APPEAL 22A-UI-17927-S2-T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

TYSON FRESH MEATS, INC
Employer

OC: 08/21/22
Claimant: Appellant (1R)

Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a – Discharge for Misconduct
Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quit

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The claimant filed an appeal from the October 4, 2022, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision that denied benefits based upon her voluntary quit. The parties were properly notified about the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on November 2, 2022. Claimant Marilyn M. Yeanay participated and testified. Lawrence Yeanay testified on claimant's behalf. Employer Tyson Fresh Meats, Inc. participated through human resources administrator Lydia Awinjah. Claimant's Exhibits A and B were received.

ISSUE:

Did claimant voluntarily quit the employment with good cause attributable to employer?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant was employed full-time as a laborer from February 26, 2019, until September 15, 2021, when she quit.

On September 15, 2021, claimant made the decision to quit her employment. She was pregnant and her doctor gave claimant work restrictions that employer was unable or unwilling to accommodate. Claimant decided to quit working rather than risk her pregnancy. She did not inform employer of her decision. Employer considered claimant to have abandoned her job when she failed to return for her shifts after September 15, 2021.

Claimant received prior disciplinary action resulting from a fight with another employer. She was concerned that she could be discharged. Employer told claimant her job was not in jeopardy due to the write up. Continuing work was available if claimant had not quit.

Claimant reapplied to employer in August 2022 and received a job offer. (Exhibit A). Claimant was shown around the production floor, took several pre-employment tests, and met her future supervisor and coworkers. When claimant arrived for her first day of employment in her new position, she was informed she was being discharged. This August 2022 separation from employment has not been the subject of an investigation and determination by the Benefits Bureau of Iowa Workforce Development.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes claimant's separation from the employment was without good cause attributable to the employer.

Iowa Code section 96.5(1) provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.25 provides:

Voluntary quit without good cause. In general, a voluntary quit means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer from whom the employee has separated. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.5. However, the claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving Iowa Code section 96.5, subsection (1), paragraphs "a" through "i," and subsection 10. The following reasons for a voluntary quit shall be presumed to be without good cause attributable to the employer:

(27) The claimant left rather than perform the assigned work as instructed.

Claimant has the burden of proving that the voluntary leaving was for good cause attributable to the employer. Iowa Code § 96.6(2). "Good cause" for leaving employment must be that which is reasonable to the average person, not the overly sensitive individual or the claimant in particular. Uniweld Products v. Indus. Relations Comm'n, 277 So.2d 827 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. 1973). A voluntary leaving of employment requires an intention to terminate the employment relationship accompanied by an overt act of carrying out that intention. Local Lodge #1426 v. Wilson Trailer, 289 N.W.2d 608, 612 (Iowa 1980).

An employer is not required to accommodate non-work-related illness or injury restrictions. Here, claimant chose to quit her employment due to her pregnancy. Claimant also believed employer could discharge her in the future due to a prior disciplinary action. The possibility that an employer may discharge at some unknown point in the future is not good cause for quitting the employment. While claimant's leaving may have been based upon good personal reasons, it was not for a good-cause reason attributable to the employer according to Iowa law. Benefits are denied.

DECISION:

The October 4, 2022, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is affirmed. The claimant voluntarily left her employment without good cause attributable to the employer. Benefits are withheld until such time as she has worked in and been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times her weekly benefit amount, provided she is otherwise eligible.

REMAND:

The matter of claimant's August 2022 separation is remanded to the Benefits Bureau of Iowa Workforce Development for a fact-finding interview and decision.
