Section 96.5-7 – Vacation Pay Deduction

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The claimant filed an appeal from a decision of a representative dated May 22, 2007, reference 01, which found her not eligible to receive unemployment insurance benefits for three weeks ending May 19, 2007 based upon the claimant's receipt or eligibility for vacation pay. After due notice, a telephone conference hearing was scheduled for and held on June 7, 2007. The claimant participated. The employer participated by Eileen Stratton, senior vice president.

ISSUE:

The issue in this matter is whether remuneration received by the claimant was vacation pay and whether the vacation pay was deducted for the right period.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

The administrative law judge having heard the testimony and considered all of the evidence in the record, finds that: The claimant worked for this employer until January 31, 2007. Ms. Carpenter was paid three months severance pay for the period of February 1, 2007 through April 30, 2007. The claimant was paid accrued vacation after her separation from employment. The amount was paid to the claimant on February 9, 2007 in the amount of $863.20 included in another remuneration issued to the claimant by Great Western Bank at that time. The claimant was paid 104 hours of vacation pay at the rate of $8.30 per hour. The employer did not designate to the claimant the period of time to which the vacation pay was to be applied.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons stated herein the administrative law judge concludes that the vacation pay was deducted for the correct period.

Iowa Code section 96.5-7 provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits: ...

7. Vacation pay.

a. When an employer makes a payment or becomes obligated to make a payment to an individual for vacation pay, or for vacation pay allowance, or as pay in lieu of vacation, such payment or amount shall be deemed "wages" as defined in section 96.19, subsection 41, and shall be applied as provided in paragraph "c" hereof.

b. When, in connection with a separation or layoff of an individual, the individual's employer makes a payment or payments to the individual, or becomes obligated to make a payment to the individual as, or in the nature of, vacation pay, or vacation pay allowance, or as pay in lieu of vacation, and within ten calendar days after notification of the filing of the individual's claim, designates by notice in writing to the department the period to which the payment shall be allocated; provided, that if such designated period is extended by the employer, the individual may again similarly designate an extended period, by giving notice in writing to the department not later than the beginning of the extension of the period, with the same effect as if the period of extension were included in the original designation. The amount of a payment or obligation to make payment, is deemed "wages" as defined in section 96.19, subsection 41, and shall be applied as provided in paragraph "c" of this subsection 7.

c. Of the wages described in paragraph "a" (whether or not the employer has designated the period therein described), or of the wages described in paragraph "b", if the period therein described has been designated by the employer as therein provided, a sum equal to the wages of such individual for a normal workday shall be attributed to, or deemed to be payable to the individual with respect to, the first and each subsequent workday in such period until such amount so paid or owing is exhausted. Any individual receiving or entitled to receive wages as provided herein shall be ineligible for benefits for any week in which the sums, so designated or attributed to such normal workdays, equal or exceed the individual's weekly benefit amount. If the amount so designated or attributed as wages is less than the weekly benefit amount of such individual, the individual's benefits shall be reduced by such amount.

d. Notwithstanding contrary provisions in paragraphs "a", "b", and "c", if an individual is separated from employment and is scheduled to receive vacation payments during the period of unemployment attributable to the employer and if the employer does not designate the vacation period pursuant to paragraph "b", then payments made by the employer to the individual or an obligation to make a payment by the employer to the individual for vacation pay, vacation pay allowance or pay in lieu of vacation shall not be deemed wages as defined in section 96.19, subsection 41, for any period in excess of one week and such payments or the value of such obligations shall not be deducted for any period in excess of one week from the unemployment benefits the individual is otherwise entitled to receive under this chapter. However, if the employer designates more than one week as the vacation period pursuant to paragraph "b", the vacation pay, vacation pay allowance, or pay in lieu of vacation shall be considered wages and shall be deducted from benefits.

e. If an employer pays or is obligated to pay a bonus to an individual at the same time the employer pays or is obligated to pay vacation pay, a vacation pay allowance, or pay in lieu of vacation, the bonus shall not be deemed wages for purposes of determining benefit eligibility and amount, and the bonus shall not be deducted from unemployment benefits the individual is otherwise entitled to receive under this chapter.

871 IAC 24.16(3) provides:

(3) If the employer fails to properly notify the department within ten days after the notification of the filing of the claim that an amount of vacation pay, either paid or owed, is to be applied to a specific vacation period, the entire amount of the vacation pay shall be applied to the one-week period starting on the first workday following the last day worked as defined in subrule 24.16(4). However, if the individual does not claim benefits after layoff for the normal employer workweek immediately following the last day worked, then the entire amount of the vacation pay shall not be deducted from any week of benefits.

The administrative law judge concludes based upon the evidence in the record that the claimant received vacation pay for 104 hours of vacation that was paid to the claimant after her separation from employment on February 9, 2007 included with other remuneration. Iowa Workforce Development correctly pro-rated that remuneration based upon the claimant's hourly rate of pay with Great Western Bank and correctly determined that the claimant is not eligible to receive unemployment insurance benefits as the vacation pay is considered to be wages equal to or exceeding her weekly benefit amount for the three weeks ending on May 19, 2007.

DECISION:

The representative's decision dated May 22, 2007, reference 01, holding the claimant not eligible to receive unemployment insurance benefits for three weeks ending May 19, 2007 upon the claimant's receipt of disqualifying vacation pay is hereby affirmed.
