APPEAL 23A-UI-10605-AR-T

ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE
DECISION

KIRBY'S MOVING COMPANY LLC
Employer

OC: 05/14/23
Claimant: Respondent (1)

Iowa Code § 96.6(2) – Timeliness of Protest
Iowa Code § 96.7(2)a(6) – Appeal from the Statement of Charges

STATEMENT OF THE CASE:

On November 13, 2023, Kirby's Moving Company LLC (employer) filed an appeal from the statement of charges dated August 9, 2023, (reference 02), for the second quarter of 2023. A hearing was held on November 30, 2023, pursuant to due notice. Anfernee Walker (claimant) participated. The employer participated through President and Owner Tay Nguyen. The Department's Exhibits D-1 through D-3 were received. The administrative law judge took official notice of the administrative record.

ISSUES:

Was the employer's protest timely?
Was the employer's appeal from the statement of charges timely?

FINDINGS OF FACT:

Having reviewed all of the evidence in the record, the administrative law judge finds: The notice of claim was mailed to the employer's address of record on May 30, 2023. The notice of claim was mailed to the employer's residence, where he was not staying. The business address had changed in March 2023, and the employer had not updated Iowa Workforce Development (IWD) with the new address. The employer did not receive the notice of claim. The employer received a statement of charges dated August 9, 2023, for the second quarter of 2023. The statement included a charge for benefits paid to the claimant beginning May 14, 2023. The statement of charges also went to the employer's residence, rather than the business address, because the address had not been updated with IWD. The person staying at the residence address forwarded the statement of charges to the business address around the time that the employer filed the appeal to the statement of charges. It was at that time that the employer began the process of correcting the business address with IWD. The employer filed its appeal of that statement of charges on November 13, 2023.

The administrative record indicates that claimant has earned at least 10 times his weekly benefit amount prior to filing the claim for benefits in the second quarter of 2023.

REASONING AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

For the reasons that follow, the administrative law judge concludes the employer did not timely file its appeal to the statement of charges.

Iowa Code section 96.6(2) provides, in pertinent part:

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the director shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of its filing, and the parties have ten days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of the claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to the claimant.

Iowa Code section 96.7(2)a(6) provides:

2. Contribution rates based on benefit experience.

a. (6) Within forty days after the close of each calendar quarter, the department shall notify each employer of the amount of benefits charged to the employer's account during that quarter. The notification shall show the name of each individual to whom benefits were paid, the individual's social security number, and the amount of benefits paid to the individual. An employer which has not been notified as provided in section 96.6, subsection 2, of the allowance of benefits to an individual, may within thirty days after the date of mailing of the notification appeal to the department for a hearing to determine the eligibility of the individual to receive benefits. The appeal shall be referred to an administrative law judge for hearing and the employer and the individual shall receive notice of the time and place of the hearing. [Emphasis added.]

Iowa Admin. Code r. 871—26.4 provides, in relevant part:

2. An appeal from an initial decision concerning the allowance or denial of benefits shall be filed, by mail, facsimile, or e-mail, online, or in person, not later than ten calendar days, as determined by the postmark or the date stamp after the decision was mailed to the party at its last-known address and shall state the following:

- a. The name, address and social security number of the claimant;
- b. A reference to the decision from which appeal is taken; and,
- c. The grounds upon which the appeal is based.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of subrule 26.4(2), a contributory employer, which has not previously received a notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits, may appeal an individual's eligibility to receive benefits within 30 days from the mailing date of the quarterly statement of benefit charges.

4. Also notwithstanding the provisions of subrule 26.4(2), a reimbursable employer, which has not previously received a notice of the filing of a valid claim for benefits, may appeal an individual's eligibility to receive benefits within 15 days of the mailing date of the quarterly billing of benefit charges.

The employer is obligated to update its address with IWD. The employer failed to update the address for approximately nine months. Because of the address issue, the employer did not receive the notice of claim or the statement of charges in a timely manner. However, the failure to update the address is not the result of error or misinformation on the part of IWD or the United States Postal Service. The employer did not file its appeal within 30 days of the first notification it had the claimant was receiving benefits. The appeal of the statement of charges was not timely.

DECISION:

The August 9, 2023, (reference 02), statement of charges for the second quarter of 2023 is AFFIRMED. The employer did not timely file an appeal from the statement of charges.
