APPEAL NO. 22A-UI-17433-B2T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

UNIVERSITY OF DUBUQUE/BUS OFFICE

OC: 08/28/22
Claimant: Appellant (1)

Iowa Code § 96.5-2-a – Discharge for Misconduct

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Claimant filed an appeal from a decision of a representative dated September 14, 2022, (reference 01) which held claimant ineligible for unemployment insurance benefits. After due notice, a hearing was scheduled for and held on October 20, 2022. Claimant participated personally. Employer participated by Julie Mac Taggart and Valerie Hefel. Claimant's Exhibit A and Employer's exhibits 1-4 were admitted into evidence.

ISSUE:

The issue in this matter is whether claimant was discharged for misconduct?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The administrative law judge, having heard the testimony and considered all of the evidence in the record, finds: Claimant last worked for employer on August 11, 2022. Employer discharged claimant on August 11, 2022 because claimant fell asleep on the job while caring for young children at a daycare center.

Claimant worked as a fulltime assistant childcare teacher for employer. As a teacher, claimant was responsible for watching preschool children and providing lessons to them on a daily basis. One of the obligations of the claimant was to keep the class she was in within ratio - making sure that state-dictated amount of teachers remained in the room with the children at all times.

Claimant was working in late July to early August in a preschool room while children were sleeping. Claimant was photographed by a coworker sleeping while the children were sleeping. Claimant denied doing this, although she allegedly admitted to doing it when confronted by human resources officers. When claimant was shown a picture of her sleeping, she denied that she was sleeping. She also denied having fallen asleep at work within the last two weeks, "that I can remember."

The administrative law judge received hearsay testimony that the head of the business addressed claimant previously on sleeping rumors. Claimant denied this also.

At the time of hire, claimant signed for and received an employee handbook stating company rules and policies including, among other things, that claimant was not to sleep while at work.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

Iowa Code section 96.5(2)a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The disqualification shall continue until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(1)a provides:

Discharge for misconduct.

(1) Definition.

a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer.

This definition has been accepted by the Iowa Supreme Court as accurately reflecting the intent of the legislature. Huntoon v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 275 N.W.2d 445, 448 (Iowa 1979).

A claimant is not qualified to receive unemployment insurance benefits if an employer has discharged the claimant for reasons constituting work connected misconduct. Iowa Code § 96.5-2-a. Before a claimant can be denied unemployment insurance benefits, the employer has the burden to establish the claimant was discharged for work-connected misconduct. Cosper v. Iowa Department of Job Service, 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982), Iowa Code § 96.5-2-a.

It is the duty of the administrative law judge as the trier of fact in this case, to determine the credibility of witnesses, weigh the evidence and decide the facts in issue. Arndt v. City of LeClaire, 728 N.W.2d 389, 394-395 (Iowa 2007). The administrative law judge may believe all, part or none of any witness's testimony. State v. Holtz, 548 N.W.2d 162, 163 (Iowa Ct. App. 1996). In assessing the credibility of witnesses, the administrative law judge should consider the evidence using his or her own observations, common sense and experience. State v. Holtz, Id. In determining the facts, and deciding what testimony to believe, the fact finder may consider the following factors: whether the testimony is reasonable and consistent with other believable evidence; whether a witness has made inconsistent statements; the witness's appearance, conduct, age, intelligence, memory and knowledge of the facts; and the witness's interest in the trial, their motive, candor, bias and prejudice. State v. Holtz, Id. Claimant's testimony that she was not sleeping at work is not credible. Her statements that she has not fallen asleep at work within the last two weeks, "that I can remember" is very telling.

In this matter, the evidence fails to establish that claimant was discharged for an act of misconduct when claimant violated employer's policy concerning sleeping on the job while caring for preschool children such that classes were taken out of state dictated ratios.

The last incident, which brought about the discharge, constitutes misconduct because claimant's actions put young children at risk and were a violation of the main aspect of her job – to watch over the children. The administrative law judge holds that claimant was discharged for an act of misconduct and, as such, is disqualified for the receipt of unemployment insurance benefits.

DECISION:

The decision of the representative dated September 14, 2022, (reference 01) is affirmed. Unemployment insurance benefits shall be withheld until claimant has worked in and been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times claimant's weekly benefit amount, provided claimant is otherwise eligible.
