Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quitting

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Claimant filed an appeal from the February 9, 2023 (reference 05) unemployment insurance decision that denied benefits. The parties were properly notified of the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on March 10, 2023. Claimant participated. Employer participated through Human Resources Director Caylie Cherry. No exhibits were admitted.

ISSUE:

Whether claimant's separation was a voluntary quit without good cause attributable to employer.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds:

Claimant was employed as a full-time Motor Coach Operator from November 28, 2022 until she resigned her employment with Burlington Stage Lines on January 19, 2023. Claimant's schedule varied. Claimant's direct supervisor was Caylie Cherry, Human Resources Director.

While claimant was being trained to drive the route between Des Moines, Iowa and Chicago, Illinois, the trainer directed claimant to exceed the posted speed limit. Claimant told Cherry what the trainer said about speeding. Cherry told claimant that employer does not condone speeding but to "go with the flow of traffic." Cherry did not speak with or correct the trainer. The trainer continued telling claimant to pick up speed when she had her cruise control set at the posted speed limit. Trainer also told claimant to "hammer it" when driving on the interstate and that he sped on that route all the time and had never received a speeding ticket.

Claimant resigned effective January 19, 2023, in part, because of the pressure she felt to speed and the conflicting direction she received from Cherry and the trainer. Employer had continuing work available for claimant. Claimant's job was not in jeopardy.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes:

Iowa Code § 96.5(1) provides: An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, if the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

A voluntary quitting means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer and requires an intention to terminate the employment. Wills v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 447 N.W. 2d 137, 138 (Iowa 1989). A voluntary leaving of employment requires an intention to terminate the employment relationship accompanied by an overt act of carrying out that intention. Local Lodge #1426 v. Wilson Trailer, 289 N.W.2d 608, 612 (Iowa 1980); Peck v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 492 N.W.2d 438 (Iowa Ct. App. 1992).

Claimant has the burden of proving that the voluntary leaving was for good cause attributable to the employer. Iowa Code § 96.6(2). "Good cause" for leaving employment must be that which is reasonable to the average person, not the overly sensitive individual or the claimant in particular. Uniweld Products v. Indus. Relations Comm'n, 277 So.2d 827 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. 1973). The standard of what a reasonable person would have believed under the circumstances is applied in determining whether a claimant left work voluntarily with good cause attributable to the employer. O'Brien v. Employment Appeal Bd., 494 N.W.2d 660 (Iowa 1993).

Where a claimant gives numerous reasons for leaving employment the agency is required to consider all stated reasons which might combine to give the claimant good cause to quit in determining any of those reasons constitute good cause attributable to the employer. Taylor v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 362 N.W.2d 534 (Iowa 1985) (emphasis added).

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.26(4) provides:

Voluntary quit with good cause attributable to the employer and separations not considered to be voluntary quits. The following are reasons for a claimant leaving employment with good cause attributable to the employer:

- (4) The claimant left due to intolerable or detrimental working conditions.

It is the duty of the administrative law judge, as the trier of fact, to determine the credibility of witnesses, weigh the evidence and decide the facts in issue. Arndt v. City of LeClaire, 728 N.W.2d 389, 394-395 (Iowa 2007). The administrative law judge may believe all, part or none of any witness's testimony. State v. Holtz, 548 N.W.2d 162, 163 (Iowa App. 1996). In assessing the credibility of witnesses, the administrative law judge should consider the evidence using his or her own observations, common sense and experience. Id. In determining the facts, and deciding what testimony to believe, the fact finder may consider the following factors: whether the testimony is reasonable and consistent with other evidence you believe; whether a witness has made inconsistent statements; the witness's appearance, conduct, age, intelligence, memory and knowledge of the facts; and the witness's interest in the trial, their motive, candor, bias and prejudice. Id.

The findings of fact show how I have resolved the disputed factual issues in this case. I assessed the credibility of the witnesses who testified during the hearing, considering the applicable factors listed above, and using my own common sense and experience. I find claimant's testimony regarding the trainer's comments and feedback from Cherry to be credible.

Claimant voluntarily quit her employment because she was being told to speed by her trainer. When she brought the issue to Cherry's attention, Cherry told claimant to "go with the flow of traffic" but that employer doesn't condone speeding. Cherry's comment regarding the flow of traffic was unnecessary if employer's policy is to not exceed the speed limit. Cherry did not address the issue with the trainer, who continued to direct claimant to exceed the posted speed limit.

Claimant felt pressure to violate the law and take action that would endanger herself, her passengers and other vehicles on the road. This constitutes intolerable working conditions. Claimant voluntarily quit for good cause attributable to employer. Benefits are allowed provided claimant is otherwise eligible.

DECISION:

The February 9, 2023 (reference 05) unemployment insurance decision is REVERSED. Claimant voluntarily quit with good cause attributable to employer. Benefits are allowed provided claimant is otherwise eligible.
