ANTHONY T BOLSINGER
Claimant

APPEAL NO. 11A-UI-09690-S2T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

HILLCREST FAMILY SERVICES
Employer

OC: 05/29/11
Claimant: Respondent (1)

Section 96.5-2-a – Discharge for Misconduct

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Hillcrest Family Services (employer) appealed a representative's July 13, 2011 decision (reference 01) that concluded Anthony Bolsinger (claimant) was discharged and there was no evidence of willful or deliberate misconduct. After hearing notices were mailed to the parties' last-known addresses of record, a telephone hearing was scheduled for August 16, 2011. The claimant participated personally. The employer participated by Shannon Hagensten, employment coordinator. The employer offered and Exhibit One was received into evidence.

ISSUE:

The issue is whether the claimant was separated from employment for any disqualifying reason.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The administrative law judge, having heard the testimony and having considered all of the evidence in the record, finds that: The claimant was hired on February 16, 2004, as a full-time teacher. The employer felt the claimant had behavior management issues and gave the claimant warnings on June 1, and September 22, 2009; November 18, 2010; and January 21, 2011.

On April 28, 2011, the employer sent the claimant a letter indicating the claimant would not be receiving a 2011-2012 school year contract because of a current performance evaluation rating. The claimant signed for receipt of the evaluation on April 29, 2011. The claimant's last day of work was June 3, 2011. He filed for unemployment insurance benefits with an effective date of May 29, 2011.

The claimant grieved the separation. On July 28, 2011, the claimant was rehired by the employer.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the claimant was not discharged for misconduct.

Iowa Code section 96.5-2-a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The individual shall be disqualified for benefits until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

871 IAC 24.32(1)a provides:

Discharge for misconduct.

(1) Definition.

a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. On the other hand mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, failure in good performance as the result of inability or incapacity, inadvertencies or ordinary negligence in isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion are not to be deemed misconduct within the meaning of the statute.

871 IAC 24.32(8) provides:

(8) Past acts of misconduct. While past acts and warnings can be used to determine the magnitude of a current act of misconduct, a discharge for misconduct cannot be based on such past act or acts. The termination of employment must be based on a current act.

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job misconduct. Cosper v. Iowa Department of Job Service, 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982). The employer must establish not only misconduct, but that there was a final incident of misconduct that precipitated the discharge. The employer was not able to provide any evidence of a final incident of misconduct. The employer has failed to provide any evidence of willful and deliberate misconduct that would be a final incident leading to the discharge. The claimant was discharged, but there was no misconduct.

DECISION:

The representative's July 13, 2011 decision (reference 01) is affirmed. The employer has not met its burden of proof to establish job-related misconduct. Benefits are allowed.
