(Decision Dated & Mailed)

Section 96.5-2-a – Discharge for Misconduct
Section 96.4-3 – Able and Available
Section 96.3-7 – Overpayment

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Hawkeye Wood Shavings (employer) appealed a representative's February 3, 2006 decision (reference 01) that concluded David Miller (claimant) was discharged and there was no evidence of willful or deliberate misconduct. After hearing notices were mailed to the parties' last-known addresses of record, a telephone hearing was held on February 27, 2006. The claimant participated personally. The employer participated by Colleen Adkins, Human Resources Worker/Dispatcher/Safety Person.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The administrative law judge, having heard the testimony and having considered all of the evidence in the record, finds that: The claimant was hired on July 6, 2001, as a full-time over-the-road driver. The claimant received a copy of the employer's drug policy. The claimant understood he was subject to Federal Drug Testing laws. The claimant left his truck for approximately 24 hours on or about July 7, 2005. The claimant admitted to the employer that he had used cocaine on or about that day. He was required to undergo testing for the presence of drugs and/or alcohol. The claimant tested positive for cocaine. The employer terminated the claimant on July 12, 2005.

On August 30, 2005, the claimant sought medical attention and was hospitalized until September 30, 2005. The claimant became unable to hold a Commercial Drivers License when he became an insulin dependent diabetic during his hospital stay.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The issue is whether the claimant was discharged for misconduct. For the following reasons, the administrative law judge concludes he was.

Iowa Code section 96.5-2-a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:
 - a. The individual shall be disqualified for benefits until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

871 IAC 24.32(1)a provides:

Discharge for misconduct.

(1) Definition.

- a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. On the other hand mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, failure in good performance as the result of inability or incapacity, inadvertencies or ordinary negligence in isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion are not to be deemed misconduct within the meaning of the statute.

This definition has been accepted by the Iowa Supreme Court as accurately reflecting the intent of the legislature. Huntoon v. Iowa Department of Job Service, 275 N.W.2d 445, 448 (Iowa 1979).

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job misconduct. Cosper v. Iowa Department of Job Service, 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982). The claimant was terminated for violating the employer's drug policy. The claimant knew that he could be terminated for using illegal drugs. The claimant admitted to wrongdoing. The claimant was discharged for misconduct in connection with his work. He is not qualified to receive unemployment insurance benefits.

The next issue is whether the claimant was able and available for work. For the following reasons, the administrative law judge concludes he was not.

871 IAC 24.23(1) provides:

Availability disqualifications. The following are reasons for a claimant being disqualified for being unavailable for work.

(1) An individual who is ill and presently not able to perform work due to illness.

When an employee is ill and unable to perform work due to that illness, he is considered to be unavailable for work. The claimant was ill or in the hospital from August 30 to September 30, 2005. He is considered to be unavailable for work during that time. The claimant is disqualified from receiving unemployment insurance benefits during that time, due to his unavailability for work.

Iowa Code section 96.3-7 provides:

7. Recovery of overpayment of benefits. If an individual receives benefits for which the individual is subsequently determined to be ineligible, even though the individual acts in good faith and is not otherwise at fault, the benefits shall be recovered. The department in its discretion may recover the overpayment of benefits either by having a sum equal to the overpayment deducted from any future benefits payable to the individual or by having the individual pay to the department a sum equal to the overpayment.

If the department determines that an overpayment has been made, the charge for the overpayment against the employer's account shall be removed and the account shall be credited with an amount equal to the overpayment from the unemployment compensation trust fund and this credit shall include both contributory and reimbursable employers, notwithstanding section 96.8, subsection 5.

The claimant has received benefits in the amount of $1,944.00 since filing his claim herein. Pursuant to this decision, those benefits now constitute an overpayment which must be repaid.

DECISION:

The representative's February 3, 2006 decision (reference 01) is reversed. The claimant is not eligible to receive unemployment insurance benefits, because he was discharged from work for misconduct. Benefits are withheld until he has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times his weekly benefit amount, provided he is otherwise eligible. The claimant is overpaid benefits in the amount of $1,944.00.
