APPEAL 22A-UI-15120-ED-T
ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

OC: 06/19/22
Claimant: Appellant (2)

Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quit
Iowa Code § 96.5(2)A – Discharge for Misconduct

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On July 15, 2022, the claimant filed an appeal from the July 8, 2022 reference 01, unemployment insurance decision that denied benefits based on a voluntary quit for personal reasons. The parties were properly notified about the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on August 22, 2022. Claimant, Leon Hartwig, participated and testified. . Employer, Nordstrom Inc, did not participate. Claimant's Exhibit A was offered and admitted into the record.

ISSUE:

Did claimant voluntarily leave the employment with good cause attributable to the employer or did employer discharge the claimant for reasons related to job misconduct sufficient to warrant a denial of benefits?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant was hired November 2020. His position was a full-time warehouse/shipping employee. His immediate supervisor was Braxton Hexton. Claimant last worked for this employer September 13, 2021. Claimant was off work on temporary disability until September 16, 2021. On February 18, 2022 claimant received a letter from his employer confirming his benefits as a result of his result termination of employment. Claimant never submitted a resignation to his employer.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes claimant did not voluntarily leave the employment but was discharged but not for disqualifying misconduct.

Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The individual shall be disqualified for benefits until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

Iowa Code §96.5(1) provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

A voluntary leaving of employment requires an intention to terminate the employment relationship accompanied by an overt act of carrying out that intention. Local Lodge #1426 v. Wilson Trailer, 289 N.W.2d 608, 612 (Iowa 1980). The claimant has the burden of proving that the voluntary leaving was for good cause attributable to the employer. Iowa Code § 96.6(2) (amended 1998). Generally, when an individual mistakenly believes they are discharged from employment, but was not told so by the employer, and they discontinue reporting for work, the separation is considered a quit without good cause attributable to the employer. LaGrange v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., (No. 4-209/83-1081, Iowa Ct. App. filed June 26, 1984).

Since claimant testified that he did not intend to quit, he did not tell his employer he was quitting and did not submit a resignation letter, but he received a letter of termination on February 18, 2022, the separation is a discharge.

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job misconduct. Cosper v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982). The issue is not whether the employer made a correct decision in separating claimant, but whether the claimant is entitled to unemployment insurance benefits. Infante v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 364 N.W.2d 262 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). What constitutes misconduct justifying termination of an employee and what misconduct warrants denial of unemployment insurance benefits are two separate decisions. Pierce v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 425 N.W.2d 679 (Iowa Ct. App. 1988).

Misconduct serious enough to warrant discharge is not necessarily serious enough to warrant a denial of job insurance benefits. Such misconduct must be "substantial." Newman v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 351 N.W.2d 806 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). When based on carelessness, the carelessness must actually indicate a "wrongful intent" to be disqualifying in nature. Id. Negligence does not constitute misconduct unless recurrent in nature; a single act is not disqualifying unless indicative of a deliberate disregard of the employer's interests. Henry v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 391 N.W.2d 731 (Iowa Ct. App. 1986).

In this case, the employer did not participate in the hearing and provided no details to the reason for claimant's discharge from employment. Claimant did not testify or provide any evidence that misconduct was involved in his separation from employment.

The employer has failed to meet its burden of proof in establishing a current act of disqualifying job-related misconduct. As such, benefits are allowed.

DECISION:

The July 8, 2022, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is reversed. Claimant was discharged but not for disqualifying misconduct. Benefits are allowed.
