APPEAL 22A-UI-17779-ED-T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

OC: 08/28/22
Claimant: Appellant (1)

Iowa Code § 96.5(1) – Voluntary Quitting
Iowa Code § 96.5(2)a – Discharge for Misconduct

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The claimant filed an appeal from the September 22, 2022, (reference 01) unemployment insurance decision that denied benefits based upon his voluntary quit after failing to report to work for three consecutive days without notifying the employer. The parties were properly notified of the hearing. A telephone hearing was held on November 1, 2022. The claimant, Andrew Ivis, participated and testified. The employer, Amerigold Logistics LLC, did not participate.

ISSUE:

Did claimant voluntarily leave the employment with good cause attributable to the employer or did employer discharge the claimant for reasons related to job misconduct sufficient to warrant a denial of benefits?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Claimant was employed full time as an industrial maintenance technician. The last day claimant physically worked for the company was August 13, 2022. The claimant left work during his shift on August 13, 2022 because the claimant received threats from co-employees. Two employees had been hired from a half-way house in Fort Dodge. The claimant had submitted information to the authorities years ago that contributed to the two employees going to prison for 210 months each. When the claimant was hired, the company was not hiring from half-way houses. The company began hiring from the half-way house in the beginning of 2020. The claimant received daily threats at work beginning the end of July and early August 2022 until August 13, 2022 when he left work. The specific threats were that the employees were going to kill him and didn't they want him to work there anymore. There were also threats made toward the claimant's family. The claimant spoke with his supervisors about the threats and they discussed plans to move him to a new work location, but the claimant wasn't financially able to move.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes claimant's separation from the employment was without good cause attributable to the employer.

Iowa Code §96.5(1) provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-24.25(4) provides:

Voluntary quit without good cause. In general, a voluntary quit means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer from whom the employee has separated. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to Iowa Code § 96.5. However, the claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving Iowa Code § 96.5, subsection (1), paragraphs "a" through "i," and subsection 10. The following reasons for a voluntary quit shall be presumed to be without good cause attributable to the employer:

(4) The claimant was absent for three days without giving notice to employer in violation of company rule.

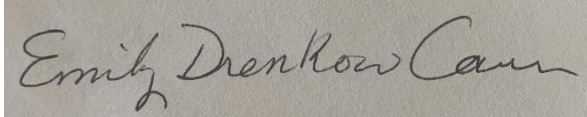

The decision in this case rests, at least in part, on the credibility of the witnesses. It is the duty of the administrative law judge as the trier of fact in this case, to determine the credibility of witnesses, weigh the evidence and decide the facts in issue. Arndt v. City of LeClaire, 728 N.W.2d 389, 394-395 (Iowa 2007). The administrative law judge may believe all, part or none of any witness's testimony. State v. Holtz, 548 N.W.2d 162, 163 (Iowa App. 1996). In assessing the credibility of witnesses, the administrative law judge should consider the evidence using his or her own observations, common sense and experience. Id. In determining the facts, and deciding what testimony to believe, the fact finder may consider the following factors: whether the testimony is reasonable and consistent with other believable evidence; whether a witness has made inconsistent statements; the witness's appearance, conduct, age, intelligence, memory and knowledge of the facts; and the witness's interest in the trial, their motive, candor, bias and prejudice. Id.

After assessing the credibility of the witnesses who testified during the hearing, reviewing the exhibits submitted by the parties, considering the applicable factors listed above, and using her own common sense and experience, the administrative law judge finds the claimant simply left work without notifying the employer on August 13, 2022 and didn't return for any further scheduled shifts.

An employer is entitled to expect its employees to report to work as scheduled or to be notified when and why the employee is unable to report to work. Inasmuch as the claimant failed to report for work or notify the employer for four consecutive workdays, the claimant is considered to have voluntarily left employment without good cause attributable to the employer. Benefits are denied.

DECISION:

The September 22, 2022, (reference 02) unemployment insurance decision is affirmed. Claimant was discharged from employment for job-related misconduct. Unemployment insurance benefits shall be withheld in regards to this employer until such time as claimant is deemed eligible.
