(Decision Dated & Mailed)

Section 96.5-1 – Voluntary Leaving
871 IAC 24.26(22) – Voluntary Leaving
Section 96.6-2 – Timeliness of Appeal

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Employer filed a timely appeal from the December 23, 2003, reference 01, decision that allowed benefits. After due notice was issued, a hearing was held on January 27, 2004. Claimant did participate. Employer did participate through Karen and Jerry Armstrong.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: A qualification decision was mailed to the employer's address of record on December 23, 2003. Employer did not receive the decision prior to the appeal deadline because the business was closed for the season and employer was out of town. The appeal was sent within three days after receipt of that decision.

Claimant was employed as a part-time seasonal golf course worker from April 13, 2003 through October 28, 2003 when he was laid off for the winter season. He completed the term of hire and no further work was available.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The first issue to be considered in this appeal is whether the employer's appeal is timely. The administrative law judge determines it is.

Iowa Code Section 96.6-2 provides:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant. The representative shall promptly examine the claim and any protest, take the initiative to ascertain relevant information concerning the claim, and, on the basis of the facts found by the representative, shall determine whether or not the claim is valid, the week with respect to which benefits shall commence, the weekly benefit amount payable and its maximum duration, and whether any disqualification shall be imposed. The claimant has the burden of proving that the claimant meets the basic eligibility conditions of section 96.4. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to section 96.5, except as provided by this subsection. The claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence showing that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving section 96.5, subsection 10, and has the burden of proving that a voluntary quit pursuant to section 96.5, subsection 1, was for good cause attributable to the employer and that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving section 96.5, subsection 1, paragraphs "a" through "h". Unless the claimant or other interested party, after notification or within ten calendar days after notification was mailed to the claimant's last known address, files an appeal from the decision, the decision is final and benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance with the decision. If an administrative law judge affirms a decision of the representative, or the appeal board affirms a decision of the administrative law judge allowing benefits, the benefits shall be paid regardless of any appeal which is thereafter taken, but if the decision is finally reversed, no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid and this relief from charges shall apply to both contributory and reimbursable employers, notwithstanding section 96.8, subsection 5.

The employer did not have an opportunity to appeal the fact-finder's decision because the decision was not received in a timely fashion due to the seasonal closure of the business and principals being out of town. Without timely notice of a disqualification, no meaningful opportunity for appeal exists. See Smith v. Iowa Employment Security Commission, 212 N.W.2d 471, 472 (Iowa 1973). The employer filed the appeal within three days of receipt. Therefore, the appeal shall be accepted as timely.

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the claimant's separation was not disqualifying.

Iowa Code Section 96.5-1 provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

871 IAC 24.26(22) provides:

Voluntary quit with good cause attributable to the employer and separations not considered to be voluntary quits. The following are reasons for a claimant leaving employment with good cause attributable to the employer:

(22) The claimant was hired for a specific period of time and completed the contract of hire by working until this specific period of time had lapsed. However, this subrule shall not apply to substitute school employees who are subject to the provisions of Iowa Code section 96.4(5) which denies benefits that are based on service in an educational institution when the individual declines or refuses to accept a new contract or reasonable assurance of continued employment status. Under this circumstance, the substitute school employees shall be considered to have voluntarily quit employment.

Inasmuch as the claimant completed the term of hire as agreed with the employer, no disqualification is imposed.

DECISION:

The December 23, 2003, reference 01, decision is affirmed. Employer's appeal is timely. Claimant's separation from employment with Sugar Creek Golf LLC was related to a seasonal layoff, which is not a disqualifying event. Benefits are allowed, provided claimant is otherwise eligible.
