Claimant

APPEAL NO. 22A-UI-09420-JT-T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE DECISION

PPG EXCAVATING LLC

Employer

OC: 12/05/21

Claimant: Appellant (1)

lowa Code Section 96.6(2) – Timeliness of Appeal lowa Code Section 96.5(2)(a) – Discharge for Misconduct

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On April 14, 2022, Jhonathan Merida Barrios (claimant) filed a late appeal from the February 15, 2022 (reference 01) decision that disqualified the claimant for benefits and that held the employer's account would not be charged for benefits, based on the deputy's conclusion that the claimant was discharged on December 5, 2021 for violation of a known company rule. After due notice was issued, a hearing was held on May 27, 2022. Claimant participated. The employer did not comply with the hearing notice instructions to call the toll-free number at the time of the hearing and did not participate. The hearing in this matter was consolidated with the hearing in Appeal Number 22A-Ul-09422-JT-T. Exhibit A, the online appeal, was received into evidence. The administrative law judge took official notice of the following Agency administrative records: the reference 01 and 03 decisions, KFFV and DBRO.

ISSUE:

Whether the appeal was timely. Whether there is good cause to treat the appeal as timely.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: During the week of December 5, 2021, Jhonatan Merida Barrios (claimant) went to the lowaWORKS Center in Fort Dodge and used an Agency computer to establish an original claim for benefits that was effective December 5, 2021. The claimant asked questions of IWD staff as needed to complete the application for benefits.

On February 15, 2022, lowa Workforce Development mailed the February 15, 2022 (reference 01) decision to the claimant's Fort Dodge last-known address of record. The reference 01 decision disqualified the claimant for benefits, based on the deputy's conclusion that the claimant was discharged on December 5, 2021 for violation of a known company rule. The reference 01 decision stated the decision would become final unless an appeal was postmarked by February 25, 2022 or was received by the Appeals Section by that date. The claimant received the reference 01 decision in a timely manner, prior to the deadline for appeal. The claimant, a native Spanish speaker, did not understand the portion of the decision that was set forth in English. The claimant did not read the information set forth in Spanish on the back side of the decision. Though the claimant was unclear on the significance of the decision, and though the claimant had previously obtained assistance from Fort Dodge IWD staff, the claimant delayed seeking assistance with understanding and/or responding to the decision. The claimant did not take steps to file an appeal from the decision by the February 25, 2022 appeal deadline.

On April 5, 2022, IWD mailed the reference 03 overpayment decision to the claimant's address of record. The overpayment decision cited the earlier disqualification decision as the basis for the overpayment decision. The reference 03 overpayment decision included an April 15, 2022 deadline for appeal.

On April 14, 2022, the claimant returned to the Fort Dodge lowaWORKS Center and used an IWD computer to complete and transmit an online appeal from the reference 03 overpayment decision. The Appeals Bureau received the appeal on April 14, 2022 and treated it as also a late appeal from the reference 01 decision.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

lowa Code section 96.6(2) provides:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant. The representative shall promptly examine the claim and any protest, take the initiative to ascertain relevant information concerning the claim, and, on the basis of the facts found by the representative, shall determine whether or not the claim is valid, the week with respect to which benefits shall commence, the weekly benefit amount payable and its maximum duration, and whether any disqualification shall be imposed. The claimant has the burden of proving that the claimant meets the basic eligibility conditions of section 96.4. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to section 96.5, except as provided by this subsection. The claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence showing that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving section 96.5, subsections 10 and 11, and has the burden of proving that a voluntary guit pursuant to section 96.5, subsection 1, was for good cause attributable to the employer and that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving section 96.5, subsection 1, paragraphs "a" through "h". Unless the claimant or other interested party, after notification or within ten calendar days after notification was mailed to the claimant's last known address, files an appeal from the decision, the decision is final and benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance with the decision. If an administrative law judge affirms a decision of the representative, or the appeal board affirms a decision of the administrative law judge allowing benefits, the benefits shall be paid regardless of any appeal which is thereafter taken, but if the decision is finally reversed, no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid and this relief from charges shall apply to both contributory and reimbursable employers, notwithstanding section 96.8, subsection 5.

The ten-day deadline for appeal begins to run on the date Workforce Development mails the decision to the parties. The "decision date" found in the upper right-hand portion of the Agency representative's decision, unless otherwise corrected immediately below that entry, is presumptive evidence of the date of mailing. Gaskins v. Unempl. Comp. Bd. of Rev., 429 A.2d 138 (Pa. Comm. 1981); Johnson v. Board of Adjustment, 239 N.W.2d 873, 92 A.L.R.3d 304 (lowa 1976).

An appeal submitted by mail is deemed filed on the date it is mailed as shown by the postmark or in the absence of a postmark the postage meter mark of the envelope in which it was received, or if not postmarked or postage meter marked or if the mark is illegible, on the date entered on the document as the date of completion. See lowa Administrative Code rule 871-24.35(1)(a). See also Messina v. IDJS, 341 N.W.2d 52 (lowa 1983). An appeal submitted by any other means is deemed filed on the date it is received by the Unemployment Insurance Division of lowa Workforce Development. See lowa Administrative Code rule 871-24.35(1)(b).

The evidence in the record establishes that more than ten calendar days elapsed between the mailing date and the date this appeal was filed. The lowa Supreme Court has declared that there is a mandatory duty to file appeals from representatives' decisions within the time allotted by statute, and that the administrative law judge has no authority to change the decision of a representative if a timely appeal is not filed. Franklin v. IDJS, 277 N.W.2d 877, 881 (lowa 1979). Compliance with appeal notice provisions is jurisdictional unless the facts of a case show that the notice was invalid. Beardslee v. IDJS, 276 N.W.2d 373, 377 (lowa 1979); see also In re Appeal of Elliott, 319 N.W.2d 244, 247 (lowa 1982). One question in this case thus becomes whether the appellant was deprived of a reasonable opportunity to assert an appeal in a timely fashion. Hendren v. IESC, 217 N.W.2d 255 (lowa 1974); Smith v. IESC, 212 N.W.2d 471, 472 (lowa 1973).

No submission shall be considered timely if the delay in filing was unreasonable, as determined by the division after considering the circumstances in the case. See lowa Administrative Code rule 871-24.35(2)(c).

The evidence in the record establishes an untimely appeal from the February 15, 2022 (reference 01) decision. The evidence establishes that the claimant received the reference 01 decision in a timely manner, had a reasonable opportunity to file an appeal by the appeal deadline, but unreasonably delayed filing the appeal to April 14, 2022. The late filing of the appeal was not attributable to the lowa Workforce Development error or misinformation or delay or other action of the United States Postal Service. Though the claimant may not have understood that portion of the reference 01 decision that was in English, he elected not to read the portion of the decision that was in Spanish. Though the claimant was familiar with the lowaWORKS office in Fort Dodge and had accessed assistance from IWD staff to set up the original claim, the claimant elected not to take similar steps in response to the February 15, 2022 (reference 01) decision. The claimant demonstrated ability to respond in a timely manner to an IWD decision by contacted IWD on April 14, 2022 to appeal from the April 5, 2022 decision by the April 15, 2022 deadline that applied to the overpayment decision. There is not good cause to treat the late appeal from the February 15, 2022 (reference 01) decision as a timely appeal. See lowa Administrative Code rule 871-24.35(2). Because the appeal was untimely, administrative law judge lacks jurisdiction to disturb the decision from which the claimant appeals in the present matter. See Beardslee v. IDJS, 276 N.W.2d 373 (lowa 1979) and Franklin v. IDJS, 277 N.W.2d 877 (lowa 1979).

DECISION:

The claimant's appeal from the February 15, 2022 (reference 01) decision was untimely. The decision that disqualified the claimant for benefits and that held the employer's account would not be charged for benefits, based on the December 5, 2021 discharge, remains in effect.
