

the day of layoff and the following Monday. Claimant did not ask for further assignment but did report to the employer's office within three days. Employer's policy calls for a report but does not specifically show that claimant must ask for further work. Employer told Claimant that he would be given further assignment.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

The issue in this matter is whether claimant quit for good cause attributable to employer. The administrative law judge holds that the evidence has established that claimant voluntarily quit for good cause attributable to employer when employer terminated the employment relationship because of a client's request. Claimant did contact the office within three days of the end of the assignment. Claimant was told that he would be eligible for another assignment. This is a separation for cause attributable to employer. Claimant did comply with policy by checking in within three days. Benefits are allowed

Iowa Code Section 96.5-1 provides:

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If the individual has left work voluntarily without good cause attributable to the individual's employer, if so found by the department.

DECISION:

The decision of the representative dated September 6, 2005, reference 03, is affirmed. Unemployment insurance benefits are allowed provided claimant is otherwise eligible.
