(Decision Dated & Mailed)

Section 96.5-3-a – Refusal of Work

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

The claimant, Shane Webb, filed an appeal from a decision dated April 25, 2005, reference 04. The decision disqualified him from receiving unemployment benefits. After due notice was issued a hearing was held by telephone conference call on May 18, 2005. The claimant participated on his own behalf. The employer, Temp Associates, participated by Account Manager Angie Brauns.

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having heard the testimony of the witnesses and having examined all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: Shane Webb had been employed by Temp

Associates on temporary jobs since the summer of 2004. He filed a claim for unemployment benefits effective February 6, 2005, and his average weekly wage during his base period was $329.38, or $8.23 per hour.

On April 1, 2005, the employer sent the claimant a certified letter indicating it had not been able to contact the claimant several times. The letter informed him of a job offer at All Steel on the first shift at $9.25 per hour. The letter further notified him to contact Temp Associates by 5:00 p.m. on April 6, 2005, or it would be considered a job refusal and his unemployment would be protested.

The claimant received the letter on April 2, 2005, and read it. He elected not to respond to the letter because he was seeking a job which was not through a temporary agency.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The issue is whether the claimant is disqualified. The judge concludes he is.

Iowa Code Section 96.5-3-a provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

3. Failure to accept work. If the department finds that an individual has failed, without good cause, either to apply for available, suitable work when directed by the department or to accept suitable work when offered that individual. The department shall, if possible, furnish the individual with the names of employers which are seeking employees. The individual shall apply to and obtain the signatures of the employers designated by the department on forms provided by the department. However, the employers may refuse to sign the forms. The individual's failure to obtain the signatures of designated employers, which have not refused to sign the forms, shall disqualify the individual for benefits until requalified. To requalify for benefits after disqualification under this subsection, the individual shall work in and be paid wages for insured work equal to ten times the individual's weekly benefit amount, provided the individual is otherwise eligible.

a. In determining whether or not any work is suitable for an individual, the department shall consider the degree of risk involved to the individual's health, safety, and morals, the individual's physical fitness, prior training, length of unemployment, and prospects for securing local work in the individual's customary occupation, the distance of the available work from the individual's residence, and any other factor which the department finds bears a reasonable relation to the purposes of this paragraph. Work is suitable if the work meets all the other criteria of this paragraph and if the gross weekly wages for the work equal or exceed the following percentages of the individual's average weekly wage for insured work paid to the individual during that quarter of the individual's base period in which the individual's wages were highest:

(1) One hundred percent, if the work is offered during the first five weeks of unemployment.

(2) Seventy-five percent, if the work is offered during the sixth through the twelfth week of unemployment.

(3) Seventy percent, if the work is offered during the thirteenth through the eighteenth week of unemployment.

(4) Sixty-five percent, if the work is offered after the eighteenth week of unemployment.

However, the provisions of this paragraph shall not require an individual to accept employment below the federal minimum wage.

The claimant was notified by certified letter of a specific job and a rate of pay which was greater than his average weekly wage during his base period. He received the letter and declined to accept the job because it was temporary. Just because a job is temporary does not automatically make it unsuitable. Norland v. Iowa Department of Job Service, 412 N.W.2d 904 (Iowa 1987). The claimant's refusal was not for good cause and he is disqualified.

DECISION:

The representative's decision of April 25, 2005, reference 04, is affirmed. Shane Webb is disqualified and benefits are withheld until he has earned ten times his weekly benefit amount provided he is otherwise eligible.
