VALERIE A DEATHERAGE
Claimant

CASEY'S MARKETING COMPANY
Employer

APPEAL 23A-UI-08531-AR-T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE DECISION

OC: 05/08/22
Claimant: Respondent (1R)

Iowa Code § 96.6(2) – Timeliness of Protest
Iowa Code § 96.7(2)a(6) – Appeal from the Statement of Charges
Iowa Admin. Code r. 871—23.43(9)(a) and (b) – Combined Wage Claim

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On September 7, 2023, Casey's Marketing Company (employer) filed an appeal from the statement of charges dated August 9, 2023, (reference 09), for the second quarter of 2023. A hearing was held on September 25, 2023, pursuant to due notice. Valerie A. Deatherage (claimant) did not participate. The employer participated through Operations Manager Jennifer Juarez. No exhibits were offered or admitted. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUES:

Was the employer's protest timely?
Was the employer's appeal from the statement of charges timely?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant began working for this employer on July 7, 2021, and separated from employment on May 4, 2022. Claimant filed a claim for benefits effective May 8, 2022, in the state of California. A notice of wage transfer was mailed to the employer's correct address of record on May 24, 2022. The employer did not receive the notice of wage transfer. Thereafter, charges attributable to the claimant's claim for benefits appeared on the statements of charges mailed February 9, 2023, for the fourth quarter of 2022, and May 9, 2023, for the first quarter of 2023. The statements of charges were also mailed to the correct address of record for the employer. The employer did not receive either statement of charges. The employer states that it frequently has difficulty receiving mail from Iowa Workforce Development. It has spoken with the local postmaster regarding this issue, but it has received no resolution.

The first notice the employer received that indicated charges attributable to claimant's claim had been made to the account was the statement of charges mailed August 9, 2023, for the second quarter of 2023. The employer submitted its appeal of that statement of charges on September 7, 2023.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the employer did file a timely appeal to the statement of charges.

Iowa Code section 96.6(2) provides, in pertinent part:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant.

Iowa Code section 96.7(2)a(6) provides:

2. Contribution rates based on benefit experience.

a. (6) Within forty days after the close of each calendar quarter, the department shall notify each employer of the amount of benefits charged to the employer's account during that quarter. The notification shall show the name of each individual to whom benefits were paid, the individual's social security number, and the amount of benefits paid to the individual. An employer which has not been notified as provided in section 96.6, subsection 2, of the allowance of benefits to an individual, may within thirty days after the date of mailing of the notification appeal to the department for a hearing to determine the eligibility of the individual to receive benefits. The appeal shall be referred to an administrative law judge for hearing and the employer and the individual shall receive notice of the time and place of the hearing.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871—26.4 provides, in relevant part:

2. An appeal from an initial decision concerning the allowance or denial of benefits shall be filed, by mail, facsimile, or e-mail, online, or in person, not later than ten calendar days, as determined by the postmark or the date stamp after the decision was mailed to the party at its last-known address and shall state the following:

- a. The name, address and social security number of the claimant;
- b. A reference to the decision from which appeal is taken; and,
- c. The grounds upon which the appeal is based.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of subrule 26.4(2), a contributory employer, which has not previously received a notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits, may appeal an individual's eligibility to receive benefits within 30 days from the mailing date of the quarterly statement of benefit charges.

4. Also notwithstanding the provisions of subrule 26.4(2), a reimbursable employer, which has not previously received a notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits, may appeal an individual's eligibility to receive benefits within 15 days of the mailing date of the quarterly billing of benefit charges.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871—23.43(9)(a) and (b) provide:

Combined wage claim transfer of wages.

a. Iowa employer whose wage credits are transferred from Iowa to an out-of-state paying state under the interstate reciprocal benefit plan as provided in Iowa Code section 96.20 will be liable for charges for benefits paid by the out-of-state paying state. No reimbursement so payable shall be charged against a contributory employer's account for the purpose of Iowa Code section 96.7, unless wages so transferred are sufficient to establish a valid Iowa claim, and such charges shall not exceed the amount that would have been charged on the basis of a valid Iowa claim. However, an employer who is required by law or by election to reimburse the trust fund will be liable for charges against the employer's account for benefits paid by another state as required in Iowa Code section 96.8(5), regardless of whether the Iowa wages so transferred are sufficient or insufficient to establish a valid Iowa claim. Benefit payments shall be made in accordance with the claimant's eligibility under the paying state's law. Charges shall be assessed to the employer which are based on benefit payments made by the paying state.

b. The Iowa employer whose wage credits have been transferred and who has potential liability will be notified that the wages have been transferred, the state to which they have been transferred, and the mailing address to which a protest of potential charges may be mailed. This protest must be postmarked or received by the department within ten days of the date on the notice to be considered as a timely protest of charges. If the protest from either the reimbursable or contributory employer justifies relief of charges, charges shall go to the balancing account.

Employer did not have an opportunity to protest the notice of wage transfer by the due date because the employer did not receive the notice. Without timely notice of a decision, not meaningful opportunity for appeal exists. See Smith v. Iowa Emp't Security Comm'n, 212 N.W.2d 471, 472 (Iowa 1973). Furthermore, the employer did not have the opportunity to appeal the fourth-quarter 2022, or first-quarter 2023 statements of charges within the 30 days allowed because they, also, were not received. The employer filed an appeal of the statement of charges mailed August 9, 2023, within 30 days, making the appeal timely.

Claimant's qualification and eligibility shall be determined by the state of California, where the claim was filed.

DECISION:

The conditions for appealing the statement of charges have been met. The August 9, 2023, (reference 09) statement of charges for the second quarter of 2023 is AFFIRMED, pending the outcome of the issues on remand. Since this is a combined wage claim, claimant's qualification and eligibility for benefits shall be determined by the state of California.

REMAND:

The issue of whether the employer's account shall be charged for claimant's benefits received as a result of the combined wage claim is remanded to the Benefits Bureau of Iowa Workforce Development for a fact-finding interview and unemployment insurance decision.
