Iowa Code § 96.6(2) – Timeliness of Protest
Iowa Code § 96.7(2)a(6) – Appeal from the Statement of Charges

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On May 20, 2024, Schuster Co. (employer) filed an appeal from the statement of charges dated May 9, 2024, reference 03, for the first quarter of 2024. A hearing was held on June 17, 2024, pursuant to due notice. Willie Hill (claimant) did not respond to the hearing notice and did not participate. The employer participated through Director of Human Resources Mark P. McCarty. Exhibits 1, 2, D1, D2, and D3 were received.

ISSUES:

Was the employer's protest timely?
Was the employer's appeal from the statement of charges timely?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds:

The notice of claim was sent electronically to an email address affiliated with the employer on September 28, 2023. The employer did not receive the notice of claim because the employee designated as the recipient of these notices left the employer. (Exhibit D1)

The employer received a statement of charges dated May 9, 2024, for the first quarter of 2024. The statement included a charge for benefits paid to the claimant beginning September 24, 2024. (Exhibit D2)

On May 21, 2024, Director of Human Resources Mark P. McCarty appealed the statement of charges dated May 9, 2024, for the first quarter of 2024. (Exhibit D3)

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The administrative law judge concludes the employer did not protest the notice of claim due to circumstances within its control. As a result, the employer's appeal to the statement of charges is not appropriate.

Iowa Code section 96.6(2) provides, in pertinent part:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant.

Iowa Code section 96.7(2)a(6) provides:

2. Contribution rates based on benefit experience.

a. (6) Within forty days after the close of each calendar quarter, the department shall notify each employer of the amount of benefits charged to the employer's account during that quarter. The notification shall show the name of each individual to whom benefits were paid, the individual's social security number, and the amount of benefits paid to the individual. An employer which has not been notified as provided in section 96.6, subsection 2, of the allowance of benefits to an individual, may within thirty days after the date of mailing of the notification appeal to the department for a hearing to determine the eligibility of the individual to receive benefits. The appeal shall be referred to an administrative law judge for hearing and the employer and the individual shall receive notice of the time and place of the hearing. [Emphasis added.]

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-26.4 provides, in relevant part:

2. An appeal from an initial decision concerning the allowance or denial of benefits shall be filed, by mail, facsimile, or e-mail, online, or in person, not later than ten calendar days, as determined by the postmark or the date stamp after the decision was mailed to the party at its last-known address and shall state the following:

- a. The name, address and social security number of the claimant;
- b. A reference to the decision from which appeal is taken; and,
- c. The grounds upon which the appeal is based.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of subrule 26.4(2), a contributory employer, which has not previously received a notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits, may appeal an individual's eligibility to receive benefits within 30 days from the mailing date of the quarterly statement of benefit charges.

4. Also notwithstanding the provisions of subrule 26.4(2), a reimbursable employer, which has not previously received a notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits, may appeal an individual's eligibility to receive benefits within 15 days of the mailing date of the quarterly billing of benefit charges.

In addressing an issue of timeliness of an appeal under that portion of this Code section, the Iowa Supreme Court held that this statute prescribing the time for notice of appeal clearly limits the time to do so, and that compliance with the appeal notice provision is mandatory and jurisdictional. Beardslee v. IDJS, 276 N.W.2d 373 (Iowa 1979). The administrative law judge considers the reasoning and holding of that court in that decision to be controlling on this portion of that same Iowa Code section which deals with a time limit in which to file a protest after notification of the filing of the claim has been mailed.

The employer did not respond to the notice of claim. As a result, it has the burden of showing that its failure to do so was due to circumstances beyond its control.

Generally, extending the protest period is reasonable when circumstances beyond the control of party would deny them due process such as non-receipt or a delay in receipt of mail due circumstance beyond the party's control. See Beardslee v. IDJS, 276 N.W.2d 373 (Iowa 1979) and Franklin v. IDJS, 277 N.W.2d 877 (Iowa 1979).

The employer did not timely protest the notice of claim sent to it electronically because it had not updated its recipient for this type of notice.

DECISION:

The May 9, 2024, reference 03, statement of charges for the first quarter of 2024 is affirmed. The employer did not timely protest the notice of claim due to circumstances within its control. As a result, the appeal to the statement of charges is not appropriate.
