OC: 05/15/2022
Claimant: Appellant (1)

Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a – Discharge for Misconduct
Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32 – Discharge for Misconduct

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On June 17, 2022, the claimant filed an appeal from the unemployment insurance decision dated June 7, 2022, (Reference 01) that denied benefits. Notice of hearing was mailed to the parties' last known addresses of record for a telephone hearing to be held at 1:00 p.m. on September 8, 2022. The claimant participated personally. The employer participated through Jenny Bockenstedt, Director of Human Resources. Claimant's Exhibits 1-3 were admitted to the record. Employer's Exhibits 1 and 2 were admitted to the record. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUES:

Was the claimant discharged for disqualifying job-related misconduct?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds:

The claimant worked for this employer from June 18, 2018, until May 19, 2022, when she was discharged by the employer. At the time of the discharge, the claimant was a Patient Accounts Representative reporting to Trish Hohnecker.

The employer is responsible for ensuring its employees comply with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA). The employer's handbook for employees, which the claimant signed acknowledgement of annually, forbids accessing confidential records without authorization.

On May 17, 2022, the employer received a tip from another employee that the claimant had looked up confidential patient information on new employees and high-profile deaths in the Dubuque area without a work-related purpose. The employer then conducted an audit of the claimant's access to electronic medical records from April 1, 2022, until May 17, 2022, and found that she had accessed the records of multiple new employees and high-profile decedents. The employer found no work-related reason for the access of the records and noted that the dates of access coincided with the announcement of the names of new employees and with media coverage of high-profile deaths in the local area. In total, six records were accessed by the claimant using her unique credentials throughout the month of April and up to May 3, 2022.

The claimant had been previously warned for unauthorized access to records for accessing her own medical record in March of 2019.

After the investigation, the employer terminated the claimant's employment on May 19, 2022.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the claimant was discharged from the employment for disqualifying misconduct. Benefits are denied.

Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The individual shall be disqualified for benefits until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(1)a provides:

Discharge for misconduct.

(1) Definition.

a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. On the other hand mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, failure in good performance as the result of inability or incapacity, inadvertencies or ordinary negligence in isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion are not to be deemed misconduct within the meaning of the statute.

This definition has been accepted by the Iowa Supreme Court as accurately reflecting the intent of the legislature. Huntoon v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 275 N.W.2d 445, 448 (Iowa 1979).

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job misconduct. Cosper v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982). The issue is not whether the employer made a correct decision in separating claimant, but whether the claimant is entitled to unemployment insurance benefits. Infante v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 364 N.W.2d 262 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). What constitutes misconduct justifying termination of an employee and what misconduct warrants denial of unemployment insurance benefits are two separate decisions. Pierce v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 425 N.W.2d 679 (Iowa Ct. App. 1988).

Misconduct serious enough to warrant discharge is not necessarily serious enough to warrant a denial of job insurance benefits. Such misconduct must be "substantial." Newman v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 351 N.W.2d 806 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). When based on carelessness, the carelessness must actually indicate a "wrongful intent" to be disqualifying in nature. Id. Negligence does not constitute misconduct unless recurrent in nature; a single act is not disqualifying unless indicative of a deliberate disregard of the employer's interests. Henry v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 391 N.W.2d 731 (Iowa Ct. App. 1986).

The misconduct here is willful and substantial, and against the interests of the employer. The claimant's actions could have subjected the employer to legal or regulatory liability. This administrative law judge is not persuaded that another individual accessed the claimant's credentials or conspired with the employer to create the appearance of unauthorized access to records. The misconduct is disqualifying, and benefits are denied.

DECISION:

The June 7, 2022, (Reference 01) unemployment insurance decision denying benefits is AFFIRMED. The claimant was discharged for disqualifying misconduct. Benefits are withheld until the claimant has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the claimant is otherwise eligible.
