Iowa Code § 96.6(2) – Timeliness of Protest
Iowa Code § 96.7(2)a(6) – Appeal from the Statement of Charges

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On February 10, 2023, Quality Manufacturing Corp. (employer) filed an appeal from the statement of charges dated February 9, 2023, reference 05, for the fourth quarter of 2022. A hearing was held on March 13, 2023, pursuant to due notice. Nahum S. Alvarez (claimant) did not participate. The employer did not participate. The administrative law judge had sufficient information in the administrative record to render a decision. Administrative notice was taken of claimant's unemployment insurance benefits records including DBRO, NMRO, SIDES, and the March 13, 2023, reference 04 decision.

ISSUES:

- I. Was the employer's protest timely?
- II. Was the employer's appeal from the statement of charges timely?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: The claimant separated from employment and filed a claim for benefits effective January 16, 2022. The notice of claim was sent through the SIDES system to the employer's email address of record on January 22, 2022. The notice informed employer they had to respond by February 3, 2022. The employer protested the claim on January 25, 2022. The first notice the employer received they were being charged for the benefits was the receipt of the statement of charges mailed February 9, 2023 for the fourth quarter of 2022. The employer filed its appeal of that statement of charges on February 10, 2023. A decision was issued on March 13, 2023 (reference 04) that found the employer shall not be charged benefits due to the claimant earning ten times their weekly unemployment benefits in insured work after the disqualifying separation from the employer.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the employer did file a timely appeal to the statement of charges.

Iowa Code section 96.6(2) provides, in pertinent part:

Filing – determination – appeal.

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant.

Iowa Code section 96.7(2)a(6) provides:

Employer contribution and reimbursements.

2. Contribution rates based on benefit experience.

a. (6) Within forty days after the close of each calendar quarter, the department shall notify each employer of the amount of benefits charged to the employer's account during that quarter. The notification shall show the name of each individual to whom benefits were paid, the individual's social security number, and the amount of benefits paid to the individual. An employer which has not been notified as provided in section 96.6, subsection 2, of the allowance of benefits to an individual, may within thirty days after the date of mailing of the notification appeal to the department for a hearing to determine the eligibility of the individual to receive benefits. The appeal shall be referred to an administrative law judge for hearing and the employer and the individual shall receive notice of the time and place of the hearing.

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871-26.4 provides, in relevant part:

2. An appeal from an initial decision concerning the allowance or denial of benefits shall be filed, by mail, facsimile, or e-mail, online, or in person, not later than ten calendar days, as determined by the postmark or the date stamp after the decision was mailed to the party at its last-known address and shall state the following:

- a. The name, address and social security number of the claimant;
- b. A reference to the decision from which appeal is taken; and,
- c. The grounds upon which the appeal is based.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of subrule 26.4(2), a contributory employer, which has not previously received a notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits, may appeal an individual's eligibility to receive benefits within 30 days from the mailing date of the quarterly statement of benefit charges.

4. Also notwithstanding the provisions of subrule 26.4(2), a reimbursable employer, which has not previously received a notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits, may appeal an individual's eligibility to receive benefits within 15 days of the mailing date of the quarterly billing of benefit charges.

The employer filed its appeal of the statement of charges within the time period prescribed by the Iowa Employment Security Law because it was the first notice the employer was being charged for the claimant's benefits. The employer's appeal of that statement within thirty days is timely.

Subsequently Iowa Workforce Development issued a decision on March 13, 2023, (reference 04) that found the employer shall not be charged for the claimant's benefits. As a result, the employer has erroneously been charged for claimant's benefits.

DECISION:

The February 9, 2023, reference 05, statement of charges for the fourth quarter of 2022 is modified in favor of the appellant. The employer has filed a timely appeal from that statement of charges. Iowa Workforce Development has issued a decision that found employer shall not be charged for the claimant's benefits because claimant has earned ten times their weekly benefit amount since the disqualifying separation. The $1,752.00 in charges is reversed and shall be credited to the employer's account.
