APPEAL NO. 23A-UI-02515-B2T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

INTERNATIONAL INGREDIENT CORP

Employer

OC: 02/05/23

Claimant: Respondent (2R)

Iowa Code § 96.6-2 – Timeliness of Protest

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The employer appealed the representative's decision dated February 28, 2023, (reference 03) that concluded it failed to file a timely protest regarding the claimant's separation of employment on February 14, 2022, and no disqualification of unemployment insurance benefits was imposed. A hearing was scheduled and held on March 27, 2023, pursuant to due notice. Employer participated by Tasha Chorba. Claimant did not participate.

ISSUES:

Whether the employer's protest is timely?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The administrative law judge, having considered all of the evidence in the record, finds that: The claimant's notice of claim was mailed to the employer's address of record on February 13, 2023, and received by the employer within ten days. The notice of claim contains a warning that any protest must be postmarked or returned not later than ten days from the initial mailing date. The employer did not effect a protest until February 24, 2023, which is after the ten-day period had expired.

The address listed for Employer on the IWD network information lists, 150 Larkin Williams Ind., as the street address for the employer. This is the address that appears throughout mailings sent to employer by IWD. Employer stated at the hearing that their actual address is, 150 Larkin Williams Ind. Ct. Employer further explained that there is another Larkin Williams Street down the road from employer's address. This has historically lead to mail confusion.

The employer stated they received a copy of the Notice of Claim on February 24, 2023 and filled out and faxed back in their answer on the same date.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

Iowa Code section 96.6(2) provides, in pertinent part:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant.

A portion of the Iowa Code section dealing with timeliness of an appeal from a representative's decision states that such an appeal must be filed within ten days after notification of that decision was mailed. In addressing an issue of timeliness of an appeal under that portion of this Code section, the Iowa Supreme Court held that this statute prescribing the time for notice of appeal clearly limits the time to do so, and that compliance with the appeal notice provision is mandatory and jurisdictional. Beardslee v. IDJS, 276 N.W.2d 373 (Iowa 1979).

The administrative law judge considers the reasoning and holding of that court in that decision to be controlling on this portion of that same Iowa Code section which deals with a time limit in which to file a protest after notification of the filing of the claim has been mailed. The employer has shown a good cause reason for the delay in filing a protest. Therefore, the administrative law judge retains jurisdiction to entertain a protest regarding the separation from employment.

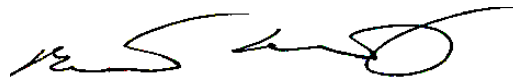

The administrative law judge concludes the employer failed to effect a timely protest within the time period prescribed by the Iowa Employment Security Law, but that the delay was potentially due to any Agency error or misinformation or delay or other action of the United States Postal Service pursuant to Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.35(2). The administrative law judge further concludes that the employer is deemed to have effected a timely protest pursuant to Iowa Code § 96.6-2, and the administrative law judge retains jurisdiction to make a determination with respect to the nature of the claimant's termination of employment. See Beardslee v. IDJS, 276 N.W.2d 373 (Iowa 1979); Franklin v. IDJS, 277 N.W.2d 877 (Iowa 1979) and Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company v. Employment Appeal Board, 465 N.W.2d 674 (Iowa App. 1990).

This matter will be remanded to the fact finder for a decision on the separation issue.

DECISION:

The decision of the representative dated February 28, 2023, (reference 03) is reversed. The employer is deemed to have filed a timely protest.

This matter is remanded to the fact finder for a decision on the separation issue.
