APPEAL 22A-UI-17894-DB-T
ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

OC: 09/11/22
Claimant: Appellant (5)

Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a – Discharge for Misconduct

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The claimant/appellant filed an appeal from the October 6, 2022 (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision that denied unemployment insurance benefits to the claimant based upon a separation from work. The parties were properly notified of the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on November 2, 2022. The claimant participated personally. The employer participated through witnesses Jeff Weber and Melanie Zimmerman. Employer's Exhibit 1 was admitted. The administrative law judge took administrative notice of the claimant's unemployment insurance benefits records.

ISSUE:

Was the claimant's separation from employment disqualifying?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant began working for this employer on December 20, 2017. He worked full-time as a cook at the employer's restaurant. On September 11, 2022, the claimant was in the pantry and line cook area when he believed that two other coworkers were talking and laughing about him. He screamed at the coworkers "you need to shut the fuck up". See Exhibit 1. When one coworker stated that she was not laughing at him, he stated "you know what the fuck you're doing and you need to shut the fuck up". See Exhibit 1.

The employer has a written policy against workplace violence. The policy provides that an employee may be discharged for workplace violence. The claimant had been verbally warned in the past for throwing dishes and having angry outbursts at work. Claimant was discharged from employment on September 14, 2022 for the September 11, 2022 incident.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes as follows:

Iowa Code section 96.5(2)a & d provide in pertinent part:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The disqualification shall continue until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

d. For the purposes of this subsection, "misconduct" means a deliberate act or omission by an employee that constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of the employee's contract of employment. Misconduct is limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of the standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligation to the employer. Misconduct by an individual includes but is not limited to all of the following: ...

(2) Knowing violation of a reasonable and uniformly enforced rule of an employer.

(6) Conduct that substantially and unjustifiably endangers the personal safety of coworkers or the general public.

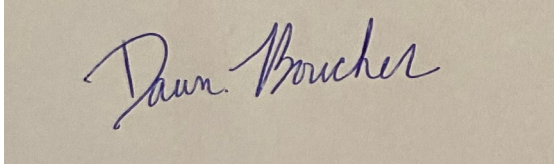

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(4) provides:

(4) Report required. The claimant's statement and employer's statement must give detailed facts as to the specific reason for the claimant's discharge. Allegations of misconduct or dishonesty without additional evidence shall not be sufficient to result in disqualification. If the employer is unwilling to furnish available evidence to corroborate the allegation, misconduct cannot be established. In cases where a suspension or disciplinary layoff exists, the claimant is considered as discharged, and the issue of misconduct shall be resolved.

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job misconduct. Cosper v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982). Employers generally have an interest in protecting the safety of all its employees and invitees. Claimant's actions in screaming at coworkers using profane language on two separate occasions constitutes a verbal act of aggression by the claimant toward his coworkers. Claimant was not acting in self-defense. Claimant violated specific work rules and acted against commonly known acceptable standards of work behavior. Claimant's behavior was contrary to the best interests of employer and the safety of its employees and invitees and is disqualifying misconduct even without prior warning. Benefits are denied as the separation from employment was disqualifying.

DECISION:

The October 6, 2022 (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is modified with no change in effect. Claimant was discharged from employment on September 14, 2022, not September 13, 2022, for engaging in substantial job-related misconduct. Benefits are denied until claimant has worked in and been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the weekly benefit amount after the September 14, 2022 separation date, and provided he is otherwise eligible.
