APPEAL 24A-UI-05507-DZ-T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

SWIFT PORK COMPANY
Employer

OC: 05/05/24
Claimant: Appellant (2)

Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a – Discharge

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Dieuseul C. Charles, the claimant/appellant,¹ appealed the Iowa Workforce Development (IWD) June 3, 2024 (reference 01) unemployment insurance (UI) decision. IWD denied Mr. Charles REGULAR (state) UI benefits because IWD concluded the employer discharged him from employment on April 24, 2024 for violating a known company rule. On June 11, 2024, the Iowa Department of Inspections, Appeals, and Licensing (DIAL), UI Appeals Bureau mailed a notice of hearing to Mr. Charles and the employer for a telephone hearing scheduled for June 25, 2024.

The administrative law judge held a telephone hearing on June 25, 2024. Mr. Charles participated in the hearing personally through a Haitian Creole interpreter from CTS Language Link. The employer did not participate in the hearing. The administrative law judge admitted Department's Exhibit 1 and Claimant's Exhibit A as evidence.

The administrative law judge concludes Mr. Charles is eligible for UI benefits based on how his job ended.

ISSUE:

Did the employer discharge Mr. Charles from employment for disqualifying, job-related misconduct?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Mr. Charles began working for the employer in October 2022. He worked as a full-time driver. His employment ended on April 17, 2024.

Mr. Charles saw something falling, so he reached his hand out and stopped it from falling. The employer told Mr. Charles that he violated a company rule when he touched the falling object.

¹ Claimant is the person who applied for UI benefits. Appellant is the person or employer who appealed.

The employer then sent Mr. Charles a letter telling him that his job was over for violating the company rule.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the employer discharged Mr. Charles from employment on April 17, 2024 for a reason that does not disqualify him from receiving UI benefits.

Iowa Code section 96.5(2)(a) and (d) provide, in relevant part:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The individual shall be disqualified for benefits until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

d. For the purposes of this subsection, "misconduct" means a deliberate act or omission by an employee that constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of the employee's contract of employment. Misconduct is limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(4) provides:

(4) Report required. The claimant's statement and employer's statement must give detailed facts as to the specific reason for the claimant's discharge. Allegations of misconduct or dishonesty without additional evidence shall not be sufficient to result in disqualification. If the employer is unwilling to furnish available evidence to corroborate the allegation, misconduct cannot be established. In cases where a suspension or disciplinary layoff exists, the claimant is considered as discharged, and the issue of misconduct shall be resolved.

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job misconduct.² The issue is not whether the employer made a correct decision in separating the claimant from employment, but whether the claimant is entitled to unemployment insurance benefits.³ Misconduct must be "substantial" to warrant a denial of job insurance benefits.⁴

² Cosper v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982).

³ Infante v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 364 N.W.2d 262 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984).

⁴ Newman v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 351 N.W.2d 806 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984).

In an at-will employment environment an employer may discharge an employee for any number of reasons or no reason at all, if it is not contrary to public policy. But, if the employer fails to meet its burden of proof to establish job related misconduct as the reason for the separation, the employer incurs potential liability for UI benefits related to that separation. A decision about whether an employee's act is misconduct does not rest solely on the interpretation or application of the employer's policy or rule. A violation of the employer's policy or rule is not necessarily disqualifying misconduct even if the employer was fully within its rights to impose discipline up to, or including, discharge for the incident under its policy.

In this case, the employer did not participate in the hearing and provided no evidence of disqualifying, job-related misconduct on the part of Mr. Charles. Since the employer has not established disqualifying job-related misconduct on the part of Mr. Charles, Mr. Charles is eligible for UI benefits.

DECISION:

The June 3, 2024 (reference 01) UI decision is REVERSED. The employer discharged Mr. Charles from employment on April 17, 2024 for a reason that does not disqualify him from receiving UI benefits. Mr. Charles is eligible for REGULAR (state) UI benefits, as long as no other decision denies him UI benefits.
