ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

OC: 04/17/22
Claimant: Appellant (2)

Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quitting
Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.26(1) – Voluntary Quitting – Change in Contract of Hire

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Claimant filed an appeal from a decision of a representative dated July 11, 2022, (reference 06) that held claimant ineligible for unemployment insurance benefits. After due notice, a hearing was scheduled for and held on December 1, 2022. Claimant participated. Employer failed to respond to the hearing notice and did not participate. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUE:

The issue in this matter is whether claimant quit for good cause attributable to employer?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The administrative law judge, having heard the testimony and considered all of the evidence in the record, finds: Claimant last worked for employer on June 8, 2022. Claimant left the employment after she discovered that the employer had made substantial changes to her original contract of hire.

Claimant began working for employer as a full-time scale assistant on June 6, 2022. Claimant told the person who hired her that she was not able to stand for an extended period of time, and that she could not walk long distances. Employer told claimant that she would be working primarily in the scale house sitting at a desk, and that she would be working 40 hours a week.

On June 8, 2022 claimant's manager began claimant's on the job training. During that training claimant was told that she would be walking long distances making security checks to dozens of warehouses by herself. Claimant was also told that after that date she would begin working 12 hour shifts.

Claimant decided that she had to resign from the employment on June 8, 2022 because the employer made substantial changes to her original contract of hire. Claimant left work on that date, and she did not return.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the claimant did voluntarily leave the employment with good cause attributable to the employer because the employer made substantial changes to her original contract of hire.

Iowa Code section 96.5(1) provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.26(1) provides:

Voluntary quit with good cause attributable to the employer and separations not considered to be voluntary quits. The following are reasons for a claimant leaving employment with good cause attributable to the employer:

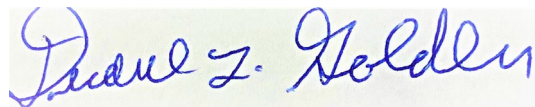

(1) A change in the contract of hire. An employer's willful breach of contract of hire shall not be a disqualifiable issue. This would include any change that would jeopardize the worker's safety, health or morals. The change of contract of hire must be substantial in nature and could involve changes in working hours, shifts, remuneration, location of employment, drastic modification in type of work, etc. Minor changes in a worker's routine on the job would not constitute a change of contract of hire.

In general, a substantial pay reduction of 25 to 35 percent or a similar reduction of working hours creates good cause attributable to the employer for a resignation. Dehmel v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 433 N.W.2d 700 (Iowa 1988). A notice of an intent to quit had been required by Cobb v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 506 N.W.2d 445, 447-78 (Iowa 1993), Suluki v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 503 N.W.2d 402, 405 (Iowa 1993), and Swanson v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 554 N.W.2d 294, 296 (Iowa Ct. App. 1996). Those cases required an employee to give an employer notice of intent to quit, thus giving the employer an opportunity to cure working conditions. However, in 1995, the Iowa Administrative Code was amended to include an intent-to-quit requirement. The requirement was only added to rule 871-24.26(6)(b), the provision addressing work-related health problems. No intent-to-quit requirement was added to rule 871-24.26(4), the intolerable working conditions provision. Our supreme court concluded that, because the intent-to-quit requirement was added to Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.26(6)(b) but not 871-24.26(4), notice of intent to quit is not required for intolerable working conditions. Hy-Vee, Inc. v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 710 N.W.2d 1 (Iowa 2005). A refusal to accept a night shift position at a sanitarium constitutes a good cause quit attributable to the employer when that shift would endanger the claimant's health. Forrest Park Sanitarium v. Miller, 333 Iowa 1341, 11 N.W.2d 582 (Iowa 1943).

Since there was no disqualifying basis for the changes made to claimant's work schedule and work duties, the quit because of the change in original contract of hire was with good cause attributable to the employer. Inasmuch as the claimant's hours had increased by 50 percent and her work duties were vastly different from what she was told when hired, and employer did not establish misconduct as a reason for the effective demotion, the change of the original terms of hire is considered substantial. Thus, the separation was with good cause attributable to the employer. Benefits are allowed.

DECISION:

The July 11, 2022, (reference 06) decision is reversed. The claimant voluntarily left the employment with good cause attributable to the employer. Benefits are allowed, provided the claimant is otherwise eligible.
