Claimant: Appellant (1)

Iowa Code § 96.6(2) – Timely Appeal
Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quit
Iowa Code § 96.5 (2) a – Discharge for Misconduct

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On February 18, 2022, Joseph Souvenance (claimant/appellant) filed an appeal from the January 31, 2022, reference 01, unemployment insurance decision that concluded he was not eligible for unemployment insurance benefits. Notices of hearing were mailed to the parties' last known addresses of record for a telephone hearing scheduled for April 4, 2022, at 9:00 a.m. A review of the Appeals Bureau's conference call system indicates that the appellant failed to call the toll-free number listed on the hearing notice at the time of the hearing and no hearing was held. See 22A-UI-04983-JD-T.

The claimant appealed this decision to the Employment Appeal Board (EAB) on April 15, 2022. On June 17, 2022, the EAB remanded the appeal for rehearing. A telephone hearing was held at on August 4, 2022, pursuant to due notice. The claimant, Joseph Souvenance, participated and testified through CTS Language Link Haitian Creole Interpreter #4392. The employer, Tyson Fresh Meats, Inc., participated through Lydia Awinja, Human Resources. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUES:

Whether the claimant's appeal was timely filed.
Whether the claimant quit the employment without good cause attributable to the employer.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant began working for employer on February 5, 2021. Claimant last worked as a full-time laborer. Claimant was separated from employment on January 8, 2022, when stopped going to work due to the nature and pace of the work. The claimant failed to notify his employer regarding his issues with his job duties and did not inform his employer that he was quitting. The employer ultimately separated the claimant after he failed to return to work or notify them of his plans.

The claimant's lack of proficiency in English was a likely barrier to his filing a timely appeal in the matter. The appeal deadline was February 10, 2022, and the claimant filed his appeals on February 18, 2022. The claimant filed timely appeals to three other matters after he was able to secure assistance regarding the appeals process. The claimant's appeal shall be considered timely.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The first issue is whether the claimant's appeal shall be considered timely. The administrative law judge finds that it shall.

Iowa Code § 96.6(2) provides:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant. The representative shall promptly examine the claim and any protest, take the initiative to ascertain relevant information concerning the claim, and, on the basis of the facts found by the representative, shall determine whether or not the claim is valid, the week with respect to which benefits shall commence, the weekly benefit amount payable and its maximum duration, and whether any disqualification shall be imposed. The claimant has the burden of proving that the claimant meets the basic eligibility conditions of § 96.4. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to § 96.5, except as provided by this subsection. The claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence showing that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving § 96.5, subsection 10, and has the burden of proving that a voluntary quit pursuant to § 96.5, subsection 1, was for good cause attributable to the employer and that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving § 96.5, subsection 1, paragraphs "a" through "h". Unless the claimant or other interested party, after notification or within ten calendar days after notification was mailed to the claimant's last known address, files an appeal from the decision, the decision is final and benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance with the decision. If an administrative law judge affirms a decision of the representative, or the appeal board affirms a decision of the administrative law judge allowing benefits, the benefits shall be paid regardless of any appeal which is thereafter taken, but if the decision is finally reversed, no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid and this relief from charges shall apply to both contributory and reimbursable employers, notwithstanding § 96.8, subsection 5.

The ten calendar days for appeal begins running on the mailing date. The "decision date" found in the upper right-hand portion of the representative's decision, unless otherwise corrected immediately below that entry, is presumptive evidence of the date of mailing. Gaskins v. Unempl. Comp. Bd. of Rev., 429 A.2d 138 (Pa. Comm. 1981); Johnson v. Bd. of Adjustment, 239 N.W.2d 873, 92 A.L.R.3d 304 (Iowa 1976).

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.35(2) provides:

Date of submission and extension of time for payments and notices.

(2) The submission of any payment, appeal, application, request, notice, objection, petition, report or other information or document not within the specified statutory or regulatory period shall be considered timely if it is established to the satisfaction of the division that the delay in submission was due to division error or misinformation or to delay or other action of the United States postal service.

a. For submission that is not within the statutory or regulatory period to be considered timely, the interested party must submit a written explanation setting forth the circumstances of the delay.

b. The division shall designate personnel who are to decide whether an extension of time shall be granted.

c. No submission shall be considered timely if the delay in filing was unreasonable, as determined by the department after considering the circumstances in the case.

d. If submission is not considered timely, although the interested party contends that the delay was due to division error or misinformation or delay or other action of the United States postal service, the division shall issue an appealable decision to the interested party.

In this case, the claimant's lack of proficiency in English created a language barrier that played a key role in his ability to follow through with the appeals process. The claimant's late filing of his appeal by less than a week was due to his inability to fully understand the timeliness requirements. The claimant's other three appeals that were heard in conjunction with this appeal were all timely filed once the claimant was made aware of the timeliness requirements.

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes claimant's separation from the employment was without good cause attributable to the employer.

Iowa Code section 96.5(1) provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.25(21) provides:

Voluntary quit without good cause. In general, a voluntary quit means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer from whom the employee has separated. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.5. However, the claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving Iowa Code section 96.5, subsection (1), paragraphs "a" through "i," and subsection 10. The following reasons for a voluntary quit shall be presumed to be without good cause attributable to the employer:

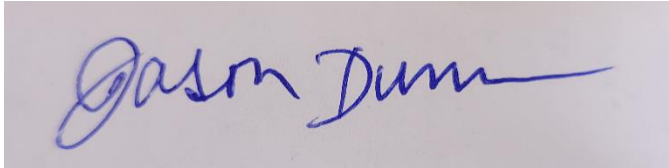

(21) The claimant left because of dissatisfaction with the work environment.

Claimant was struggling with his job duties and instead of requesting other duties from his employer he made the decision to stop showing up for his shift. His failure to notify his employer regarding his concerns and failure to notify his employer of his quitting were not attributable to his employer. Benefits are denied.

DECISION:

The January 31, 2022, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is affirmed. Claimant's appeal is timely filed and he voluntarily left the employment without good cause attributable to the employer. Benefits are withheld until such time as he has worked in and been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times his weekly benefit amount, provided he is otherwise eligible.
