ANTWON D GRAHAM
Claimant

APPEAL 23A-UI-10545-PT-T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

EXPRESS SERVICES INC
Employer

OC: 09/24/23
Claimant: Appellant (2)

Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quit
Iowa Code § 96.5(1)j – Voluntary Quit of Temporary Employment

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The claimant, Antwon D. Graham, filed an appeal from the November 3, 2023 (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision that denied benefits based on a determination that claimant failed to report to Express Services Inc. within three days of his assignment ending to request a new assignment. The parties were properly notified of the hearing. A telephonic hearing was held on Wednesday, November 29, 2023. Claimant participated personally. The employer, Express Services Inc., did not participate. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUE:

Did the claimant quit the temporary assignment by not reporting for additional work assignments within three business days of the end of the last assignment?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant began working for Express Services Inc. ("Employer") in August 2022. Most recently, he worked full-time hours as a forklift driver in an assignment at Control Inc. ("Client"). The client notified the employer on September 13, 2023, that it did not want claimant to return to work.

That same day, September 13, the employer called an informed claimant that his assignment had ended. Claimant told the employer he would like another job assignment and the employer told claimant to call back on September 18 to see if another forklift operator assignment was available. Claimant called the employer on September 18 and asked whether there were any assignments available, but the employer had no work available for claimant.

Claimant received the employer's policy requiring him to report back and request a new assignment within three working days of his assignment ending or he would be considered to have quit. Claimant spoke with the employer about new job assignments twice in the three working-day period after his assignment at Control Inc. ended.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes claimant separated with good cause attributable to the employer. Benefits are allowed, provided he is otherwise eligible.

Iowa Code § 96.5(1)j provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department. But the individual shall not be disqualified if the department finds that:

j. (1) The individual is a temporary employee of a temporary employment firm who notifies the temporary employment firm of completion of an employment assignment and who seeks reassignment. Failure of the individual to notify the temporary employment firm of completion of an employment assignment within three working days of the completion of each employment assignment under a contract of hire shall be deemed a voluntary quit unless the individual was not advised in writing of the duty to notify the temporary employment firm upon completion of an employment assignment or the individual had good cause for not contacting the temporary employment firm within three working days and notified the firm at the first reasonable opportunity thereafter.

(2) To show that the employee was advised in writing of the notification requirement of this paragraph, the temporary employment firm shall advise the temporary employee by requiring the temporary employee, at the time of employment with the temporary employment firm, to read and sign a document that provides a clear and concise explanation of the notification requirement and the consequences of a failure to notify. The document shall be separate from any contract of employment and a copy of the signed document shall be provided to the temporary employee.

(3) For the purposes of this paragraph:

(a) "Temporary employee" means an individual who is employed by a temporary employment firm to provide services to clients to supplement their workforce during absences, seasonal workloads, temporary skill or labor market shortages, and for special assignments and projects.

(b) "Temporary employment firm" means a person engaged in the business of employing temporary employees.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.26(15) provides:

Employee of temporary employment firm.

a. The individual is a temporary employee of a temporary employment firm who notifies the temporary employment firm within three days of completion of an employment assignment and seeks reassignment under the contract of hire. The employee must be advised by the employer of the notification requirement in writing and receive a copy.

b. The individual shall be eligible for benefits under this subrule if the individual has good cause for not contacting the employer within three days and did notify the employer at the first reasonable opportunity.

c. Good cause is a substantial and justifiable reason, excuse or cause such that a reasonable and prudent person, who desired to remain in the ranks of the employed, would find to be adequate justification for not notifying the employer. Good cause would include the employer's going out of business; blinding snow storm; telephone lines down; employer closed for vacation; hospitalization of the claimant; and other substantial reasons.

d. Notification may be accomplished by going to the employer's place of business, telephoning the employer, faxing the employer, or any other currently acceptable means of communications. Working days means the normal days in which the employer is open for business.

The purpose of the statute is to provide notice to the temporary agency employer that the claimant is available for and seeking work at the end of the temporary assignment. Here, claimant engaged in a conversation with the employer regarding a new assignment on the same day that the employer told claimant his assignment had ended. Moreover, claimant called the employer on September 18, 2023, which was the third working day after his assignment ended, and asked whether any new assignments were available. The evidence in the record shows claimant's end-of-employment is not disqualifying. Benefits are allowed.

DECISION:

The November 3, 2023 (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is reversed. Claimant's separation from the temporary employment agency was for good cause attributable to the employer. Benefits are allowed, provided claimant is otherwise eligible.
