Claimant: Appellant (2)

871 IAC 24.2(1)a & h(1) & (2) – Backdating

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Claimant filed a timely appeal from the June 4, 2008, reference 01, decision that denied the request to backdate the claim for benefits prior to June 1, 2008. After due notice was issued, a hearing was held by telephone conference call on June 30, 2008. Claimant participated.

ISSUE:

The issue is whether claimant can backdate the claim prior to June 1, 2008.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: The claimant filed a claim for benefits with an effective date of December 30, 2007. He received unemployment insurance benefits for a period of weeks ending April 12, 2008. He was laid off work again on May 25, 2008, and told by his employer to file a claim for benefits. The employer told the claimant that he needed only to make his regular weekly call into to the unemployment call center. When the claimant called in his weekly claim on June 1, he was told by the computer that he needed to contact his local office because there had been a gap of more than three weeks since he collected benefits. The claimant returned to work on June 2 and was not able to get time off to go to the local Iowa Workforce Development office until Tuesday June 3. The claimant did not understand that he was obligated to contact the local office during the first week of his unemployment because he already had a claim pending.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the claimant's request to backdate the claim is granted.

871 IAC 24.2(1)h(1), (2) and (3) provide:

Procedures for workers desiring to file a claim for benefits for unemployment insurance.

(1) Section 96.6 of the employment security law of Iowa states that claims for benefits shall be made in accordance with such rules as the department prescribes. The department of workforce development accordingly prescribes:

h. Effective starting date for the benefit year.

(1) Filing for benefits shall be effective as of Sunday of the current calendar week in which, subsequent to the individual's separation from work, an individual reports in person at a workforce development center and registers for work in accordance with paragraph "a" of this rule.

(2) The claim may be backdated prior to the first day of the calendar week in which the claimant does report and file a claim for the following reasons:

Backdated prior to the week in which the individual reported if the individual presents to the department sufficient grounds to justify or excuse the delay;

There is scheduled filing in the following week because of a mass layoff;

The failure of the department to recognize the expiration of the claimant's previous benefit year;

The individual is given incorrect advice by a workforce development employee;

The claimant filed an interstate claim against another state which has been determined as ineligible;

Failure on the part of the employer to comply with the provisions of the law or of these rules;

Coercion or intimidation exercised by the employer to prevent the prompt filing of such claim;

Failure of the department to discharge its responsibilities promptly in connection with such claim, the department shall extend the period during which such claim may be filed to a date which shall be not less than one week after the individual has received appropriate notice of potential rights to benefits, provided, that no such claim may be filed after the 13 weeks subsequent to the end of the benefit year during which the week of unemployment occurred. In the event continuous jurisdiction is exercised under the provisions of the law, the department may, in its discretion, extend the period during which claims, with respect to week of unemployment affected by such redetermination, may be filed.

(3) When the benefit year expires on any day but Saturday, the effective date of the new claim is the Sunday of the current week in which the claim is filed even though it may overlap into the old benefit year up to six days. However, backdating shall not be allowed at the change of the calendar quarter if the backdating would cause an overlap of the same quarter in two base periods. When the overlap situation occurs, the effective date of the new claim may be postdated up to six days. If the claimant has benefits remaining on the old claim, the claimant may be eligible for benefits for that period by extending the old benefit year up to six days.

The claimant was mistakenly told by his employer that all he needed to do was to file a regular weekly claim because he already had a claim pending. That was not correct information, since the claimant needed to contact the Iowa Workforce Development to reopen his claim. The claimant being given incorrect information by his employer regarding filing his claim is considered a good cause reason for having failed to file a claim during the first week of unemployment. Backdating is allowed. The claimant shall be eligible for benefits for the week ending May 31, 2008.

DECISION:

The June 4, 2008, reference 01, decision is reversed. The claimant's request to backdate the claim is allowed.
