Iowa Code § 96.4(3) – Ability to and Availability for Work

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The claimant filed an appeal from the April 20, 2022, (reference 07) unemployment insurance decision that denied benefits based upon the determination that claimant was in school and not available for work the benefit week ending January 22, 2022. The parties were properly notified of the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on June 8, 2022, and was consolidated with the hearing for appeal number 22A-UI-10223-AR-T. The claimant, Camrun S. Nelson, participated personally. The employer, Baker Group, did not participate. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUE:

Was the claimant able to and available for work for the benefit week ending January 22, 2022?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant initially became employed with the employer as a helper on August 6, 2018. He is currently an apprentice who works full time, and his work schedule is from Monday through Friday. He reports to Brant Sharp. Claimant is a member of IBEW Local 347.

With some regularity, claimant attends apprenticeship class. This class is required by the employer. Claimant does not choose when the class takes place. On the weeks when the class occurs, he attends class Monday through Friday, for a total of 40 hours.

Claimant filed an original claim for benefits with an effective date of September 26, 2021. He filed a weekly claim for benefits the week of January 16, 2022. That week, claimant was attending an apprenticeship class. He attended the class the whole work week. He was not paid by the employer for this time. There was no other reason that claimant was not working during the week of January 16, 2022.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes claimant was not able to and available for work for the benefit week ending January 22, 2022, because claimant was on a leave of absence.

Iowa Code section 96.4(3) provides:

An unemployed individual shall be eligible to receive benefits with respect to any week only if the department finds that:

3. The individual is able to work, is available for work, and is earnestly and actively seeking work. This subsection is waived if the individual is deemed partially unemployed, while employed at the individual's regular job, as defined in section 96.1A, subsection 37, paragraph "b", subparagraph (1), or temporarily unemployed as defined in section 96.1A, subsection 37, paragraph "c". The work search requirements of this subsection and the disqualification requirement for failure to apply for, or to accept suitable work of section 96.5, subsection 3 are waived if the individual is not disqualified for benefits under section 96.5, subsection 1, paragraph "h".

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871—24.22(2) provides:

Benefit eligibility conditions. For an individual to be eligible to receive benefits the department must find that the individual is able to work, available for work, and earnestly and actively seeking work. The individual bears the burden of establishing that the individual is able to work, available for work, and earnestly and actively seeking work.

(2) Available for work. The availability requirement is satisfied when an individual is willing, able, and ready to accept suitable work which the individual does not have good cause to refuse, that is, the individual is genuinely attached to the labor market. Since, under unemployment insurance laws, it is the availability of an individual that is required to be tested, the labor market must be described in terms of the individual. A labor market for an individual means a market for the type of service which the individual offers in the geographical area in which the individual offers the service. Market in that sense does not mean that job vacancies must exist; the purpose of unemployment insurance is to compensate for lack of job vacancies. It means only that the type of services which an individual is offering is generally performed in the geographical area in which the individual is offering the services.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871—24.23(10) provides:

Availability disqualifications. The following are reasons for a claimant being disqualified for being unavailable for work.

(10) The claimant requested and was granted a leave of absence, such period is deemed to be a period of voluntary unemployment and shall be considered ineligible for benefits for such period.

An individual claiming benefits has the burden of proof that he or she is able to work, available for work, and earnestly and actively seeking work. Iowa Admin. Code r. 871—24.22. The Employment Appeal Board has held that employees absent from work to participate in apprentice training are considered on a leave of absence; accordingly, they are not available for work under the meaning of the law. The administrative law judge concludes that claimant was on a leave of absence during the benefit week ending January 22, 2022, and that he was not able to and available for work. Accordingly, claimant is not eligible for unemployment insurance benefits for that week.

DECISION:

The April 20, 2022, (reference 07) unemployment insurance decision is affirmed. Claimant was not able to and available for work the week ending January 22, 2022. Benefits are denied for that week.
