APPEAL 24A-UI-05071-S2-T
ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

OC: 08/20/23
Claimant: Appellant (1)

Iowa Code § 96.4(3) – Ability to and Availability for Work
Iowa Code § 96.6(2) – Timeliness of Appeal

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On May 24, 2024, the claimant filed an appeal from the November 2, 2023, (reference 03) unemployment insurance decision that denied benefits based on a determination that claimant indicated he was not ready, willing, or able to work for the week ending October 4, 2023. The parties were properly notified about the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on June 13, 2024, and was consolidated with the hearing for appeals 24A-UI-05072-S2-T and 24A-UI-05073-S2-T. Claimant Michael Boots participated. Department's Exhibits D-1 and D-2 were received. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUES:

Is the claimant's appeal timely?
Is the claimant able to and available for work?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant filed an initial claim for benefits effective August 20, 2023. During the week ending October 14, 2023, claimant's wife was in the hospital while she underwent surgery. Claimant cared for his wife during that week so he was unable to conduct any reemployment activities. He spoke to an Iowa Workforce Development (IWD) representative at the local office when he filed his weekly claim that week, because he was unsure of how to complete the claim since he was helping his wife and not available for work. The representative told claimant to mark that he was not ready, willing or able to work during the week.

A disqualification decision was mailed to claimant's last known address of record on November 2, 2023. The first sentence of the decision states, "If this decision denies benefits and is not reversed on appeal, it may result in an overpayment which you will be required to repay." The decision contained a warning that an appeal must be postmarked or received by the Appeals Bureau by November 12, 2023. The appeal was not filed until May 24, 2024, which is after the date noticed on the disqualification decision. Claimant did receive the decision and went to the local office to seek clarification on the decision. Claimant spoke to a representative who told him he had taken care of everything. Claimant took this to mean he did not need to file an appeal. Claimant reopened his claim effective May 19, 2024, and learned the disqualification decision remained in effect. He promptly filed this appeal.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The first issue is whether claimant's appeal is timely. For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes that the appeal is timely.

Iowa Code section 96.6(2) provides:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant. The representative shall promptly examine the claim and any protest, take the initiative to ascertain relevant information concerning the claim, and, on the basis of the facts found by the representative, shall determine whether or not the claim is valid, the week with respect to which benefits shall commence, the weekly benefit amount payable and its maximum duration, and whether any disqualification shall be imposed. The claimant has the burden of proving that the claimant meets the basic eligibility conditions of section 96.4. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to section 96.5, except as provided by this subsection. The claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence showing that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving section 96.5, subsection 10, and has the burden of proving that a voluntary quit pursuant to section 96.5, subsection 1, was for good cause attributable to the employer and that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving section 96.5, subsection 1, paragraphs "a" through "h". Unless the claimant or other interested party, after notification or within ten calendar days after notification was mailed to the claimant's last known address, files an appeal from the decision, the decision is final and benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance with the decision. If an administrative law judge affirms a decision of the representative, or the appeal board affirms a decision of the administrative law judge allowing benefits, the benefits shall be paid regardless of any appeal which is thereafter taken, but if the decision is finally reversed, no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid and this relief from charges shall apply to both contributory and reimbursable employers, notwithstanding section 96.8, subsection 5.

The ten calendar days for appeal begins running on the mailing date. The "decision date" found in the upper right-hand portion of the representative's decision, unless otherwise corrected immediately below that entry, is presumptive evidence of the date of mailing. Gaskins v. Unempl. Comp. Bd. of Rev., 429 A.2d 138 (Pa. Comm. 1981); Johnson v. Bd. of Adjustment, 239 N.W.2d 873, 92 A.L.R.3d 304 (Iowa 1976).

The record in this case shows that more than ten calendar days elapsed between the mailing date and the date this appeal was filed. The Iowa Supreme Court has declared that there is a mandatory duty to file appeals from representatives' decisions within the time allotted by statute, and that the administrative law judge has no authority to change the decision of a representative if a timely appeal is not filed. Franklin v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 277 N.W.2d 877, 881 (Iowa 1979). Compliance with appeal notice provisions is jurisdictional unless the facts of a case show that the notice was invalid. Beardslee v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 276 N.W.2d 373, 377 (Iowa 1979); see also In re Appeal of Elliott, 319 N.W.2d 244, 247 (Iowa 1982). The question in this case thus becomes whether the appellant was deprived of a reasonable opportunity to assert an appeal in a timely fashion. Hendren v. Iowa Emp't Sec. Comm'n, 217 N.W.2d 255 (Iowa 1974); Smith v. Iowa Emp't Sec. Comm'n, 212 N.W.2d 471, 472 (Iowa 1973). The record shows that the appellant did not have a reasonable opportunity to file a timely appeal.

In this case, claimant spoke to an IWD representative who told him he was taking care of the issues claimant was having. Claimant believed this meant he did not need to file an appeal of the decision when he received it. As soon as claimant learned the decision remained in effect when he reopened his claim, he promptly filed this appeal. Due to the misinformation, the appeal shall be accepted as timely.

The next issue is whether claimant is able to work and available for work during the week ending October 14, 2023. For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes he is not.

Iowa Code section 96.4(3) provides:

An unemployed individual shall be eligible to receive benefits with respect to any week only if the department finds that:

3. The individual is able to work, is available for work, and is earnestly and actively seeking work. This subsection is waived if the individual is deemed partially unemployed, while employed at the individual's regular job, as defined in section 96.19, subsection 38, paragraph "b", unnumbered paragraph (1), or temporarily unemployed as defined in section 96.19, subsection 38, paragraph "c". The work search requirements of this subsection and the disqualification requirement for failure to apply for, or to accept suitable work of section 96.5, subsection 3 are waived if the individual is not disqualified for benefits under section 96.5, subsection 1, paragraph "h".

Here, claimant was caring for his wife after surgery during the one-week period ending October 14, 2023. He was not earnestly and actively seeking work, nor was he available for work. Therefore, claimant is not eligible for regular, state-funded unemployment insurance benefits during the week ending October 14, 2023.

DECISION:

The appeal is timely. The November 2, 2023, (reference 03) unemployment insurance decision is AFFIRMED. The claimant is not available for work during the week ending October 14, 2023, and unemployment insurance benefits are denied during that week.
