Iowa Code § 96.4(3) – Ability to and Availability for Work
Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.22(2) – Able & Available - Benefits Eligibility Conditions

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The claimant, Marissa Martin, filed an appeal from the August 11, 2022, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision that denied benefits based upon the conclusion she requested and was granted a leave of absence. The parties were properly notified of the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on September 19, 2022. The claimant participated. The employer participated through Human Resources Manager Jennifer Lund. The employer was represented by Sedgwick Hearing Representative Mary Kating. This hearing was conducted jointly with 22A-UI-16401-SN-T.

ISSUE:

Whether the claimant was able and available for work July 25, 2021?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds:

The claimant was employed full-time as an assistant manager from February 5, 2022, until this employment ended on October 14, 2022. The claimant's rate of pay was $15.00 this role. The claimant worked a variable schedule beginning either at 8:00 a.m. or 11:00 a.m. and ending at either 4:30 p.m. or 7:30 p.m.

On July 23, 2022, the claimant returned from vacation. The claimant was experiencing symptoms of Covid19 such as fever, loss of taste and smell, and fatigue. The claimant's fever was well above 100 degrees at times.

On July 25, 2022, the claimant tested positive for Covid19. The claimant informed the employer of her positive diagnosis. The claimant's medical provider instructed her to quarantine for five days. Work would have been available if the claimant had not been sick or subject to restrictions by her medical provider.

On August 3, 2022, the claimant returned to work her regular schedule.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes that the claimant was not able to work and available for work for the week ending July 25, 2021.

Iowa Code section 96.4(3)a provides:

An unemployed individual shall be eligible to receive benefits with respect to any week only if the department finds that:

3. a. The individual is able to work, is available for work, and is earnestly and actively seeking work. This subsection is waived if the individual is deemed partially unemployed, while employed at the individual's regular job, as defined in section 96.1A, subsection 37, paragraph "b", subparagraph (1), or temporarily unemployed as defined in section 96.1A, subsection 37, paragraph "c". The work search requirements of this subsection and the disqualification requirement for failure to apply for, or to accept suitable work of section 96.5, subsection 3 are waived if the individual is not disqualified for benefits under section 96.5, subsection 1, paragraph "h".

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.22(2) provides:

Benefits eligibility conditions. For an individual to be eligible to receive benefits the department must find that the individual is able to work, available for work, and earnestly and actively seeking work. The individual bears the burden of establishing that the individual is able to work, available for work, and earnestly and actively seeking work.

(2) Available for work. The availability requirement is satisfied when an individual is willing, able, and ready to accept suitable work which the individual does not have good cause to refuse, that is, the individual is genuinely attached to the labor market. Since, under unemployment insurance laws, it is the availability of an individual that is required to be tested, the labor market must be described in terms of the individual. A labor market for an individual means a market for the type of service which the individual offers in the geographical area in which the individual offers the service. Market in that sense does not mean that job vacancies must exist; the purpose of unemployment insurance is to compensate for lack of job vacancies. It means only that the type of services which an individual is offering is generally performed in the geographical area in which the individual is offering the services.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.22(1) provides:

Benefits eligibility conditions. For an individual to be eligible to receive benefits the department must find that the individual is able to work, available for work, and earnestly and actively seeking work. The individual bears the burden of establishing that the individual is able to work, available for work, and earnestly and actively seeking work.

(1) Able to work. An individual must be physically and mentally able to work in some gainful employment, not necessarily in the individual's customary occupation, but which is engaged in by others as a means of livelihood.

a. Illness, injury or pregnancy. Each case is decided upon an individual basis, recognizing that various work opportunities present different physical requirements. A statement from a medical practitioner is considered prima facie evidence of the physical ability of the individual to perform the work required. A pregnant individual must meet the same criteria for determining ableness as do all other individuals.

b. Interpretation of ability to work. The law provides that an individual must be able to work to be eligible for benefits. This means that the individual must be physically able to work, not necessarily in the individual's customary occupation, but able to work in some reasonably suitable, comparable, gainful, full-time endeavor, other than self-employment, which is generally available in the labor market in which the individual resides.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.23(1) and (35) provide:

Availability disqualifications. The following are reasons for a claimant being disqualified for being unavailable for work.

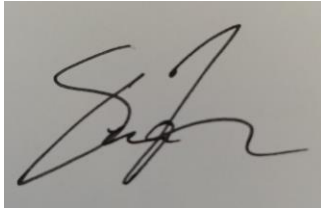

(1) An individual who is ill and presently not able to perform work due to illness.

(35) Where the claimant is not able to work and is under the care of a medical practitioner and has not been released as being able to work.

In order to be eligible for benefits, an individual claiming benefits must be able to work, available for work, and actively and earnestly seeking work. In this case, the claimant was ill and restricted from her doctor during the week ending July 25, 2021. These circumstances make her ineligible for benefits under Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.23(1) and (35). Accordingly, benefits are denied.

DECISION:

The August 11, 2022, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is AFFIRMED. The claimant was not able to work and available for work effective July 25, 2021. Benefits are denied.
