(Decision Dated & Mailed)

Section 96.5-1 - Voluntary Quit

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The employer appealed an unemployment insurance decision dated July 20, 2006, reference 02, that concluded the claimant's discharge was not for work-connected misconduct. A telephone hearing was held on August 15, 2006. The parties were properly notified about the hearing. The claimant failed to participate in the hearing. Kevin Champ participated in the hearing on behalf of the employer with a witness, Jeremy Auten.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The claimant worked full-time for the employer as a tire mechanic from October 1, 2005 to January 26, 2006. On January 26, the claimant was scheduled to work from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. At approximately 10:30 a.m. on January 26, the owner of the automotive shop, Kevin Champ, counseled the claimant about failing to tighten the lug nuts on a car after changing a tire. Champ told the claimant that if he could not perform his duties better than that, he might want to think about finding a different line of work. Champ did not discharge the claimant or inform the claimant that his employment was terminated. Continuing work was available for the claimant. The claimant became upset by the reprimand and left work immediately. The claimant left work after being reprimanded by his employer.

The claimant filed a new claim for unemployment insurance benefits with an effective date of June 11, 2006. The claimant filed for and received a total of $2,916.00 in unemployment insurance benefits for the weeks between June 11 and August 12, 2006.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The issue in this case is whether the claimant voluntarily quit employment without good cause attributable to the employer.

Iowa Code section 96.5-1 provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

871 IAC 24.25(28) provides:

Voluntary quit without good cause. In general, a voluntary quit means discontinuing the employment because the employee no longer desires to remain in the relationship of an employee with the employer from whom the employee has separated. The employer has the burden of proving that the claimant is disqualified for benefits pursuant to Iowa Code section 96.5. However, the claimant has the initial burden to produce evidence that the claimant is not disqualified for benefits in cases involving Iowa Code section 96.5, subsection (1), paragraphs "a" through "i," and subsection 10. The following reasons for a voluntary quit shall be presumed to be without good cause attributable to the employer:

(28) The claimant left after being reprimanded.

The evidence establishes that the claimant voluntarily left employment and was not discharge by the employer. He quit after being reprimanded and the evidence fails to establish any good cause attributable to the employer for leaving his employment.

The next issue in this case is whether the claimant was overpaid unemployment insurance benefits.

Iowa Code section 96.3-7 provides:

7. Recovery of overpayment of benefits. If an individual receives benefits for which the individual is subsequently determined to be ineligible, even though the individual acts in good faith and is not otherwise at fault, the benefits shall be recovered. The department in its discretion may recover the overpayment of benefits either by having a sum equal to the overpayment deducted from any future benefits payable to the individual or by having the individual pay to the department a sum equal to the overpayment.

As a result of this decision, the claimant is disqualified from receiving unemployment insurance benefits and was overpaid $2,916.00 in benefits for the weeks between June 11 and August 12, 2006.

DECISION:

The unemployment insurance decision dated July 20, 2006, reference 02, is reversed. The claimant is disqualified from receiving unemployment insurance benefits until he has been paid wages for insured work equal to ten times his weekly benefit amount, provided he is otherwise eligible. The claimant was overpaid $2,916.00 in unemployment insurance benefits, which must be repaid.
