Iowa Code Section 96.6-2 - Timeliness of Protest

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On April 3, 2023, the employer filed a timely appeal from the March 24, 2023 (reference 03) decision that allowed benefits to the claimant, provided the claimant was otherwise eligible, and that held the employer's account could be charged for benefits, based on the deputy's determination the employer's was untimely and therefore could not be considered. After due notice was issued, a hearing was held on April 17, 2023. The claimant did not comply with the hearing notice instructions to call the designated toll-free number at the time of the hearing and did not participate. Nathan Brommel represented the employer and presented additional testimony through Tyler Mortvedt. Exhibits 1 through 3 were received into evidence. Exhibit 1 is the appeal letter. Exhibit 2 is a copy of the notice of claim/protest. Exhibit 3 is a copy of the 03 reference decision. The administrative law judge took official notice of the following Iowa Workforce Development administrative records, the notice of claim/protest form as received and processed by IWD, EMP1, DBRO, and WAGEA. The administrative law judge took official notice of the employer's account information on myiowau.org, but was unable to access that database due to IWD terminating the administrative law judge's access to that database.

ISSUE:

Whether the employer's protest of the claim for benefits was timely.
Whether there is good cause to deem the employer's late protest as timely.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds:

On February 1, 2023, Iowa Workforce Development mailed a notice of claim concerning the above claimant to the employer's address of record. The notice of claim contained a warning that any protest must be postmarked, faxed or returned by the due date set forth on the notice, which was February 13, 2023. The employer's address of record, according to the EMP1 record on the IWD computer system, is the employer's third-party accountant's office in Ames. The weight of the evidence indicates the notice of claim was delivered to the accounting firm in a timely manner, most likely within two days of the February 1, 2023 mailing date. The correspondence would have been delivered in an envelope that bore the following red ink warning: Notice of Claim – Open Immediately. On March 23, 2023, the employer's third-party accountant emailed a copy of the notice of claim to Tyler Mortvedt, Operations Manager. On March 23, 2023, Mr. Mortvedt added the employer's protest information to the notice of claim form. Mr. Mortvedt signed and dated the notice of claim form to certify the accuracy of the information he provided in the form. Mr. Mortvedt faxed the notice of claim/protest to IWD on March 23, 2023. IWD received the notice of claim on March 23, 2023 and marked it late.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

Iowa Code section 96.6(2) provides, in pertinent part:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant.

Another portion of this same Code section dealing with timeliness of an appeal from a representative's decision states that such an appeal must be filed within ten days after notification of that decision was mailed. In addressing an issue of timeliness of an appeal under that portion of this Code section, the Iowa Supreme Court held that this statute prescribing the time for notice of appeal clearly limits the time to do so, and that compliance with the appeal notice provision is mandatory and jurisdictional. Beardslee v. IDJS, 276 N.W.2d 373 (Iowa 1979). The administrative law judge considers the reasoning and holding of the court to be controlling on this portion of that same Iowa Code section which deals with a time limit in which to file a protest after notification of the filing of the claim has been mailed.

Iowa Administrative Code Rule 871-24.8(2)(a) and (b) provide as follows:

- (2) Responding by employing units to a notice of the filing of an initial claim or a request for wage and separation information and protesting the payment of benefits.
  - a. The employing unit which receives a Form 65-5317, Notice of Claim, or a Form 68-0221, Request for Wage and Separation Information, must, within ten days of the date of the notice or request, submit to the department wage or separation information that affects the individual's rights to benefits, including any facts which disclose that the individual separated from employment voluntarily and without good cause attributable to the employer or was discharged for misconduct in connection with employment.
  - b. The employing unit may protest the payment of benefits if the protest is postmarked within ten days of the date of the notice of the filing of an initial claim. In the event that the tenth day falls on a Saturday, Sunday or holiday, the protest period is extended to the next working day of the department. If the employing unit has filed a timely report of facts that might adversely affect the individual's benefit rights, the report shall be considered as a protest to the payment of benefits.

Iowa Administrative Code Rule 871-24.35(1) provides:

Date of submission and extension of time for payments and notices.

- (1) Except as otherwise provided by statute or by division rule, any payment, appeal, application, request, notice, objection, petition, report or other information or document submitted to the division shall be considered received by and filed with the division:

- a. If transmitted via the United States Postal Service on the date it is mailed as shown by the postmark, or in the absence of a postmark the postage meter mark of the envelope in which it is received; or if not postmarked or postage meter marked or if the mark is illegible, on the date entered on the document as the date of completion.
- b. If transmitted via the State Identification Data Exchange System (SIDES), maintained by the United States Department of Labor, on the date it was submitted to SIDES.
- c. If transmitted by any means other than those outlined in paragraphs 24.35(1)"a" and "b", on the date it is received by the division.

Iowa Administrative Code Rule 871-24.35(2) provides:

Date of submission and extension of time for payments and notices.

(2) The submission of any payment, appeal, application, request, notice, objection, petition, report or other information or document not within the specified statutory or regulatory period shall be considered timely if it is established to the satisfaction of the division that the delay in submission was due to division error or misinformation or to delay or other action of the United States postal service.

- a. For submission that is not within the statutory or regulatory period to be considered timely, the interested party must submit a written explanation setting forth the circumstances of the delay.
- b. The division shall designate personnel who are to decide whether an extension of time shall be granted.
- c. No submission shall be considered timely if the delay in filing was unreasonable, as determined by the department after considering the circumstances in the case.
- d. If submission is not considered timely, although the interested party contends that the delay was due to division error or misinformation or delay or other action of the United States postal service, the division shall issue an appealable decision to the interested party.

The evidence in the record establishes that the employer's protest was untimely. The notice of claim was delivered to the address of record in a timely manner. The employer's accountant sat of the document for almost two months before alerting the employer to the notice of claim. The employer's failure to file a timely protest was attributable to the employer's agent's neglect of the matter and was not attributable to Workforce Development error or misinformation or delay or other action of the United States Postal Service. Accordingly, the administrative law judge lacks jurisdiction to disturb the Agency's initial determination regarding the nature of the claimant's separation from the employment, the claimant's eligibility for benefits, or the employer's liability for benefits. The Agency's initial determination of the claimant's eligibility for benefits and the employer's liability for benefits shall remain in effect.

DECISION:

The March 24, 2023 (reference 03) decision is AFFIRMED. The employer's protest was untimely. The claimant is eligible for benefits, provided he is otherwise eligible. The employer's account may be charged for benefits.

Note to employer: If the employer desires to change the address to which notice of claims are directed, the employer may readily do so through the employer's myiowau.org account or by completing the change of status form available for download at the Iowa Workforce Development website on the employer forms tab.
