APPEAL 22A-UI-17897-DS-T
ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

OC: 09/11/22
Claimant: Appellant (1)

Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a – Discharge for Misconduct
Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32 – Discharge for Misconduct

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On October 12, 2022, the claimant filed a timely appeal from the unemployment insurance decision dated October 6, 2022, (Reference 02), that denied benefits. Notice of hearing was mailed to the parties' last known addresses of record for a telephone hearing to be held at 1:00 p.m. on November 15, 2022. The claimant participated personally. The employer participated through Abby Beier, Human Resources Manager and Jeff White, Assistant Director of Corporate Security. Employer's Exhibits 1-3 were admitted to the record. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUES:

Did the employer discharge the claimant for job related misconduct?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds:

The claimant worked as a Security Officer for Hy-Vee, Inc., from July 11, 2022, until September 7, 2022, when he was discharged by the employer. He reported to Kent Sawles. His job duties included patrolling the employer's training facility overnight and watching security camera monitors. His last day of work was September 6, 2022. On September 2, 2022, the claimant was assigned to work a 10:00 p.m. – 6:00 a.m. shift. He was entitled to one, thirty-minute break period at a time of his choice during the shift. He reported to work on time, and took his break at 10:25 p.m. The claimant testified that he did not feel well that night. Over the course of his eight-hour shift, the claimant then spent one hour and twelve minutes in the break room, and two periods of twenty-seven minutes and thirty-eight minutes in the "mother's room" attached to the break room. The claimant was clocked-in during all of these breaks and was not working in any manner. The claimant made no attempt to advise his supervisor or the corporate office that he was taking additional breaks, and did not clock-out at any time. The claimant testified that he took short, additional minutes of break in order to catch his breath from feeling ill. The employer observed the claimant sitting in the break area for these extended, repeated periods of time without performing any of his job duties. The situation came to the employer's attention when it was discovered that the claimant had not registered at the checkpoints on his patrols that night, and the patrols had not been completed. The employer discharged the claimant for theft of time on September 7, 2022.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the claimant was discharged from employment due to job-related misconduct. Benefits are denied.

Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The individual shall be disqualified for benefits until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(1)a provides:

Discharge for misconduct.

(1) Definition.

a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. On the other hand mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, failure in good performance as the result of inability or incapacity, inadvertencies or ordinary negligence in isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion are not to be deemed misconduct within the meaning of the statute.

This definition has been accepted by the Iowa Supreme Court as accurately reflecting the intent of the legislature. Huntoon v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 275 N.W.2d 445, 448 (Iowa 1979).

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job misconduct. Cosperv. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982). The issue is not whether the employer made a correct decision in separating claimant, but whether the claimant is entitled to unemployment insurance benefits. Infante v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 364 N.W.2d 262 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). What constitutes misconduct justifying termination of an employee and what misconduct warrants denial of unemployment insurance benefits are two separate decisions. Pierce v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 425 N.W.2d 679 (Iowa Ct. App. 1988).

Misconduct serious enough to warrant discharge is not necessarily serious enough to warrant a denial of job insurance benefits. Such misconduct must be "substantial." Newman v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 351 N.W.2d 806 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). When based on carelessness, the carelessness must actually indicate a “wrongful intent” to be disqualifying in nature. Id. Negligence does not constitute misconduct unless recurrent in nature; a single act is not disqualifying unless indicative of a deliberate disregard of the employer’s interests. Henry v. Iowa Dep’t of Job Serv., 391 N.W.2d 731 (Iowa Ct. App. 1986).

It is the duty of the administrative law judge, as the trier of fact, to determine the credibility of witnesses, weigh the evidence and decide the facts in issue. Arndt v. City of LeClaire, 728 N.W.2d 389, 394-395 (Iowa 2007).

The administrative law judge may believe all, part or none of any witness’s testimony. State v. Holtz, 548 N.W.2d 162, 163 (Iowa App. 1996). In assessing the credibility of witnesses, the administrative law judge should consider the evidence using his or her own observations, common sense and experience. Id. In determining the facts, and deciding what testimony to believe, the fact finder may consider the following factors: whether the testimony is reasonable and consistent with other evidence you believe; whether a witness has made inconsistent statements; the witness's appearance, conduct, age, intelligence, memory and knowledge of the facts; and the witness's interest in the trial, their motive, candor, bias and prejudice. Id.

The claimant spent nearly half of his shift the night of September 2-3, 2022, on break and performing no tasks for his employer. The claimant knew he was responsible for the safety of his employer’s facility during his shift, and he ignored that duty by failing to complete his patrols while he was relaxing in the break room and the mother’s room. His actions were against the interest of his employer and could have had serious consequences had a security situation arisen. The misconduct is disqualifying, and benefits are denied.

DECISION:

The October 6, 2022, (Reference 02) unemployment insurance decision is AFFIRMED. The claimant was discharged for disqualifying misconduct. Benefits are withheld until the claimant has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the claimant is otherwise eligible.
