IOWA DEPARTMENT OF INSPECTIONS AND APPEALS
ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS DIVISION, UI APPEALS BUREAU

TRAVIS J RICKLEFS Claimant SKY AUTO MALL LLC Employer	APPEAL 23A-UI-01315-PT-T ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE DECISION OC: 01/01/23 Claimant: Appellant (2)

Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a – Discharge

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Claimant filed an appeal from a decision of a representative dated January 30, 2023, (reference 03) that held claimant ineligible for unemployment insurance benefits. After due notice, a telephonic hearing was scheduled for and held on February 22, 2023. The claimant participated personally. Employer failed to respond to the hearing notice and did not participate. Claimant's Exhibit A was admitted into evidence. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUES:

Whether employer discharged claimant for reasons related to job misconduct sufficient to warrant a denial of benefits?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

As claimant was the only witness, the administrative law judge makes the following findings of fact based on claimant's testimony and evidence: Claimant last worked for employer on December 30, 2022. Employer purportedly discharged claimant on December 30, 2022, for lack of work performance.

Claimant was employed as a full-time sales manager/finance director from November 2021, until his employment with Sky Auto Mall LLC ended on December 30, 2022. In his position, claimant prepared finance paperwork for customers, arraigned bank financing, performed title work, and assisted customers in finding vehicles. Claimant regularly worked late and volunteered to cover shifts when employees were absent.

Several months prior to claimant's termination, a second sales manager relocated to Iowa from one of employer's other business locations. After the second manager joined, employer began losing money because employer's income was not sufficient to support both claimant's and the new sales manager's salaries.

On December 30, 2022, employer gave claimant a termination notice informing claimant that his employment was being terminated effective immediately for "lack of performance." Employer explained to claimant that employer could not afford to pay both managers' salaries and, for that reason, he was being let go. Prior to claimant's termination, claimant had never received any warnings or workplace discipline, was never issued any performance goals, nor was ever told his work performance was failing to meet expectations. Claimant felt he was performing his job to the best of his ability.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the claimant was discharged for no disqualifying reason. Benefits are allowed.

Iowa Code section 96.5(2)a provides:

> An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:
>
> 2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:
>
> a. The disqualification shall continue until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(1)(a) provides:

> a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. On the other hand mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, failure in good performance as the result of inability or incapacity, inadvertencies or ordinary negligence in isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion are not to be deemed misconduct within the meaning of the statute.

This definition of misconduct has been accepted by the Iowa Supreme Court as accurately reflecting the intent of the legislature. Reigelsberger v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 500 N.W.2d 64, 66 (Iowa 1993); accord Lee v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 616 N.W.2d 661, 665 (Iowa 2000).

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(4) provides:

> (4) Report required. The claimant's statement and employer's statement must give detailed facts as to the specific reason for the claimant's discharge. Allegations of misconduct or dishonesty without additional evidence shall not be sufficient to result in disqualification. If the employer is unwilling to furnish available evidence to corroborate the allegation, misconduct cannot be established. In cases where a suspension or disciplinary layoff exists, the > claimant is considered as discharged, and the issue of misconduct shall be resolved.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(8) provides:

> (8) Past acts of misconduct. While past acts and warnings can be used to determine the magnitude of a current act of misconduct, a discharge for misconduct cannot be based on such past act or acts. The termination of employment must be based on a current act.

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job-related misconduct. Cosper v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982). The issue is not whether the employer made a correct decision in separating claimant, but whether the claimant is entitled to unemployment insurance benefits. Infante v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 364 N.W.2d 262 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). What constitutes misconduct justifying termination of an employee and what misconduct warrants denial of unemployment insurance benefits are two separate decisions. Pierce v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 425 N.W.2d 679 (Iowa Ct. App. 1988). Misconduct serious enough to warrant discharge is not necessarily serious enough to warrant a denial of job insurance benefits. Such misconduct must be "substantial." Newman v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 351 N.W.2d 806 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). The gravity of the incident, number of policy violations and prior warnings are factors considered when analyzing misconduct. The lack of a current warning may detract from a finding of an intentional policy violation.

When based on carelessness, the carelessness must actually indicate a "wrongful intent" to be disqualifying in nature. Id. Negligence does not constitute misconduct unless recurrent in nature; a single act is not disqualifying unless indicative of a deliberate disregard of the employer's interests. Henry v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 391 N.W.2d 731 (Iowa Ct. App. 1986). Poor work performance is not misconduct in the absence of evidence of intent. Miller v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 423 N.W.2d 211 (Iowa Ct. App. 1988). Generally, continued refusal to follow reasonable instructions constitutes misconduct. Gilliam v. Atlantic Bottling Co., 453 N.W.2d 230 (Iowa Ct. App. 1990); however, "Balky and argumentative" conduct is not necessarily disqualifying. City of Des Moines v. Picray, (No. 85-919, Iowa Ct. App. Filed June 25, 1986).

Claimant was discharged based on a bare, unsupported allegation of unsatisfactory work performance, which claimant credibly denied was the case. The employer has provided no evidence that claimant's work performance failed to meet expectations. Allegations of misconduct or dishonesty without additional evidence shall not be sufficient to result in disqualification. Absent any evidence corroborating employer's allegation, the administrative law judge concludes the employer has not met the burden of proof to establish claimant was discharged for disqualifying, job-related misconduct. As such, benefits are allowed provided claimant is otherwise eligible.

DECISION:

The decision of the representative dated January 30, 2023, (reference 03) is reversed. Claimant is eligible to receive unemployment insurance benefits, provided claimant meets all other eligibility requirements.
