APPEAL 23A-UI-08883-SN-T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE DECISION

OC: 08/13/23
Claimant: Respondent (2)

Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a – Discharge for Misconduct
Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(1)a – Discharge for Misconduct
Iowa Code § 96.3(7) – Recovery of Benefit Overpayment
Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.10 – Recovery of Benefit Overpayment

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The employer, Wal-Mart Inc., filed an appeal from the September 6, 2023, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision that granted benefits based upon the conclusion the claimant had been discharged, but misconduct had not been shown. The parties were properly notified of the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on October 3, 2023. The claimant did not participate. The employer participated through Unemployment Insurance Representative Asia Quinn and Store Manager Daniel Northup. Exhibits 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 were received into the record.

ISSUES:

Was the claimant discharged for disqualifying job-related misconduct?

Whether the claimant has been overpaid benefits? Whether the claimant is excused from repayment of benefits due to the employer's non-participation?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds:

The claimant worked as a full-time digital personal shopper from October 3, 2022, until she separated from employment on August 18, 2023, when she was terminated. The claimant does not need to operate a car or heavy machinery in her role.

The employer has a drug and alcohol policy. The drug and alcohol policy strictly prohibits the use of "drugs that are illegal under federal or state law, including such activities that are legal only under state law and/or use of medical marijuana under state programs." This passage does not limit the prohibition of illegal drug use to the employer's premises. It further states that if an associate has been arrested or convicted under any criminal drug statute, the associate must notify a salaried member of management within three calendar days after the arrest or conviction. It states that an associate who engages in any prohibited activity under the policy will be terminated. (Exhibit 1) The policy was accessible to the claimant through the use of the employer's intranet.

On June 8, 2023, another associate informed the employer's management team that the claimant had been arrested for a drug charge on June 6, 2023, arising out of an offense that occurred on April 1, 2023. The claimant was interviewed. After she confirmed she had been arrested, the claimant was placed on an unpaid suspension pending the determination by the court of the charges.

On August 17, 2023, the claimant pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana. It was her first offense. As part of the plea deal, the claimant received deferred judgment. In Iowa, a deferred judgment allows the accused an expungement of the conviction, if they abide by the terms of their probation. A felony tax stamp charge was dismissed as part of the plea deal.

On August 18, 2023, the claimant informed the employer of the terms of the plea deal. After receiving this information and consulting with the employer's management team, Mr. Northup terminated the claimant because she admitted to a drug conviction.

The following section of the findings of fact display the findings necessary to resolve the overpayment issue:

The claimant has not received benefits after her separation from employment.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The administrative law judge concludes the claimant was discharged for misconduct. Benefits are denied. The overpayment issue need not be analyzed because the claimant has not received benefits after the separation.

The administrative law judge notes as an initial matter that this case is one of termination, rather than a quit due to incarceration under Iowa Code § 96.5(11). Iowa Code § 96.5(11) only applies when the claimant's incarceration is the factor causing the claimant's separation. In this case, the employer terminated the claimant despite the fact she did not have to serve a sentence. As a result, the administrative law judge analyzes this case as one of termination.

Iowa Code section 96.5(2)a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

a. The individual shall be disqualified for benefits until the individual has worked in and has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.32(1)a provides:

Discharge for misconduct.

(1) Definition.

a. "Misconduct" is defined as a deliberate act or omission by a worker which constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of such worker's contract of employment. Misconduct as the term is used in the disqualification provision as being limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. On the other hand mere inefficiency, unsatisfactory conduct, failure in good performance as the result of inability or incapacity, inadvertencies or ordinary negligence in isolated instances, or good faith errors in judgment or discretion are not to be deemed misconduct within the meaning of the statute.

This definition has been accepted by the Iowa Supreme Court as accurately reflecting the intent of the legislature. Huntoon v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 275 N.W.2d 445, 448 (Iowa 1979).

Iowa Code section 96.5(2)b, c and d provide:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits, regardless of the source of the individual's wage credits:

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the department finds that the individual has been discharged for misconduct in connection with the individual's employment:

b. Provided further, if gross misconduct is established, the department shall cancel the individual's wage credits earned, prior to the date of discharge, from all employers.

c. Gross misconduct is deemed to have occurred after a claimant loses employment as a result of an act constituting an indictable offense in connection with the claimant's employment, provided the claimant is duly convicted thereof or has signed a statement admitting the commission of such an act. Determinations regarding a benefit claim may be redetermined within five years from the effective date of the claim. Any benefits paid to a claimant prior to a determination that the claimant has lost employment as a result of such act shall not be considered to have been accepted by the claimant in good faith.

d. For the purposes of this subsection, "misconduct" means a deliberate act or omission by an employee that constitutes a material breach of the duties and obligations arising out of the employee's contract of employment. Misconduct is limited to conduct evincing such willful or wanton disregard of an employer's interest as is found in deliberate violation or disregard of standards of behavior which the employer has the right to expect of employees, or in carelessness or negligence of such degree of recurrence as to manifest equal culpability, wrongful intent or evil design, or to show an intentional and substantial disregard of the employer's interests or of the employee's duties and obligations to the employer. Misconduct by an individual includes but is not limited to all of the following:

- (1) Material falsification of the individual's employment application.
- (2) Knowing violation of a reasonable and uniformly enforced rule of an employer.
- (3) Intentional damage of an employer's property.
- (4) Consumption of alcohol, illegal or nonprescribed prescription drugs, or an impairing substance in a manner not directed by the manufacturer, or a combination of such substances, on the employer's premises in violation of the employer's employment policies.
- (5) Reporting to work under the influence of alcohol, illegal or nonprescribed prescription drugs, or an impairing substance in an off-label manner, or a combination of such substances, on the employer's premises in violation of the employer's employment policies, unless the individual is compelled to work by the employer outside of scheduled or on-call working hours.
- (6) Conduct that substantially and unjustifiably endangers the personal safety of coworkers or the general public.
- (7) Incarceration for an act for which one could reasonably expect to be incarcerated that result in missing work.
- (8) Incarceration as a result of a misdemeanor or felony conviction by a court of competent jurisdiction.
- (9) Excessive unexcused tardiness or absenteeism.
- (10) Falsification of any work-related report, task, or job that could expose the employer or coworkers to legal liability or sanction for violation of health or safety laws.
- (11) Failure to maintain any licenses, registration, or certification that is reasonably required by the employer or by law, or that is a functional requirement to perform the individual's regular job duties, unless the failure is not within the control of the individual.
- (12) Conduct that is libelous or slanderous toward an employer or an employee of the employer if such conduct is not protected under state or federal law.
- (13) Theft of an employer or coworker's funds or property.
- (14) Intentional misrepresentation of time worked or work carried out that results in the individual receiving unearned wages or unearned benefits.

The employer has the burden of proof in establishing disqualifying job misconduct. Cosper v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 321 N.W.2d 6 (Iowa 1982). The issue is not whether the employer made a correct decision in separating claimant, but whether the claimant is entitled to unemployment insurance benefits. Infante v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 364 N.W.2d 262 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). The Iowa Court of Appeals found substantial evidence of misconduct in testimony that the claimant worked slower than he was capable of working and would temporarily and briefly improve following oral reprimands. Sellers v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 531 N.W.2d 645 (Iowa Ct. App. 1995). Generally, continued refusal to follow reasonable instructions constitutes misconduct. Gilliam v. Atlantic Bottling Co., 453 N.W.2d 230 (Iowa Ct. App. 1990). Misconduct must be "substantial" to warrant a denial of job insurance benefits. Newman v. Iowa Dep't of Job Serv., 351 N.W.2d 806 (Iowa Ct. App. 1984). Poor work performance is not misconduct in the absence of evidence of intent. Miller v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 423 N.W.2d 211 (Iowa Ct. App. 1988).

Under the definition of misconduct for purposes of unemployment benefit disqualification, the conduct in question must be "work-connected." Diggs v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 478 N.W.2d 432 (Iowa Ct. App. 1991). The court has concluded that some off-duty conduct can have the requisite element of work connection. Kleidosty v. Emp't Appeal Bd., 482 N.W.2d 416, 418 (Iowa 1992). In Kleidosty v. EAB, 482 N.W.2d 416, 418 (Iowa 1992), the employer had a specific rule prohibiting immoral and illegal conduct. The worker was convicted of selling cocaine off the employer's premises. The Court found misconduct in connection with the employment. The administrative law judge acknowledges the claimant's conviction in this case resulted from mere possession rather than sale or transfer. This is not material because the employer's policy strictly prohibits both. The employer's policy here also clearly forbids the use of illegal drugs, whether illegal by state and/or federal law, either at work or otherwise.

The claimant's possession of marijuana violated the employer's reasonable and uniformly enforced drug and alcohol policy and it is disqualifying under Iowa Code section 96.5(2)(d)(2). Benefits are denied.

DECISION:

The September 6, 2023, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision is REVERSED. The claimant was discharged from employment for disqualifying misconduct. Benefits are withheld until such time as she has worked in and been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times her weekly benefit amount, provided she is otherwise eligible. The overpayment issue need not be analyzed because the claimant has not received benefits after the separation.
