ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

CLEARVIEW RECOVERY INC
Employer

OC: 07/13/08 R: 02
Claimant: Appellant (2)

Section 96.5-2-a – Discharge for Misconduct

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Kirsten Jaennette (claimant) appealed a representative's October 1, 2008 decision (reference 02) that concluded she was not eligible to receive unemployment insurance benefits because she was discharged from work with Clearview Recovery (employer) for conduct not in the best interest of the employer. After hearing notices were mailed to the parties' last-known addresses of record, a telephone hearing was scheduled for October 29, 2008. The claimant participated personally. The employer participated by Marv Fangman, Executive Director.

ISSUE:

The issue is whether the claimant was discharged for misconduct.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The administrative law judge, having heard the testimony and considered all of the evidence in the record, finds that: The claimant was hired on July 17, 2007, as a part-time technician. The employer terminated the claimant on or about October 22, 2007. The employer terminated the claimant it said the claimant did not divulge that she had been employed by the local drug task force, she purchased a cellular telephone from a client and she had co-workers from her bondsman's job in the facility.

The claimant was never employed by the local drug task force. She did not purchase a telephone from a client. One time a person from the bond office got something out of her car in the parking lot.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow the administrative law judge concludes the claimant was discharged for misconduct.

Iowa Code section 96.5-2-a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The individual shall be disqualified for benefits until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

871 IAC 24.32(1)a provides:

Discharge for misconduct.

(1) Definition.

a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. On the other hand mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, failure in good performance as the result of inability or incapacity, inadvertencies or ordinary negligence in isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion are not to be deemed misconduct within the meaning of the statute.

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job misconduct. Cosper v. Iowa Department of Job Service, 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982). Misconduct serious enough to warrant discharge is not necessarily serious enough to warrant a denial of job insurance benefits. Such misconduct must be "substantial." Newman v. Iowa Department of Job Service, 351 N.W.2d 806 (Iowa App. 1984). The employer did not provide sufficient evidence of job-related misconduct at the hearing. The employer did not meet its burden of proof to show misconduct. Benefits are allowed.

DECISION:

The representative's October 1, 2008 decision (reference 02) is reversed. The employer has not met its proof to establish job-related misconduct. Benefits are allowed.
