on current case law and Webster's Dictionary, the interpretation is best derived from the facts presented.

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job misconduct. Excessive absences are not considered misconduct unless unexcused. The determination of whether unexcused absenteeism is excessive necessarily requires consideration of past acts and warnings. The term "absenteeism" also encompasses conduct that is more accurately referred to as "tardiness." An absence is an extended tardiness, and an incident of tardiness is a limited absence. Absences related to issues of personal responsibility such as transportation, lack of childcare, and oversleeping are not considered excused. Higgins v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 350 N.W.2d 187 (Iowa 1984). Absences due to illness or injury must be properly reported in order to be excused. Casper v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982). An employer's point system or no-fault absenteeism policy is not dispositive of the issue of qualification for benefits.

An employer is entitled to expect its employees to report to work as scheduled or to be notified in a timely manner as to when and why the employee is unable to report to work. The employer has credibly established that claimant was warned on April 28, 2023 that further unexcused absences could result in termination of employment and the final absence was not excused. The final absence on August 31, 2023, in combination with claimant's history of unexcused absenteeism, is considered excessive. Benefits are withheld.

Because the claimant's separation was disqualifying, benefits were paid to which he was not entitled. The unemployment insurance law provides that benefits must be recovered from a claimant who receives benefits and is later determined to be ineligible for those benefits, even though the claimant acted in good faith and was not otherwise at fault. However, the overpayment will not be recovered when it is based on a reversal on appeal of an initial determination to award benefits on an issue regarding the claimant's employment separation if: (1) the benefits were not received due to any fraud or willful misrepresentation by the claimant and (2) the employer did not participate in the initial proceeding to award benefits. The employer will not be charged for benefits if it is determined that they did participate in the fact-finding interview. Iowa Code § 96.3(7). In this case, the claimant has received benefits but was not eligible for those benefits. Since the employer did not participate in the fact-finding interview the claimant is not obligated to repay to the agency the benefits he received in connection with this employer's account, and this employer's account may be charged.

DECISION:

The January 29, 2024, (reference 01) decision is reversed. Claimant was discharged from employment on September 6, 2023 due to excessive, unexcused absenteeism. Benefits are withheld until such time as he has worked in and been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times his weekly benefit amount, provided he is otherwise eligible
