REHNO SMITH Claimant

APPEAL 23A-UI-04207-ED-T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE DECISION

AMPC INC Employer

> OC: 03/26/23 Claimant: Respondent (2)

Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quitting Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a – Discharge for Misconduct Iowa Code § 96.3(7) – Overpayment of Benefits Iowa Admin Code R. 871-24.10 – Participation in fact finding

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The employer/appellant filed an appeal from the April 17, 2023 (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision that allowed benefits to claimant. The parties were properly notified of the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on May 10, 2023 at 1:00 PM. The claimant, Rehno Smith, did not participate. The employer, AMP Inc, participated through Danny Vanatta. No exhibits were offered or admitted.

ISSUES:

Did claimant voluntarily quit the employment with good cause attributable to employer? Was the claimant discharged for disqualifying job-related misconduct?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant was employed full-time beginning November 14, 2022. Claimant's immediate supervisor was Mr. Thorp. On February 26, 2023, the claimant clocked out of his shift 6 hours early without permission from or notification to his employer that he was leaving. The claimant did not return for any of his next scheduled shifts. Management attempted to contact the claimant by telephone when he did not show up for his next scheduled shift of work. The claimant did not answer the employer's phone calls and did not respond. Claimant was considered to have voluntarily quit his job after he left his shift early on February 26, 2023 and did not return for his next scheduled shifts. There was work available to claimant if he had not voluntarily quit; his job was not in jeopardy.

Claimant received benefits of $0.00 since the filing effective date of March 26, 2023.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes as follows:

lowa Code §96.5(1) provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

A voluntary quitting means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer and requires an intention to terminate the employment. Wills v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 447 N.W. 2d 137, 138 (Iowa 1989). A voluntary leaving of employment requires an intention to terminate the employment relationship accompanied by an overt act of carrying out that intention. Local Lodge #1426 v. Wilson Trailer, 289 N.W.2d 608, 612 (Iowa 1980). Where a claimant walked off the job without permission before the end of his shift saying he wanted a meeting with management the next day, the Iowa Court of Appeals ruled this was not a voluntary quit because the claimant's expressed desire to meet with management was evidence that he wished to maintain the employment relationship. Such cases must be analyzed as a discharge from employment. Peck v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 492 N.W.2d 438 (Iowa Ct. App. 1992).

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.25(4) provides:

Voluntary quit without good cause. In general, a voluntary quit means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer from whom the employee has separated. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.5. However, the claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving Iowa Code section 96.5, subsection (1), paragraphs "a" through "i," and subsection 10. The following reasons for a voluntary quit shall be presumed to be without good cause attributable to the employer:

(4) The claimant was absent for three days without giving notice to employer in violation of company rule.

In this case, claimant had an intention to quit and carried out that intention leaving work six hours early on February 26, 2023 and by failing to come to work for any further scheduled shifts. Claimant has the burden of proving that the voluntary leaving was for good cause attributable to the employer. Iowa Code § 96.6(2). "Good cause" for leaving employment must be that which is reasonable to the average person, not the overly sensitive individual or the claimant in particular. Uniweld Products v. Indus. Relations Comm'n, 277 So.2d 827 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. 1973). There was no reason given by the claimant for his voluntarily quitting his employment. As such, claimant's leaving the employment was not for a good-cause reason attributable to the employer according to lowa law. Benefits must be denied.

Because benefits are denied, the issue of overpayment and chargeability must be analyzed. However, the claimant was paid $0.00 in benefits since the filing effective date of March 26, 2023 making the issue of overpayment and chargeability moot.

DECISION:

The April 17, 2023 (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is reversed. Claimant voluntarily quit employment without good cause attributable to the employer. Unemployment insurance benefits are denied.
