(Decision Dated & Mailed)

Section 96.5-1-d – Voluntary Leaving/Illness or Injury
871 IAC 24.25(35) – Separation Due to Illness or Injury

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The claimant filed a timely appeal from the May 12, 2005, reference 01, decision that denied benefits. After due notice was issued, a hearing was held on June 21, 2005. The claimant did participate. The employer did not participate. Claimant's Exhibit A was received.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: The claimant was employed as a room attendant/housekeeper full time beginning June 18, 2004, through March 12, 2005, when she voluntarily quit. The claimant returned her uniform to the employer and indicated that she could no longer perform the job functions due to health and physical problems. The claimant's doctor submitted a note indicating that the claimant's medical problems were related to non-work related illness. The claimant has been diagnosed with polycystic fibrous and McCune Albright disease.

The claimant was unable to work pursuant to medical advice from a treating physician. The claimant's inability to work is related to non-work related conditions, as is indicated by her doctor's note found at Claimant's Exhibit A. She has not yet received a full medical release from the treating physician.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the claimant voluntarily left her employment without good cause attributable to the employer.

Iowa Code section 96.5-1 provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

Iowa Code section 96.5-1-d provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department. But the individual shall not be disqualified if the department finds that:

d. The individual left employment because of illness, injury or pregnancy upon the advice of a licensed and practicing physician, and upon knowledge of the necessity for absence immediately notified the employer, or the employer consented to the absence, and after recovering from the illness, injury or pregnancy, when recovery was certified by a licensed and practicing physician, the individual returned to the employer and offered to perform services and the individual's regular work or comparable suitable work was not available, if so found by the department, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

871 IAC 24.25(35) provides:

Voluntary quit without good cause. In general, a voluntary quit means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer from whom the employee has separated. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.5. However, the claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving Iowa Code section 96.5, subsection (1), paragraphs "a" through "i," and subsection 10. The following reasons for a voluntary quit shall be presumed to be without good cause attributable to the employer:

(35) The claimant left because of illness or injury which was not caused or aggravated by the employment or pregnancy and failed to:

- (a) Obtain the advice of a licensed and practicing physician;
- (b) Obtain certification of release for work from a licensed and practicing physician;
- (c) Return to the employer and offer services upon recovery and certification for work by a licensed and practicing physician; or
- (d) Fully recover so that the claimant could perform all of the duties of the job.

A voluntary leaving of employment requires an intention to terminate the employment relationship accompanied by an overt act of carrying out that intention. Local Lodge #1426 v. Wilson Trailer, 289 N.W.2d 608, 612 (Iowa 1980). The claimant returned her uniforms to her employer clearly indicating she was not going to return to work. The claimant's failure to return to work, her return of her uniforms, and her statements to the employer that she could not physically perform the work convinces the administrative law judge that the claimant voluntarily quit her employment due to a non-work related illness. Accordingly, the separation is without good cause attributable to the employer and benefits must be denied.

DECISION:

The May 11, 2005, reference 01, decision is affirmed. The claimant voluntarily left her employment without good cause attributable to the employer. Benefits are denied
