Section 96.5-1 – Voluntary Quit

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The claimant appealed an unemployment insurance decision dated September 3, 2004, reference 01, that concluded the claimant had voluntarily quit employment without good cause. A telephone hearing was held on October 6, 2004. The claimant participated in the hearing. Tom Berrigan participated in the hearing on behalf of the employer.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The claimant worked full time for the employer as a production worker from January 6, 2003, to August 12, 2004. The claimant voluntarily quit employment to relocate with her husband to the state of California. Her husband had accepted a job there with better pay and benefits than his former job.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The issue in this case is whether the claimant voluntarily quit employment without good cause attributable to the employer.

Iowa Code section 96.5-1 provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

871 IAC 24.25(2) provides:

Voluntary quit without good cause. In general, a voluntary quit means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer from whom the employee has separated. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to lowa Code section 96.5. However, the claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving lowa Code section 96.5, subsection (1), paragraphs "a" through "i," and subsection 10. The following reasons for a voluntary quit shall be presumed to be without good cause attributable to the employer:

(2) The claimant moved to a different locality.

The claimant's relocation with her husband is understandable, but this reason for quitting employment does not meet the definition of good cause attributable to the employer found in the unemployment insurance law.

DECISION:

The unemployment insurance decision dated September 3, 2004, reference 01, is affirmed. The claimant is disqualified from receiving unemployment insurance benefits until she has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times her weekly benefit amount, provided she is otherwise eligible.
