APPEAL 22A-UI-18512-PT-T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

DON WYCKOFF HEATING, INC
Employer

OC: 10/02/22
Claimant: Appellant (4)

Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quitting
Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a – Discharge for Misconduct

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Claimant filed an appeal from a decision of a representative dated October 25, 2022, (reference 01) that held claimant ineligible for unemployment insurance benefits. After due notice, a hearing was scheduled for and held on November 21, 2022. Claimant participated personally. Employer participated by Owner Job Cooper. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUES:

The issue in this matter is whether claimant quit for good cause attributable to employer?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The administrative law judge, having heard the testimony and considered all of the evidence in the record, finds: Claimant last worked for employer on September 09, 2022. Employer discharged claimant on September 15, 2022, after claimant informed employer that he would be resigning effective October 15, 2022.

Claimant was employed as a full-time lead heating and cooling installer from May 19, 2014, until his employment with Don Wyckoff Heating, Inc. ended on September 15, 2022. Prior to claimant's separation from employment, claimant had been absent from work on personal leave from September 12, 2022, through September 14, 2022.

When claimant returned to work on September 15, 2022, claimant's boss called claimant into his office because he was concerned about claimant and wanted to make sure claimant was doing okay. During their conversation, claimant became upset with his boss and told him that he was officially submitting his thirty-day notice of resignation. Claimant's boss told claimant he accepted claimant's resignation effective that day and terminated claimant's employment effective immediately.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the claimant voluntarily left employment without good cause attributable to the employer but was discharged for no disqualifying reason prior to the intended resignation date.

Iowa Code section 96.5(1) provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

Iowa Code section 96.5(2)a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The disqualification shall continue until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(1)a provides:

Discharge for misconduct.

(1) Definition.

a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. On the other hand mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, failure in good performance as the result of inability or incapacity, inadvertencies or ordinary negligence in isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion are not to be deemed misconduct within the meaning of the statute.

This definition has been accepted by the Iowa Supreme Court as accurately reflecting the intent of the legislature. Huntoon v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 275 N.W.2d 445, 448 (Iowa 1979). Further, the employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job misconduct. Cosper v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982).

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.25(38) provides:

Voluntary quit without good cause. In general, a voluntary quit means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer from whom the employee has separated. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.5. However, the claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving Iowa Code section 96.5, subsection (1), paragraphs "a" through "i," and subsection 10. The following reasons for a voluntary quit shall be presumed to be without good cause attributable to the employer:

(38) Where the claimant gave the employer an advance notice of resignation which caused the employer to discharge the claimant prior to the proposed date of resignation, no disqualification shall be imposed from the last day of work until the proposed date of resignation; however, benefits will be denied effective the proposed date of resignation.

Claimant's decision to quit because he was upset with his boss was not a good cause reason attributable to the employer. However, because the discharge was in response to claimant's resignation notice, no misconduct is established. Since the employer terminated the employment relationship in advance of the resignation notice effective date, the claimant is entitled to benefits from the date of termination until the effective date of the proposed resignation.

DECISION:

The October 25, 2022, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is modified in favor of appellant. The claimant voluntarily left employment without good cause attributable to the employer, but was discharged prior to the resignation effective date. Benefits are allowed until October 15, 2022. Thereafter, benefits are withheld until such time as the claimant works in and has been paid wages equal to ten times his weekly benefit amount.
