(Administrative Law Judge)

(Decision Dated & Mailed)

Section 96.5-1 – Voluntary Quit
Section 96.4-3 – Able and Available for Work

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

Amy Vanderheiden (claimant) appealed an unemployment insurance decision dated February 10, 2004, reference 01, which held that she was not eligible for unemployment insurance benefits because she voluntarily quit her employment with Seneca Foundry, Inc. (employer) without good cause attributable to the employer. After hearing notices were mailed to the parties' last-known addresses of record, a telephone hearing was held on March 3, 2004. The claimant participated in the hearing. The employer participated through Dale Hansen, Linda Davidson and Attorney Jill Jensen-Welch.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The administrative law judge, having heard the testimony and considered all of the evidence in the record, finds that: The claimant was hired as a full-time employee on September 23, 1999 and was working as a grinder through her last day of work on August 5, 2003. On that date, she went on maternity leave, which expired on October 23, 2003. Subsequently, the claimant used leave approved under the Family Medical Leave Act, which expired on November 18, 2003. The claimant was aware of when her leave expired and the employer made frequent attempts to keep in contact with the claimant. The claimant had been working third shift but could not return to that shift due to childcare problems. The employer tried to accommodate the claimant and offered her second shift on December 8, 2003. It was the employer's understanding that the claimant had accepted that shift and was scheduled to start on December 15, 2003. The employer never heard from the claimant after that date. The claimant did not and still does not have childcare. The employer sent a letter to the claimant on December 23, 2003 advising her that employment was terminated.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The issue is whether the reasons for the claimant's separation from employment qualify her to receive unemployment insurance benefits. The claimant is not qualified to receive unemployment insurance benefits if she voluntarily quit without good cause attributable to the employer. Iowa Code Sections 96.5-1.

Iowa Code Section 96.4-3 provides:

An unemployed individual shall be eligible to receive benefits with respect to any week only if the department finds that:

3. The individual is able to work, is available for work, and is earnestly and actively seeking work. This subsection is waived if the individual is deemed partially unemployed, while employed at the individual's regular job, as defined in section 96.19, subsection 38, paragraph "b", unnumbered paragraph 1, or temporarily unemployed as defined in section 96.19, subsection 38, paragraph "c". The work search requirements of this subsection and the disqualification requirement for failure to apply for, or to accept suitable work of section 96.5, subsection 3 are waived if the individual is not disqualified for benefits under section 96.5, subsection 1, paragraph "h".

871 IAC 24.22(2)j(1)(2)(3) provides:

Benefit eligibility conditions. For an individual to be eligible to receive benefits the department must find that the individual is able to work, available for work, and earnestly and actively seeking work. The individual bears the burden of establishing that the individual is able to work, available for work, and earnestly and actively seeking work.

j. Leave of absence. A leave of absence negotiated with the consent of both parties, employer and employee, is deemed a period of voluntary unemployment for the employee-individual, and the individual is considered ineligible for benefits for the period.

(1) If at the end of a period or term of negotiated leave of absence the employer fails to reemploy the employee-individual, the individual is considered laid off and eligible for benefits.

(2) If the employee-individual fails to return at the end of the leave of absence and subsequently becomes unemployed the individual is considered as having voluntarily quit and therefore is ineligible for benefits.

(3) The period or term of a leave of absence may be extended, but only if there is evidence that both parties have voluntarily agreed.

871 IAC 24.25(17) provides:

Voluntary quit without good cause. In general, a voluntary quit means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer from whom the employee has separated. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.5. However, the claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving Iowa Code section 96.5, subsection (1), paragraphs "a" through "i," and subsection 10. The following reasons for a voluntary quit shall be presumed to be without good cause attributable to the employer:

(17) The claimant left because of lack of child care.

A voluntary leaving of employment requires an intention to terminate the employment relationship accompanied by an overt act of carrying out that intention. Local Lodge #1426 v. Wilson Trailer, 289 N.W.2d 608, 612 (Iowa 1980). The claimant demonstrated her intent to quit and she acted to carry it out when she failed to notify the employer or return to work after her leave of absence expired. The claimant did not return to work because she had no childcare. The claimant left her employment without good cause attributable to the employer and benefits are denied.

DECISION:

The unemployment insurance decision dated February 10, 2004, reference 01, is affirmed. The claimant voluntarily left work without good cause attributable to the employer. Benefits are withheld until she has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times her weekly benefit amount provided she is otherwise eligible.
