Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quit

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On July 7, 2023, the claimant filed an appeal from the June 30, 2023, (reference 04) unemployment insurance decision that denied benefits based upon the determination that claimant voluntarily quit employment without good cause attributable to the employer. The parties were properly notified of the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on July 27, 2023. The claimant, Camilla R. Guevara, participated personally. The employer, Mercy Health Services – Iowa Corp., participated through its hearing representative, Jennifer Kim-Pierce, who did not testify, with testifying witnesses Colleague and Labor Relations Senior Partner Beckie Wahlberg and Clinical Manager Daryl Reicks. Employer's Exhibit 1 was admitted. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUE:

Did the claimant voluntarily quit employment without good cause attributable to the employer?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant was employed full time as an operating room technician from October 10, 2022, until this employment ended on June 5, 2023, when the employer accepted her resignation.

In May 2023, claimant was offered and accepted a job with another company. The job paid better than her position with this employer. On May 22, 2023, claimant emailed a resignation notice to her supervisors. The effective date of the resignation was June 5, 2023.

Claimant had been on workers' compensation with this employer since December when she suffered a work-related injury to her left shoulder. She later suffered another injury to her right shoulder. Her doctor placed her work-related restrictions for both shoulders. When claimant reviewed the physical requirements of her new position, she recognized that her restrictions would impact the position. Though the new employer had indicated that it would work with claimant regarding restrictions, claimant came to the conclusion that she should remain employed with this employer for the duration of her workers' compensation claim. Claimant notified the new employer that she would not be starting her position and she intended to remain employed with this employer.

During the week of May 28, 2023, claimant sent an email to Reicks notifying him that she wished to rescind her resignation. Reicks was on vacation during that week, so he did not receive or address the request until June 5, 2023. On June 5, 2023, claimant approached Reicks and informed him that she wished to rescind the resignation and continue her employment with the employer. Reicks told her that he had already sent her paperwork to HR. Claimant went to HR to discuss the issue and was told that it was Reicks' decision to make. When she spoke with Reicks again, he informed claimant that the employer had accepted her resignation and her employment ended as scheduled on June 5, 2023.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes claimant's separation from the employment was without good cause attributable to the employer.

Iowa Code section 96.5(1) provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871—24.25(37) provides:

Voluntary quit without good cause. In general, a voluntary quit means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer from whom the employee has separated. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.5. However, the claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving Iowa Code section 96.5, subsection (1), paragraphs "a" through "i," and subsection 10. The following reasons for a voluntary quit shall be presumed to be without good cause attributable to the employer:

(37) The claimant will be considered to have left employment voluntarily when such claimant gave the employer notice of an intention to resign and the employer accepted such resignation. This rule shall also apply to the claimant who was employed by an educational institution who has declined or refused to accept a new contract or reasonable assurance of work for a successive academic term or year and the offer of work was within the purview of the individual's training and experience.

A voluntary quitting means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer and requires an intention to terminate the employment. Wills v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 447 N.W. 2d 137, 138 (Iowa 1989). A voluntary leaving of employment requires an intention to terminate the employment relationship accompanied by an overt act of carrying out that intention. Local Lodge #1426 v. Wilson Trailer, 289 N.W.2d 608, 612 (Iowa 1980); Peck v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 492 N.W.2d 438 (Iowa Ct. App. 1992).

Claimant has the burden of proving that the voluntary leaving was for good cause attributable to the employer. Iowa Code § 96.6(2). "Good cause" for leaving employment must be that which is reasonable to the average person, not the overly sensitive individual or the claimant in particular. Uniweld Products v. Indus. Relations Comm'n, 277 So.2d 827 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. 1973). The standard of what a reasonable person would have believed under the circumstances is applied in determining whether a claimant left work voluntarily with good cause attributable to the employer. O'Brien v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 494 N.W.2d 660 (Iowa 1993).

Claimant resigned employment to accept other employment and the employer accepted her resignation. Claimant's resignation was without good cause attributable to the employer. Benefits are denied.

DECISION:

The June 30, 2023, (reference 04) unemployment insurance decision is AFFIRMED. Claimant voluntarily left the employment without good cause attributable to the employer. Benefits are withheld until such time as she has worked in and been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times her weekly benefit amount, provided she is otherwise eligible.
