SECTION: 96.3-7

D E C I S I O N

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS ARE DENIED

The Claimant appealed this case to the Employment Appeal Board. The members of the Employment Appeal Board reviewed the entire record. The Appeal Board finds the administrative law judge's decision is correct. The administrative law judge's Findings of Fact and Reasoning and Conclusions of Law are adopted by the Board as its own. The administrative law judge's decision is AFFIRMED.

The Employment Appeal Board notes that it has reviewed the agency monetary records in this matter, and carefully reviewed the decisions and evidence. The Board points out that a finding of overpayment does not necessarily indicate how much remains to be paid after credits and offsets are taken into account.

As of this writing the information available to the Board indicates that the Claimant currently owes, after offsets,

- (a) $1,938 because of an overpayment occurring in her claim year starting in 2008,
- (b) $1,689 on her extended benefits overpayment during her 2009 claim year, and
- (c) $265 in stimulus payment.

Again, this is what is currently owed after offsets and credits. The total outstanding balance, as far as our information today shows, is $3,892. Finally, we note that the issue of the 2008 overpayment of $1,938 (which is “a” above) is not an issue in any of the three cases we vote today (case numbers 00804, 11205, & 11206).
