ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE DECISION

KRAFT HEINZ FOODS COMPANY LLC

Employer

OC: 05/08/22

Claimant: Appellant (01)

lowa Code § 96.5(2)a – Discharge for Misconduct lowa Code § 96.3(7) – Overpayment of Benefits

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The claimant filed an appeal from the July 11, 2022 (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision that found the claimant was not eligible for unemployment insurance benefits due to his separation from employment. The parties were properly notified of the hearing. A telephonic hearing was held on August 19, 2022. The claimant, Curt Bates, participated personally. The employer, Kraft Heinz Foods Company LLC, did not participate. The administrative law judge took official notice of the claimant's unemployment insurance benefits records.

ISSUES:

Was the claimant discharged for disqualifying job-related misconduct?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant was employed full time beginning June 6, 2021 as fork lift operator. The last day he worked was May 11, 2022 when claimant was discharged from employment.

Claimant was unable to call into work to let his employer know he could not attend work because he had been arrested and placed in jail. Claimant was unable to attend work on May 12 and 14, 2022 due to his incarceration. Claimant was released from jail Monday evening, May 16, 2022. Claimant contacted his employer as soon as he was released from jail and his employer let him know that he had been discharged for failing to call in or show up to work for two days.

The reasons for claimant's arrest are currently in litigation and charges have not been dismissed. Claimant had no previous disciplinary actions during the course of his employment.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the claimant was discharged for disqualifying reasons. Benefits are denied.

lowa Code § 96.5(2)a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

- 2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:
- a. The individual shall be disqualified for benefits until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(1)a provides:

Discharge for misconduct.

- (1) Definition.
- a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. On the other hand mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, failure in good performance as the result of inability or incapacity, inadvertencies or ordinary negligence in isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion are not to be deemed misconduct within the meaning of the statute.

This definition has been accepted by the lowa Supreme Court as accurately reflecting the intent of the legislature. Huntoon v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 275 N.W.2d 445, 448 (lowa 1979).

lowa Code section 96.5(11) provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:

- 11. Incarceration--disqualified.
- a. If the department finds that the individual became separated from employment due to the individual's incarceration in a jail, municipal holding facility, or correctional institution or facility, unless the department finds all of the following:
- (1) The individual notified the employer that the individual would be absent from work due to the individual's incarceration prior to any such absence.
- (2) Criminal charges relating to the incarceration were not filed against the individual, all criminal charges against the individual relating to the incarceration were dismissed, or the individual was found not guilty of all criminal charges relating to the incarceration.
- (3) The individual reported back to the employer within two work days of the individual's release from incarceration and offered services.
 - (4) The employer rejected the individual's offer of services.
- b. A disqualification under this subsection shall continue until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job miscon duct. Cosper v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 321 N.W.2d 6 (lowa 1982). The issue is not whether the employer made a correct decision in separating claimant, but whether the claimant is entitled to unemployment insurance benefits. Infante v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 364 N.W.2d 262 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). What constitutes misconduct justifying termination of an employee and what misconduct warrants denial of unemployment insurance benefits are two separate decisions. Pierce v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 425 N.W.2d 679 (Iowa Ct. App. 1988). Misconduct serious enough to warrant discharge is not necessarily serious enough to warrant a denial of job insurance benefits. Such misconduct must be "substantial." When based on carelessness, the carelessness must actually indicate a "wrongful intent" to be disqualifying in nature. Newman v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 351 N.W.2d 806 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984).

In this case, the claimant testified that he didn't attend work due to his arrest and that the charges related to his arrest are currently in litigation. Based upon the claimant's testimony, charges were filed and those charges have not been dismissed. In addition, he has not yet been found guilty or not guilty of the charges As such, claimant's absenteeism due to his incarceration is misconduct. As such, the separation is disqualifying.

DECISION:

The July 11, 2022 decision is affirmed. Claimant did not quit but was discharged from employment for disqualifying reasons. Benefits are withheld until such time as the claimant works in and has been paid wages equal to ten times his weekly benefit amount, provided he is otherwise eligible.
