(Decision Dated & Mailed)

Iowa Code section 96.6(2) - Timeliness of Appeal

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Osman Fehratovic, Jr. filed an appeal from the March 10, 2005, reference 01, decision that denied. After due notice was issued, a hearing was held by telephone conference call on May 23, 2005. Mr. Fehratovic participated in the hearing with the assistance of interpreter Zijo Suceksa. The employer participated through Tanya Teeter, Human Resources Manager. The administrative law judge has taken official notice of the decision dated March 10, 2005, reference 01.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: The March 10, 2005, reference 02, decision was mailed to Osman Fehratovic's last known address of record on March 10, 2005. The decision contained a warning that an appeal must be postmarked or received by the Appeals Section by March 20, 2005. The appeal was not filed until April 12, 2005, which was after the date noticed on the decision that denied benefits.

Mr. Fehratovic lives in a single -family residence with his spouse and his children, and receives his mail in a mailbox at the residence. The mailbox was a secured mailbox that Mr. Fehratovic had locked. On March 8, 2005, Mr. Fehratovic submitted a statement in lieu of his appearance at the fact finding interview on March 9, 2005. At the time he submitted his statement, Mr. Fehratovic was advised that he could expect to receive a decision regarding his eligibility for benefits no more than two weeks after March 9, 2005. Four weeks after the fact finding interview, Mr. Fehratovic contacted the post office to inquire about his mail and contacted his local Workforce Development Center, where he learned a decision had been entered and that he had been denied benefits.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

Iowa Code section 96.6-2 provides:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant. The representative shall promptly examine the claim and any protest, take the initiative to ascertain relevant information concerning the claim, and, on the basis of the facts found by the representative, shall determine whether or not the claim is valid, the week with respect to which benefits shall commence, the weekly benefit amount payable and its maximum duration, and whether any disqualification shall be imposed. The claimant has the burden of proving that the claimant meets the basic eligibility conditions of section 96.4. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to section 96.5, except as provided by this subsection. The claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence showing that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving section 96.5, subsection 10, and has the burden of proving that a voluntary quit pursuant to section 96.5, subsection 1, was for good cause attributable to the employer and that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving section 96.5, subsection 1, paragraphs "a" through "h". Unless the claimant or other interested party, after notification or within ten calendar days after notification was mailed to the claimant's last known address, files an appeal from the decision, the decision is final and benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance with the decision. If an administrative law judge affirms a decision of the representative, or the appeal board affirms a decision of the administrative law judge allowing benefits, the benefits shall be paid regardless of any appeal which is thereafter taken, but if the decision is finally reversed, no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid and this relief from charges shall apply to both contributory and reimbursable employers, notwithstanding section 96.8, subsection 5.

The ten-day deadline for appeal begins to run on the date the decision is mailed. The "decision date" found in the upper right-hand portion of the representative's decision, unless otherwise corrected immediately below that entry, is presumptive evidence of the date of mailing. Gaskins v. Unempl. Comp. Bd. of Rev., 429 A.2d 138 (Pa. Comm. 1981); Johnson v. Board of Adjustment, 239 N.W.2d 873, 92 A.L.R.3d 304 (Iowa 1976).

Pursuant to rules 871 IAC 26.2(96)(1) and 871 IAC 24.35(96)(1), appeals are considered filed when postmarked, if mailed. Messina v. IDJS, 341 N.W.2d 52 (Iowa 1983).

The evidence in the record establishes that more than ten calendar days elapsed between the mailing date and the date this appeal was filed. The Iowa Supreme Court has declared that there is a mandatory duty to file appeals from representatives' decisions within the time allotted by statute, and that the administrative law judge has no authority to change the decision of a representative if a timely appeal is not filed. Franklin v. IDJS, 277 N.W.2d 877, 881 (Iowa 1979). Compliance with appeal notice provisions is jurisdictional unless the facts of a case show that the notice was invalid. Beardslee v. IDJS, 276 N.W.2d 373, 377 (Iowa 1979); see also In re Appeal of Elliott, 319 N.W.2d 244, 247 (Iowa 1982). The question in this case thus becomes whether the appellant was deprived of a reasonable opportunity to assert an appeal in a timely fashion. Hendren v. IESC, 217 N.W.2d 255 (Iowa 1974); Smith v. IESC, 212 N.W.2d 471, 472 (Iowa 1973). Mr. Fehratovic testified that he locked his mailbox and was not receiving any mail in the mailbox. Mr. Fehratovic's testimony fails to explain why the post office would cease delivering mail to the mailbox. In addition, Mr. Fehratovic's testimony does not explain why Mr. Fehratovic waited four weeks to inquire about his mail or to inquire about the decision regarding his benefits. The administrative law judge does not find Mr. Fehratovic's testimony plausible. The weight of the evidence indicates that the appellant did have a reasonable opportunity to file a timely appeal.

The administrative law judge concludes that failure to file a timely appeal within the time prescribed by the Iowa Employment Security Law was not due to any Agency error or misinformation or delay or other action of the United States Postal Service pursuant to 871 IAC 24.35(2). The administrative law judge further concludes that the appeal was not timely filed pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.6(2), and the administrative law judge lacks jurisdiction to make a determination with respect to the nature of the appeal. See, Beardslee v. IDJS, 276 N.W.2d 373 (Iowa 1979) and Franklin v. IDJS, 277 N.W.2d 877 (Iowa 1979).

DECISION:

The Agency representative's March 10, 2005, reference 01, decision is affirmed. The appeal in this case was not timely, and the decision of the representative remains in effect.
